executive director

May 1, 1981

TO THE MEMBERSHIP:

This will be the last issue of The DELTASIG Magazine which I will have the privilege of editing. As many of you know, I have notified the Board of Directors that I am resigning as Executive Director of the fraternity effective June 1, 1981, to pursue other interests.

As editor of the magazine for the past seven years, I have had an editorial policy of recording newsworthy fraternity happenings to keep the readers informed while preserving the historical record of Delta Sigma Pi. I have also tried to present this news in an attractive, colorful, and tasteful manner which would make our activities interesting to fraternity members and to those beyond the fraternity who might see the publication.

Since joining the staff nearly sixteen years ago and having served at The Central Office in several capacities, I have been privileged to see the fraternity grow in members; in chapters; in new programs, activities, and services; and in quality. To have been a part of the complex, fast-paced, day-to-day management of Delta Sigma Pi has meant a great deal to me and involves many good memories which I will always appreciate.

I have been privileged to meet many hundreds of Deltasigs across the nation and I will always cherish these most special friendships. It is my hope that the fraternity, and the individual members, will always enjoy success.

Fraternally yours,

Ben H. Wolfenberger

commentary....

As we begin to bring this biennium to a close, and to prepare for our 33rd Grand Chapter Congress on Mackinac Island, let's take a few minutes to review what the fraternity has accomplished since our last Grand Chapter Congress in August of 1979.

In the area of chapter operations, 47 chapters attained 100,000 point status in the 1979-80 Chapter Efficiency Index, the second highest in the history of the fraternity. The CEI has recently been substantially revised, and new manuals will be distributed at Mackinac. The recruiting slide presentation was revised by our national Membership Committee and sets were distributed last winter—free of charge—to each of our undergraduate chapters. Three new awards were approved in February by the National Executive Committee and will be operational this year: Outstanding Chapter, Most Improved Chapter, and Community Service.

From a financial viewpoint, the past two years have also been successful. During the fiscal year ended in June 30, 1979, the fraternity realized a $71,000 net profit. This spring the mortgage on The Central Office was finally paid off! During 1979-80 over 1,000 Brothers became Life Members, a 34 per cent increase over the previous year; 1980-81 promises to be just as good. The increased sale of Life Memberships has increased the principal in the National Endowment Fund by about $120,000. This year the National Executive Committee approved a major fund raising effort which, hopefully, will result in much-needed capital improvements to The Central Office and grounds.

The growth of Delta Sigma Pi during the biennium has been extraordinary. At this writing nine new chapters have been installed, literally from coast to coast, and two others were reactivated. Installations for three more new chapters and one additional reactivation have been tentatively scheduled through the spring. We should install the fraternity's 200th chapter within months. Our 100,000th member was initiated in December of 1979, and total membership now stands in excess of 105,000! In August, at the Grand Chapter Congress, the number of active regions will expand from twelve to fifteen.

Central Office operations have kept pace with the fraternity's growth. The Archives Room has been completed and proposals have been adopted by the National Executive Committee to computerize operations, beginning with the CEI. Budget appropriations have been made for a third permanent executive staff member and a total of three chapter consultants. Chapter consultants no longer have living quarters at The Central Office, and their former apartment space will provide room for additional personnel and equipment in the future. Ten new sets of regalia have been purchased and will be operational in the fall. Purchase of an additional 21 sets has been approved, and it is our intention to phase out all sets currently in use within the next two years.

So that all members of Delta Sigma Pi can be more aware of the workings of their fraternity, National Executive Committee meetings are now open to all members and minutes of those meetings may be obtained at cost.

At Delta Sigma Pi, We're The Professionals—in all phases of operation! See you on Mackinac Island.

Faternally,

Michael R. Mallonee

Past Grand President Kenneth B. White received the Deltasig of the Year Award for 1980 in ceremonies in San Antonio, Texas, on Saturday, February 21, 1981. All in attendance at the ceremonies agreed that the award should be shared equally by his wife Claire since she has been at his side for all of his 55 years of membership in the fraternity.

The ceremonial banquet took place in the beautiful Hilton Palacio del Rio Hotel on the banks of the San Antonio River and adjacent to the River Walk of that lovely old city. In attendance were all the members of the National Executive Committee and included Grand President Mike Mallonee, Executive Director Ben Wolfenberger, Assistant Executive Director Mike Tillar, Past Grand President Bill Tatum, Director of Alumni Activities Mickey Johnson, Undergraduates of the Year Theresa Jeszka and Marilyn Doskey, Eastern Regional Director Dick Parnitzke, Southeastern Regional Director Mike Mazur, Southern Regional Director Frank Busch, and Western Regional Director Skip Loomis.

Since the winter meeting of the National Executive Committee had just been concluded in San Antonio, Chapter Consultant Mark Roberts was in attendance as was Southwestern Regional Director Vic Tabor. Also attending were alumni of Beta Kappa Chapter at Texas including charter member Bill Dozier, with W. D. Craig and "Sparky" Sparks. Members of Eta Theta Chapter at Angelo State and Iota Psi Chapter at Corpus Christi State and the Houston Alumni Club also participated.

At the banquet Executive Director Wolfenberger served as Toastmaster while Regional Director Vic Tabor gave the Invocation. Following the presentation of the award by Grand President Mallonee, Brother White gave his remarks which are reprinted in the following feature article, Fifty-Five Years of Fraternal Friendships.

The Deltasig of the Year Award is the highest honor the Fraternity can bestow on one of its own members. Selection of the recipient of the award each year is made from among the nominees submitted by the undergraduate chapters across the nation. The recipient is recognized for an outstanding contribution to his chosen profession in the field of business, education or government; his continued fraternal dedication and involvement; and his service to his community.

Details of the fraternal, professional, and personal life of Ken White need not be recounted here as his remarks at the recognition ceremonies create a charming autobiography. The remarks also serve as part of the fraternity's history from 1926 to 1981, so we hope you will enjoy this fascinating reading. □

Fifty Five Years Of Fraternal Friendships

I am humbly grateful for the great honor you are bestowing on me tonight. Obviously the honor did not arise solely in the year 1980, but instead is attributable over the years to those Deltasigs who have played important roles in my 55-year Deltasig life and to whom I extend my thanks for making the International Fraternity of Delta Sigma Pi the greatest, especially "greatest" to me.

Limited time at this San Antonio event and limited space in The DELTASIG will not permit me to name every Deltasig and all the many Deltasig events involved in my Deltasig life. Regretfully, I had to make certain choices. Be assured that the names and events omitted are definitely the result of such limited time and space. All continue to be most important to me and to Claire, who has always been as deeply involved as I have in Deltasig affairs. Such names and events have not been and will never be forgotten.

It seems I have always been an organization person (note the current avoidance of the term "man"). From my early days I was a joiner, the beginnings of longtime and lifetime friendships. I had, and still have, the continuing urge and desire to gather groups together for various programs and reasons for the purpose of definite goals in addition to initiating such friendships.

I am not able to put my finger on the name of the first childhood group which I joined or gathered together. I do have tangible evidence, in the form of a printed membership card, signed by me as President, of China, Maine, Boys Club. It was a loosely organized group of eight-to-ten year olds, which met in a large building right near the town's square to discuss, plan, and build automobiles from salvaged materials, such as boxes, lumber, wheels, etc. China is a small farming community in Maine surrounding a 15-mile lake where during my boyhood we had a summer cottage.

Later in 1919, while attending the Downtown Evening Division of the School of Commerce of College of City of New York, and my first post-high school career job with the Export Department of American Tobacco Company, my parents moved to China to operate a 202-acre farm, small compared to Texas ranches, but big compared to 40-acre Maine farms.

My sister, a Registered Nurse, and a Doctor were the Medical Department of American Tobacco. She got the job for me, starting at $8.00 per week and working up to $23.08 two years later, during which time few employees knew we were brother and sister. I was determined to get ahead on my own. My part of the tobacco export business was fascinating with the opportunity of "organizing" the statistical records involved—including clearing tobacco bonds on such brands as Happy Hit (for the domestic Lucky Strike) and One-Eleven, the Company's building number on Fifth Avenue.

Such work enabled me to make daily trips to the U.S. Customs House at Battery Park, lower Broadway-Wall Street brokerage offices, and shipping docks and terminals on the New York and New Jersey sides of the Hudson River. My most eventful trip was while walking toward the U.S. Treasury Building at the time of the famous, still unsolved, Wall Street explosion causing 31 deaths and leaving to this day chips out of the stone front of the J. P. Morgan Building across the street. More deaths, injuries, and damages would have resulted had it happened 15 minutes later during the noon hour. I remember the excitement and concern I caused my office co-workers when I lingered at the scene—a 10-foot-deep hole in the Wall Street pavement over an area of several yards, littered with glass from surrounding windows—and I neglected to telephone my office before finally returning.

As I look back on my job with American Tobacco, my continuing regret is that I had no money to purchase its stock, the then much touted "buy" (now American Brands, Inc., which I have never owned, but do monitor and chart daily).

Farming lost its appeal for my father, a lifetime insurance agent with John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company. He and his two brothers then had a combined Hancock service record of over 100 years. Upon my father's wish to return to the Hancock, I agreed to leave CCNY to go to China, arriving in January with 40 degree below weather, to begin farming chores then unknown to me. After a year and a half, farming lost its appeal to me, also.

It was then I enrolled in the Evening Division at Boston University's College of Business Administration. My uncle, whose lake cottage had adjoined ours in China, gave me a job as bookkeeper with Small, Maynard & Company, publishers of The Sheik, the then famous novel, at its general offices near the Massachusetts State House on Boston's Beacon Hill. I roomed in a house at 30 Beals Street in Brookline—never learning until President John F. Kennedy was elected that he was born on that same street in the same block.

Because of my unproductive farming leave of absence, I was determined to catch up by taking on a college load of five full nights a week, leaving little time for organization involvement. Then boom! In late October, 1923, two months into my second year at BU I was released from the hospital after the removal of my left kidney. This second interruption of my college education occurred when, upon doctor's orders, I had to leave Boston for a warmer climate to recuperate from the operation. Two sons of one of my father's agents at the John Hancock in New York arranged for my stay at Eastlake (in a boarding house on New York Avenue!) and at Leesburg in Central Florida—noted for extensive citrus groves and watermelons. To fill in seemingly endless and useless idle time, I installed a bookkeeping system for a general store (for a small fee because of courting the storekeeper's daughter) and learned all I could about citrus growers and packing. Later this knowledge became part of the basis of my 100-page graduation thesis at BU—entitled The Citrus Industry In Florida. Because of Florida's heat in June, it was agreed that I could return North to complete my recuperation. Where did I go? You guessed it, where else but back to China, Maine.

So you see, China never lost its appeal for me. Until the recent curtailment of my travel, Claire and I made several trips back there to renew friendships. Many, including members of the China, Maine, Boys Club of 70 years ago, are still on our Christmas card mail list, growing fewer in number, of course, as the years roll by. Last Christmas we received the annual greeting from one such member who operates the Willow Springs Camp on the lake—always our "home" during our trips back to China.

It is these old friendships, such as the China, Maine, episodes—long-lasting despite the breaks during the intervening years—which provided me with the theme and sources of materials for my remarks at this Deltasig of the Year event. The names of each Deltasig on our Christmas list, as well as those Brothers I see at each Deltasig Grand Chapter Congress, or from time to time in Dallas (as either residents or visitors) bring to mind particularly special occasions or happenings. It is important that each of us give generously of ourselves to begin such friendships.

I re-enrolled in Boston University in the fall of 1924, again determined to catch up by taking a heavy load of courses, including some day classes. I was fortunate to obtain a book-keeping position with the Touraine Hotel (then Boston's finest) and a room in a Boylston Street apartment house—only a few blocks from the hotel and across the street from BU. My room became a sort of gathering place for my classmates. With meals at the hotel and the nearness of my room to BU classes, I was able to find time to join several organizations and became very active in Junior and Senior Class affairs.

While the Junior Class was quite active, the Senior Class of 1926 had an exceptionally unusual and organized series of events, all of which were formalized in a leather-bound booklet entitled MEMOIRS OF 1926, as souvenirs for the Senior Class Day banquet on June 15, 1926, in the Hotel Vendome.

Lester O. Gatchell, who had been the Junior Year Editor-in-Chief of the Syllabus (BU's yearbook), was Senior Class President and a sponsor for my introduction to the initiation by Gamma Chapter of Delta Sigma Pi. Since our first meeting at BU we had been very close friends, practically blood Brothers. During the BU days I visited his Saugus home often (treated as one of the family) and we double-dated and made several vacation and holiday trips, jointly owning two old automobiles. In the fall of 1926, Lester, his friend Gladys Spencer (a Tufts graduate) and I attended our first BU Graduate Division meeting and met Claire Ramsdell, a Salem graduate and newcomer to our BU group. Both girls lived in Lynn, but had not known each other because of attending different high schools. We little realized then they would become our brides-to-be. Lester attended the 1933 and 1957 Congresses with us; he and Gladys made three trips to Dallas, and every time we are in Boston our visiting and dining together are a must. One Boston/Dallas telephone call was outstanding news: their son Chip was initiated by Gamma Chapter.

From the MEMOIRS it appears that 1926 was a big year for me, but then, as Class Historian, I helped assemble and publish much of its contents. Given 100% support and approval of the class, the Social Committee chaired by me organized three-day weekends: winter sports in Newport, New Hampshire, (known as "Mr. White's party" because of railroad reservations mix-ups), special police arrests for gambling on the train (and disappearing pajama buttons), a beach trip to Pembroke, Massachusetts, (bananas handed out at each stop en route home), and a July 1926 post-graduate trip to New Hampshire's White Mountains. I note that those 1926 class events were attended by 1927 and 1928 class members, including Gamma Brothers-to-be John F. Frawley (my longtime buddy until his death), Arthur A. Goodwin, and Oliver W. Holden.

Also, from the MEMOIRS, I obtained the following items considered humorous then, regarding Gamma Brothers, which items were also published in the Gamma Noise (Chapter's newsletter)—Class Prophecy: "Lester Gatchell, president of the NY NH & Hartford RR. A staunch rooter for BU—has a son and daughter in every department." "Kenneth White"—car cleaner for Boston & Maine Railroad. He has invested his nickels in the Flutter-Flutter Ballroom at Revere. Ken's average income is about midnight." And bequests in the Class Will: "A storage battery and four tires for the balky Buick to Lester Gatchell (Ken White seconds the motion);" and "the love of the senior class to Eddie and May Pitts." Brother Edgar B. Pitts, an honorary member of the 1926 class and BU's Assistant Registrar, participated fully in my initiation (mentioned later in these remarks).

At the $6 nine-course 1926 class banquet, I presented the Delta Sigma Pi Scholarship Key to classmate Juan R. Acevedo. Previously on December 15, 1925, Juan (our student Spanish teacher), Gamma Brothers John J. Canavan and Stephen C. Volpone and I had been elected to Beta Gamma Sigma (honorary scholastic society) so three Gamma members missed winning the Deltasig Key in 1926. The mention of this scholastic election should permit one more brag: I received my BBA degree cum laude. Those words, engraved on my formal BU diploma, were also written by BU/CBA Dean Everett W. Lord in red ink on the facsimile miniature diploma given to each graduate.

In March, 1926, Herbert W. Fallon, then Secretary-Treasurer of the Boston Alumni Club and a District Deputy of the then Eastern Province, was delegated to invite me to become a member of Delta Sigma Pi. I was "ripe" and needed no urging; I gave my "yes" to him at the Touraine Hotel. As an employee I was able to arrange a big dinner, silver-plated dishes and all. To mark the occasion Herb presented me with a jeweled stick pin, which I still have and treasure, because he remained one of my closest Brothers until his death after I moved to Texas.

The Brothers initiated with me on March 20, 1926 were: James V. Toner, a BU accounting professor and later director of business administration courses at the University of Puerto Rico, C. Wheeler Beggs, William J. Collette, Ernest L. Collins, John H. Coyne, Enoch W. Hevy, Carl L. Hokenson, and Wilbur T. Moulton. Prior to the formal initiation I guess I got off lightly with the chore of bringing back the epitaphs from three specific tombstones in the darkest corner of the Boston Common cemetery, requiring almost a full box of matches to read each word, and then to find that all the Brothers had gone when I returned to quarters.

My Gamma Chapter shingle was signed by Grand President Clarence W. Fackler, Iowa, so elected in 1924; Grand Secretary-Treasurer H. G. Wright, Northwestern-Chicago, so elected in 1924 after having served as Grand President from 1920 to 1924; Headmaster Ralph A. Palladino, Beta Gamma Sigma, Boston Alumni Club Officer, and now a retired U.S. Brigadier General; and Scribe John J. Canavan, Beta Gamma Sigma, Boston Alumni Club officer, and to my envy later a student for his MBA at the famous Harvard Graduate School. Ralph was deeply involved in many BU organizations, and we celebrated our BU 50th reunion in Boston at a '26 class cocktail party after exchanging Christmas cards for years.

In addition to Graduate Division's activities it appears that with the help of Gamma Brothers Oliver W. Holden and Wesley G. White (on our Christmas list until his death two years ago), I was involved with the organization of the Pine Tree State Club on October 6, 1926, formally on November 9, 1926, perhaps on my part, in memory of the old China Boys Club. BU/CBA Dean Everett W. Lord (my counselor upon my transfer to BU from CCNY and a National President of Alpha Kappa Psi) was voted an honorary member of this Maine Club during its social on November 22, 1926, at which event Eddie and May Pitts were chaperones.

Until I left Boston for Dallas in February, 1927, I continued to be very active in Gamma Chapter and Boston Alumni Club, along with Gamma Brothers Leo F. Caisse, Oliver Conway, Daniel J. Daly, Jr., Jean Drapeau, Thomas K. Lynch, Harvard L. Mann, Thomas B. Sheehan and other Brothers mentioned in my remarks. Brothers Daly and Lynch honored me with a cocktail party at the 1973 Portsmouth, New Hampshire, Grand Chapter Congress (the one near Boston which Les and Gladys Gatchell missed to our great disappointment), and I, in turn, made membership contributions for them to the Educational Foundation. Brothers Conway and Mann were the signers, as President and Treasurer respectively, of my House Corporation certificate, to be mentioned hereafter. Brother Sheehan, now living in Dallas, worked with me on the BU fund raising drive. Until his recent death I continued a close friendship in CPA and Deltasig affairs with Harvey Mann, member of the Deltasig National Court of Appeals, Life Member No. 33, Educational Foundation member, partner of a CPA firm which performed accounting services for one of my clients, whose firm later merged with Haskins & Sells (my former employer), and an AICPA member who spent an entire afternoon drinking stingers with me during a between-sessions time at one of the Institute's Boston conventions. We did make it back to the Statler convention headquarters.

Past Grand President Kenneth B. White is Deltasig of the Year 1980.

Deltasig of the Year 1980 Ken White and wife Claire enjoy a comment being made by Grand President Mike Mallonee (out of picture) during the presentation ceremonies.

During January, 1927, before leaving for Dallas, four special events occurred in my Deltasig and BU life: On January 7, Les, Gladys, and Claire helped me chair a novelty New Year's Graduate Division dance at the Hotel Vendome; 150 graduates attending.

On January 15, I acted as Master of Festivities (the official notice described it so) of the joint Gamma Chapter/Boston Alumni Club formal dinner dance and reception to Brother Toner, which event was attended by Alexander F. McKay, New York-Alpha No. 1, one of the Founders in 1907 of Delta Sigma Pi, a CPA, and a National Director.

On January 18, I purchased Certificate No. 13 for two shares of the newly organized Deltasig House Corporation of Massachusetts for Gamma Chapter. Brothers Conway and Mann, two of its organizers, signed this certificate as President and Treasurer respectively. The reason for this being a special event will be explained soon in these remarks.

On January 22, 32 members of the classes of 1926, 1927, and 1928, including several Gamma Brothers, honored me with a farewell party at the Concord, Massachusetts, residence of Margaret Collins and presented me with a Waltham white-gold wristwatch (which still runs). Waltham, Massachusetts, had been my home before my family moved to New York City in 1909, so the watch provided those boyhood memories as well. I have since returned several times to that home where the nearby "mile-long hill" for winter sledding was found to be only about 100 yards long. In 1976 Margaret participated in the previously mentioned 50th reunion events at BU.

Before I leave Gamma Chapter I need to acquaint you with the financial benefits of the dissolution of the Deltasig House Corporation of Massachusetts of which I was a stockholder. On September 29, 1952, in response to a second financial appeal, I purchased an additional five shares as evidenced by a certificate signed by Brother Frederick W. Atherton, as Treasurer. In September, 1973, after the Portsmouth Congress, I began writing Brother Atherton, whom I had met several times previously when in Boston and with whom I had corresponded over the years regarding the sales of Gamma House properties, to claim the assets of the House Corporation because Gamma Chapter was inactive. I also enlisted the help of Brothers Daly, Gatchell, and Lynch. Continued aggressive follow-ups were made through Tom Lynch and our efforts were rewarded in 1975 by the receipt of a total of $2,238.86. That amount was treated as a contribution to the Educational Foundation through agreement with its then President M. John Marko, Rutgers (elected Grand President in 1965), with the amounts finally clearing through Brother Atherton's estate; he had died in December, 1974.

An interesting side-note regarding my departure from Boston and my arrival in Dallas in February, 1927, was my visit to Southern Methodist University to investigate the continuance of MBA courses started at BU's Graduate School. To my pleasant surprise I met Dean Lord in the office of SMU/CBA's Dean. Ten days before in Boston, Dean Lord had furnished me with several recommendation letters to Universities in California where I thought I might like to teach. He was startled to learn that I got no further than Dallas and was engaged in accounting. Later I did take some graduate courses at SMU, but never completed those needed for an MBA degree. My almost four years of actual public accounting on-the-job training when I received my Texas CPA certificate No. 349, dated January 9, 1931, seemed to suffice. It is of interest that I sat for my one and only examination in New York, under Texas jurisdiction, after taking some CPA review courses during September and November, 1930, at the Post Graduate School of Accountancy, conducted by Paul-Joseph Esquerre, a CPA for whom I did part-time public accounting in New York, Newark, and Boston. For the Boston audit I stayed at the Hotel Touraine where I had worked during BU days!

No Deltasig chapters were located in the Southwest where I came to Dallas in 1927. At that time I must have been unaware of the real significance of The Central Office because I had met Gig Wright only once (maybe twice) in Boston. Nevertheless, I was still a strong roofer for Deltasig. Two days after my arrival in Dallas I was employed by a small Dallas accounting firm. During my three and a half years with that firm I worked mostly on out-of-town engagements for long periods. When I worked back in the Dallas office I did seek out some Dallas Deltasigs with a possible alumni club in mind, but did not find enough real enthusiasm to organize it. Two of that firm's accountants are still close friends after 54 years—one, Sam Borders, the best man at our wedding and an assistant for the Texas State Auditor at the time I was so employed in Austin, Texas, telephoned me while I have been writing these remarks.

Then the big event: Claire joined me in Dallas in July, 1928, and we were married on August 25, 1928, her birthday. Then we effectively had a new Deltasig long before we admitted women to Delta Sigma Pi. Many times the August 25 date, as well as the August 22 wedding anniversary date of Gig and Alice Wright, occurred for celebration purposes during a Grand Chapter Congress.

During 1929, the first two Deltasig chapters in the Southwest were installed: Beta Epsilon at the University of Oklahoma on December 4, and Beta Zeta at Louisiana State University on December 7 (three days apart). Karl D. Reyer, Ohio State, a Director of the then Missouri Valley Province, was the faculty advisor who helped organize the Oklahoma Chapter.

In 1930, upon the installation of Beta Iota Chapter at Baylor University on December 6 and Beta Kappa Chapter at the University of Texas-Austin a week later on December 13, they became the first two Deltasig chapters in Texas—the Lone Star State.

On December 4, 1930, shortly after my return to Dallas from New York and before I knew the results of the CPA examination, I started work with Haskins & Sells in Dallas and was assigned to the audit of Hughes Tool Company in Houston. You all know of Howard Hughes. By pre-employment arrangements I was able to drive to Waco and Austin those following two weekends to accept Gig Wright's invitation to serve on the two installation teams. My good friend, Wayne Gratigny, Nebraska, later a charter member of the first Dallas Alumni Club, came down from Dallas to serve on the Baylor installation team. We still see Wayne and his wife Helen, and just last week I had telephone visits with each of them—another Deltasig friendship of over 50 years. Their son-in-law, Brother Arthur C. White, Texas, a Dallas CPA with a good accounting practice, is a Life Member.

I met Karl Reyer for the first time as a member of the Baylor installation team. I noted he had made the initial investigation of a Deltasig chapter at Texas, but did not serve on that team. Over these 50 years we have visited the Reyers in Norman, Oklahoma, in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, and in Dallas and have communicated with them by mail and by telephone—a real concerned and mutual friendship. He has been elevated to the Order of the Golden Helmet.

It was during the Texas installation that, with a little urging from Gig Wright, I became a Life Member with Certificate No. 48, signed by E. L. Schujahn, Wisconsin, who was first elected Grand President in 1930 and re-elected in 1933. He and his wife Dorothy were our longtime friends until their deaths.

Those four chapters created the new Southwestern Province with Karl Reyer as its first Director, as well as a member of the National Board of Directors.

As many of you already know, last year the Texas chapter celebrated its 50th anniversary in big style—which produced a $10,000 gift to the Educational Foundation from Brother Sidney A. “Sparky” Sparks, Texas, and his wife “Buttercup”, and also an additional check to establish a permanent endowment to provide a grant each year to the Deltasig National Undergraduate of the Year for post-graduate study.

On May 1, 1931, on leave of absence from Haskins & Sells, I moved to Austin, Texas, to become an Assistant State Auditor for Texas. That move and my becoming Province Director provided me with the means of closer contact with the four Southwestern Province chapters, particularly those in Texas.

The big event was the Southwestern Provincial Convention on November 4 to 6, 1932. Deltasig's 25th anniversary was November 7, 1932. The convention notice stated: “YOUR opportunity to fraternize—eat, sleep, work and play together—with the Deltasigs in Texas from chapters located at 28 different universities—Boston to Southern California, Florida to South Dakota.” The official headquarters was Brooks Hall, a men's dormitory at Baylor in Waco, where Claire and I were lodged, with little sleep possible because of students yelling between the Hall's courtyard and its rooms. Among the honored guests were: Deputy Province Director Monroe S. Carroll, Baylor, later its Dean, and Professor James Clay Dolley, Texas, later President of Federal Reserve Bank in Dallas. Over the years, until their deaths, Claire and I visited them and their wives.

The Convention's Silver Anniversary Program and the Golden Anniversary Prophecy, distributed at the banquet, included the names of many other Brothers with whom I maintained contacts for several years: William Paxton Boyd, William “WD” Craig, Jr., William E. Dozier, Henry M. Guthrie, L. Ludwell Jones, Jr., R. Earle Palmer, Tom Rose, and Frederick E. Wallace from Texas; Carl B. Casey, E. Cowden Henry, Beta Iota No. 1, Robert P. Kerr, Reagan P. Mangum, Brown McElhannon, LeRoy Robb, and Cooper Wiese, all from Baylor, and Marion A. Jeffrey, Oklahoma. Brothers Charles C. Calloway, Texas, and Cooper Wiese were then Head Masters. A few years after graduation and until his retirement, W. C. Craig was head of the Texas Inheritance Tax Division of the Comptroller of Public Accounts. Brothers Boyd, Craig, Dozier and Jones attended the forementioned Texas 50th Anniversary. Charter members of the first Dallas Alumni Club included Brothers Casey and Henry, and Brothers Jones, Palmer, Wallace, Kerr, Mangum, McElhannon, Robb, and Wiese were charter members of the first Houston Alumni Club. Tom Rose was a faculty sponsor at the installation of our North Texas State Chapter. Marion Jeffrey, a riot at the convention, is still on our Christmas list and he and his wife have visited us in Dallas.

One of the prophecies (obviously taken from my old BU MEMOIRS OF 1926, which it appears I still thought was funny) said of Fred Wallace that “he is now a famous surgeon who operates for appendicitis and professional curiosity. When his patients are at death's door he pulls them through”.

Being a Scot I ran a tight budget for the convention, resulting in a profit of 85¢ which was given to Baylor Chapter's Treasurer, Robert P. Kerr.

A farewell dinner on January 24, 1933, just before the end of my leave of absence and return on February 2, 1933, to Haskins & Sells, was given by Claire and me in honor of several Texas Brothers. One Brother, in particular, was Randolph T. Mills, then Historian, later Head Master of the Texas chapter. While we were in Austin he was a guest in our home many times, along with W. D. Craig, his buddy. His excuse for leaving our house, presumably to keep a date with Lois, his wife-to-be, was always “I have lots of typing to do.” This was a personal reminder of him over the years during visits in Dallas, Houston, and Lubbock, Texas, where he died about a year ago. It seems he never failed to telephone us when passing through Dallas if he and Lois were unable to stop over to see us. This background of longtime friendship is one of the reasons I made a contribution to enroll him as an Educational Foundation member.

Claire and I attended our first Grand Chapter Congress which was held in the Hotel Knickerbocker in Chicago, September 13-16, 1933. John L. McKewen, Johns Hopkins, and I were the newcomers elected to the Grand Council. That congress made me a Yellow Dog, with my card signed by Bob Alexander, New York. It was at that congress that I first met the Brothers who would become longtime friends (most of those living are still on our Christmas list): Bruno Lawson, New York; Cliff Rasmussen, Northwestern-Chicago; Rudolph C. Schmidt, Detroit; Frank C. Brandes, Howard B. Johnson, and Howard Clyde Kitchens, Georgia State; Herbert W. Wehe, Pittsburgh; Eugene D. Milener and Howard E. Winstanley, Johns Hopkins; E. L. Schujahn, Wisconsin; Rudolph Janzen, Minnesota, and Waldo E. Hardell, Minnesota.

Cliff Rasmussen came to Dallas and was a charter member of the first Dallas Alumni Club. Brothers Schmidt, Milener, McKewen, and Johnson were elected Grand Presidents, respectively, in 1928, 1936, 1939, and 1951. Brothers Schmidt, Wehe, Brandes, and Janzen were first elected to the Grand Council, respectively, in 1922, 1928, 1936, and 1942. Clyde, Frank, and Howard were among the Founders of Kappa Chapter's famous Deltasig Lodge, where Clyde, one of its Presidents, worked many hours over several years.

While working for the Boston Alumni Club in 1926 I had the good fortune to have John L. McKewen and his wife Marie as my guests on their visit to Boston. It is impossible to affix ranking numbers on long-continuing Deltasig friendships, but the McKewens and the Wrights rank up top with us. For example, after a Grand Council meeting, while sitting around the breakfast table at the Wrights' home in LaGrange, Illinois, we talked Marie McKewen and Alice Wright into packing up and leaving within an hour for an automobile trip back to Dallas with us for a week, both to return by train to Chicago, where Marie continued on to Baltimore. Other examples: The McKewens and Whites always joined a group of Deltasigs who made post-Grand Chapter Congress trips for several years with the Bob Busses, Rutgers, the Allen Fowlers, Pennsylvania, the Rudy Janzens, the Howard Johnsons, and the Gig Wrights. Allen, elected Grand President in 1947, John and Gig are now all deceased, leaving me as the oldest living Past Grand President. Over many years all of us have visited each other's homes. Brother Laurie Busse, daughter of Robert G. Busse (elected Grand President in 1953), has either visited us or telephoned when in Dallas or passing through. She recently married a Delta Airlines executive whose mother lives in Dallas. The McKewens, Wrights, and Whites have for years exchanged birthday and wedding anniversary greetings. How do you rank such Deltasig friendship?

During 1933, after my return to Dallas and later while living in Houston during audits for Haskins & Sells, I was a charter member of two new Deltasig alumni clubs: Dallas—23 of all the Deltasigs living in Dallas, not counting the hold-out, according to two undated photographs I have of the formal organization dinner at the Dallas Country Club; no listing or write-up in THE DELTASIG although it had meetings and social events for many years. Houston—16 members living in Houston, exclusive of the same hold-out member (whose name is omitted because he died a few years ago) organized on Founders' Day, November 7, 1933, with an official petition a few weeks later, and its membership included five charter members and two former Head Masters of their respective chapters, two Life Members, and a member of the Grand Council. Its first President, Dr. Joseph G. Mayton, Louisiana State, still exchanges Christmas cards with us.

For the period from April 1 to October 29, 1934, I arranged for another leave of absence from Haskins & Sells to again serve as Assistant State Auditor for Texas under Governor "Ma" Ferguson, for a special audit of the Texas Highway Department. That engagement enabled me to have more contacts with the Southwestern chapters, and especially personal visits to Texas and Baylor chapters.

On February 15 and 16, 1935, I joined Gig Wright for a visit to Baylor Chapter for a Baylor-Arkansas basketball game, talked to pledge prospects, and a stag dinner for undergraduates and alumni; Gig being the principal speaker. Chapter Advisor Monroe Carroll, along with Brothers Rene Paul Henry (Brother of charter member Cowden Henry), Frank Johnson, and A. G. Weaver (later an IRS officer), who became my Dallas friends, helped organize the events.

In 1935, I was principal speaker at a Founders' Day celebration banquet in Waco following a Baylor-Texas football game at which Head Master "Sparky" Sparks was the able Toastmaster. Randolph Mills was then Province Director.

Claire and I attended our second Grand Chapter Congress on September 15-17, 1936, at the Atlanta Biltmore Hotel in Atlanta, Georgia. The Kappa Chapter boys, including old-timers Howard Johnson, Congress Chairman Frank Brandes, and Clyde Kitchens put on a great show. Gene Milener, attending this his fifth Grand Chapter Congress, was elected Grand President. Atlanta is where I first met Elwood Armstrong, Johns Hopkins, now deceased, and his wife Helen who is still on our Christmas list.

Our third Grand Chapter Congress was held in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on September 4-7, 1939, at the Hotel Warwick. John McKewen was elected Grand President. Many of our old friends were there, including Herbert W. Finney, Pittsburgh. I took a good picture of Gig Wright, John and Marie McKewen, Southwestern Province Officer W. D. Craig, and Claire at a Deltasig flag-raising ceremony at the New York World's Fair where many of us went after the Philadelphia Congress. We wrecked two automobiles—one at Frederick, Maryland, en route to Philadelphia, and one in a six car collision in Massachusetts going from New York to Boston. There we bought our first Oldsmobile and have owned an Olds ever since.

On April 25 and 26, 1941, the Dallas Alumni Club sponsored an Industrial Tour and Southwestern Regional Conference for Oklahoma, Baylor, and Texas chapters at the Jefferson Hotel in Dallas. The committee lists included many of our old time friends, some of whom were Province Officers W. D. Craig and Ronald B. Shuman, Oklahoma, Gus Cosgrove, Oklahoma, Dallas Alumni Club President Cowden Henry, General Chairman Cliff Rasmussen, and Alumni Club Committee Chairmen Rene Paul Henry, Art Touceda, Georgetown, Charles C. Pierce, Missouri, Wayne Gratigny, and Donald Yarborough, Texas. Gig Wright spoke at the banquet on This Business Of Getting A Job. I, as Grand Council Member, presided at the Conference's five business sessions. Ronald Shuman, until his death a couple of years ago, was a frequent visitor in our home. Gus Cosgrove still exchanges Christmas cards with us. Charlie Pierce, head of a big regional brokerage firm, and Don Yarborough, still practicing law, are both Life Members and charter members of the Dallas Alumni Club. Art Touceda, a member of the Dallas Unitarian Church, was honored by me with an Educational Foundation membership.

The 1942 and 1945 Grand Chapter Congresses in Chicago were informal affairs during World War II—postponements of the Minneapolis Congress originally planned for 1942, but rescheduled for 1947—attended principally by the Grand Councils, the Executive Committee, and members of some other national committees. On August 14, 1942, John McKewen was re-elected Grand President, and Howard B. Johnson, Georgia State, and Rudolph Janzen, Minnesota, were elected to the Grand Council. On August 25, 1945, I was elected Grand President, and J. Elwood Armstrong, Johns Hopkins, Royal D. M. Bauer, Missouri-Columbia, Allen L. Fowler and Daniel C. Kilian, New York, were elected to the Grand Council. James D. Thomson, Northwestern-Chicago, was appointed to the staff as Assistant Grand Secretary-Treasurer. Claire and I counted these Grand Chapter Congresses as our fourth and fifth.

Those of you who have been Grand President will know that I had many busy days during the next two years—principally planning for the Minneapolis Grand Chapter Congress. I can't believe I accomplished all that I wrote about in the Grand President's pages in The DELTASIGS.

The first real big event as Grand President was the installation of Beta Sigma Chapter at St. Louis University on June 1, 1946,—the former Phi Sigma Eta fraternity founded in 1924 and now with 462 members—41 active, 412 alumni, and nine honorary. The Deltasig installation team consisted of the entire Grand Council. This was my first installation since Texas in 1930, and the only one while Grand President—but a big one. I must have made some impression on the group because a few years later while in St. Louis I was entertained by Brother J. Jules Brinkman, one of the Founders.

My term as Grand President was completed at the end of the Minneapolis Congress on August 27-29, 1947, at the Radisson Hotel with 274 members in attendance. Highlighting the Grand Chapter Congress was the initiation of James Ford Bell, Chairman of the Board of General Mill, Inc., as the third Honorary Member-at-Large of Delta Sigma Pi. Other important events were the elections of Allen L. Fowler as Grand President, and Robert G. Busse and John F. Mee, Ohio State, as members of the Grand Council. I was told I performed well in presiding over the various sessions involving the Grand President and in participating in others. I know I did my best. At the Grand Chapter Congress the longtime attendants were the Wrights for the 13th time; the Wehes, 9th, the Mileners, 8th; Janzens and the Schujahns, 7th; and the McKewens and us, 6th.

The post-congress trip that year was to Breezy Point, Minnesota, of Capt. Billy Fawcett and Whiz Bang fame. We returned to Minneapolis on a late-night train. John and Marie McKewen and Claire and I shared a compartment and got some sleep despite the crowded quarters. I mentioned before that the Bob Busses, the Allen Fowlers, the Rudy Janzens, the Howard Johnsons and the Gig Wrights were among the participants on the trips, carefully planned by Gig.

Then before my term as immediate Past Grand President and ex-officio member came to an end in 1949, I was able to participate on the installation teams at three more chapters; Texas Technological College, Lubbock, Texas, on October 24, 1947; Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Texas, on March 20, 1948; and Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, Ruston, Louisiana, on May 15, 1948. Those installations produced new strong Deltasig workers and additions to my Christmas list, including Texas Tech members Joe M. Hefner, elected Grand President in 1963; Marion W. Sprague, Head Master, a CPA in Houston and New York; Trent C. Root, Acting Dean and later an SMU official until his death; Dr. Howard E. Golden, a Christmas card every year since; and Harmon L. Watkins, Southern Methodist law lecturer as is his wife Helen. The installation teams of all three included two especially loyal Deltasigs, both members of the then Dallas Alumni Club: William R. Merrick, Baylor, later elected to the Grand Council, and LeRoy R. Hayden,

Missouri-Columbia, now a retired Dallas CPA who with his wife Besse we still continue our friendship. Laurence H. Fleck, Alpha Kappa Psi member who had attended several Deltasig events with me was the Toastmaster at the SMU initiation banquet. Our Past Executive Director, Charles L. Farrar, is a Louisiana Tech member and our present Executive Director, Ben Wolfenberger, is a Texas Tech member. We produce top Deltasigs in my Southwestern area.

I've had the good fortune to attend with the Grand Officers the installations of other chapters in the Southwest: at Tulane University, New Orleans, Louisiana, on December 4, 1949, serving on the installation team with Bill Merrick, Pete Hayden, and Karl Reyer. At North Texas State College in Denton, Texas, on May 15, 1954, on the team with Dallas Alumni Club members Floyd R. Garrett, South Dakota, now deceased; Edd L. Haskins, Texas, an IRS Special Agent; Miles Woodall, Jr., Texas, a client of mine; and Burnell C. Butler, Southern Methodist, later elected to the Grand Council (who I replaced temporarily upon his resignation). At Oklahoma City University, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, on May 19, 1956, I gave fraternal greetings with B. C. Butler. At Texas Christian University, Fort Worth, Texas, on October 18, 1959, I served on the team with Joe Hefner, Ronnie G. Smith, North Texas, and Charles I. Sutton, Arizona State. At East Texas State College, Commerce, Texas, on February 27, 1960, on the team with Joe Hefner and Ronnie Smith. At Midwestern University, Wichita Falls, Texas, on October 15, 1960, I served on the team with Joe Hefner, B. C. Butler, Jr., and Ronnie Smith. At Sam Houston State Teachers College, Huntsville, Texas, on April 14, 1962, on the team with Joe Hefner. At Texas A & I University, Kingsville, Texas, on May 16, 1965; at Angelo State University, San Angelo, Texas, on April 30, 1967; at the University of Houston, Houston, Texas, on February 1, 1970; and at St. Edward's University, Austin, Texas, on May 7, 1972.

The FOLLOW THE SIGN IN FORTY-NINE slogan brought out many Deltasigs to the 17th Grand Chapter Congress held on September 7, 1949, in the Lord Baltimore Hotel, Baltimore, Maryland. It was our seventh Grand Chapter Congress and a wonderful one to enjoy among our Baltimore friends, especially the John McKewens, and others across the country. Walter C. Sehm, Minnesota, was elected Grand President. Until her recent death his wife Alice and Barbara Merrick, widow of Bill Merrick, continued to attend Grand Chapter Congresses after their husbands' deaths. Both were members of the Educational Foundation.

It was at this Baltimore congress that Grand President Sehm appointed a special committee, chaired by Walton Juegnst, New York, to investigate the possibility and practicability of creating an EDUCATIONAL FOUNDATION (mentioned frequently in my remarks) which would inaugurate new services for Delta Sigma Pi in the field of worthy educational and scientific projects of business research and other professional activities. I had known Brother Juegnst back in Boston during my Gamma Chapter and Boston Alumni Club activities. He consulted his CPA Brothers John McKewen and me for assistance in the negotiations with the Internal Revenue Service to obtain an income tax exemption for the proposed Foundation.

Finally on March 11, 1953, the Delta Sigma Pi Educational Foundation was incorporated as a general not for profit corporation under the laws of the State of Illinois. The original incorporators were then Grand President Howard B. Johnson, H. G. Wright, and Allen Fowler. The formal organization was held on September 6, 1953, during the Denver Grand Chapter Congress. I was a member of the Educational Foundation's First Board of Directors and have so served ever since.

Since its beginning I have made $100 contributions to provide memberships for Deltasig friends for whom I have a high regard. For example, this year I funded the membership for Barbara Wright Stipsak, wife of Brother Robert Stipsak, Johns Hopkins, as a memorial gift in honor of her father, H. G. Wright, upon his death. Also this year, I honored a Deltasig father and son, Thomas P. Robertson, Texas, in memory of Dallas Alumni Club days, and R. Ross Robertson, Texas, for his help as Past President of the Dallas Chapter of National Association of Accountants, another one of my organizations not previously mentioned in my remarks. I have a perfect 36-year attendance, called 3600%, with the Dallas Chapter and have helped organize chapters in other cities. Jim Adams, Texas Christian, a former employee of mine who telephoned me last week, was also so honored with a membership. He had presented me with a Deltasig paddle with my initials on it.

The Baltimore Grand Chapter Congress was bombarded by the slogan DALLAS IN FIFTY-ONE to promote the 18th Grand Chapter Congress held in Dallas, Texas, on September 9-12, 1951, with headquarters at the Adolphus Hotel. The hosts, Dallas Alumni Club and Southern Methodist Chapter, assumed full responsibility of that Grand Chapter Congress. According to the Grand Chapter Congress stationery, and elaborate 10-page Grand Chapter Congress program, I was General Chairman of the organization groups involving dedicated Deltasigs and their wives, such as Associate Chairman Bill Merrick, general administration, Clarence F. Dunning, Ohio State, events, and Besse Hayden, ladies' programs; Clyde H. Taylor, Texas, treasurer; and 23 Sub-Committee Chairmen, each staffed with several workers who planned and supervised such duties or events as: banquet, coffee hour, delegates' luncheon, dinner dance, doe party, finances, Honorary Member-at-Large, hotel headquarters, Pink Poodle initiation, professional program, publicity, reception and buffet supper, registration, sightseeing tour, stag party, style show luncheon, transportation, and Yellow Dog initiation. The slogan was expanded to: LIKE A TEXAN'S SIX-GUN . . . WE'RE SHOOTIN' THE WORKS IN FIFTY-ONE.

According to the nine-section financial statement which I still have, out of gross receipts of $8,900.00, the Grand Chapter Congress made a total net profit for The Central Office of $912.88, after deducting three minor losses totalling $36.84 incurred for ladies' events (not counting, of course, their personal trips to Neiman-Marcus). I sure sail a tight ship!

The highlights were the election of Howard B. Johnson as Grand President and the installation of Ben H. Wooten, President of First National Bank in Dallas, as Honorary Member-at-Large.

A popular event was the Western reception, tally-ho ride, ranch-style barbecue supper, and rodeo in the Audie Murphy Arena of Ray Woods' Ranch in nearby Euless, Texas, (not too far from the present Dallas/Fort Worth Airport), followed by a Yellow-Dog initiation at the Ranch.

Robert Raible, Kentucky-Eta No. 2, Minister-Emeritus of First Unitarian Church in Dallas (my church for over 50 years), gave the Invocation at the first business session. He is a charter member of his chapter, a Life Member, an Educational Foundation member, and enrolled in the Order of the Golden Helmet (presented to him by me at his Marlboro, Vermont, home). I well remember our impassioned plea at that Grand Chapter Congress to admit Jews and Blacks to membership in Delta Sigma Pi; women Brothers were not in mind at that time. I also recall our first meeting with Bob shortly after his arrival at our church in 1942 when he told us he was a Deltasig. He had taken business courses at Kentucky and was in banking before he changed his vocation and graduated from Harvard Divinity School.

Aside from attending future Grand Chapter Congresses and chapter installations, continuing the needed work for the Educational Foundation, and, of course, other Deltasig tasks assigned to me from time to time, I wanted that Grand Chapter Congress to be my best organization efforts—sort of an end-of-the-line fling to go out with a flare!

For my efforts, at the end of the Dallas Grand Chapter

Congress I received a framed award, TESTIMONIAL OF APPRECIATION, the second such award granted by Delta Sigma Pi. Brother Executive Director Ben H. Wolfenberger recently informed me that there may have been another such award, or two, but only The Central Office and a few past officers know about mine.

By now I must have got my point across in my remarks about the ORIGINS AND BACKGROUNDS BEHIND 55 YEARS OF DELTASIG FRIENDSHIPS. Every Deltasig must initiate the original effort to create the friendships that are to be long-lasting if they are to become lifetime friendships. Except for perhaps during the last few years when I was less active, with my nose to the grindstone to establish going businesses—such as my present new six-story bank building and being a bank director at 78, I have tried to be a good Deltasig.

I think I've said enough. Many of you are old enough to know the Deltasig progress story of the years following the Dallas Grand Chapter Congress in 1951—from Denver in 1953 to Atlanta's second Grand Chapter Congress in 1979. It was at the 1977 Grand Chapter Congress in Toronto that I joined the ranks of the Order of the Golden Helmet. For those 30 years, The Central Office has all the records of Deltasig events, including the elections of Grand President Busse, J. Harry Feltham, Johns Hopkins, Homer T. Brewer, Georgia State, Franklin A. Tober, State U. of New York-Buffalo, Joe Hefner, John Marko, Warren E. Armstrong, New Mexico, Thomas M. Mocella, Northwestern-Chicago, Harold L. Cannon, Cal State-Chico, William W. Tatum, Jr., Southern Mississippi, and Michael R. Mallonee, Oklahoma; as well as the elections and appointments of National, Regional, and District Directors and committee members.

I cannot let this opportunity pass without paying honor to Victor A. Tabor, Louisiana Tech, who is Director of our Southwestern Region—a real Deltasig worker. Also, I am indebted to Executive Director Ben H. Wolfenberger, Assistant Executive Director Michael J. Tillar, Cincinnati, and the Administrative Staff at The Central Office.

Accordingly, except where I have already mentioned such Brothers in my previous remarks, I shall not attempt to cover that 30-year period of Deltasig History. I am aware also that I have omitted all too many interesting and important Deltasig Brothers and events, for which I apologize deeply. Looking back I may have dwelt too long on the origins and backgrounds behind the patterns of friendship started in my youth in the days before Delta Sigma Pi in 1926. I thank you for your great patience and endurance in hearing me to this point.

My count for Grand Chapter Congresses to date for Claire and me is 21, because we were in Mexico (I do not remember why) during the Cincinnati-Oxford Grand Chapter Congress. God willing we will be standing for the count of 22 at Mackinac Island in August of 1981. □

The H. Melvin Brown Lecture

U.S. Congressman Barber B. Conable, Jr., delivered the Evening College H. Melvin Brown Lecture in Shriver Hall at Johns Hopkins University on February 2, 1981. He discussed ways to stimulate the country's economy, including his legislation to encourage investment through revised depreciation schedules.

Representative Conable is in his ninth term in Congress. He is a Republican, representing the 35th Congressional District, a Western New York State constituency in the vicinity of Rochester, including much of the Genesee River Valley and the western end of the Finger Lakes area. Before serving in Congress he served two years as a State Senator in New York. He is presently the senior Republican member of the House Ways and Means Committee, and also served as senior member of the Budget Committee and the Joint Committee on Taxation.

The lecture honored Evening College alumnus H. Melvin Brown and took place thanks to the collaborative efforts of Peter Petersen, College administration and business director, and T. Rowe Price Associates, Inc. Mel Brown is retired from the U.S. Public Health Service as Deputy Branch Chief, Financial Management. An initiate of Chi Chapter at Johns Hopkins, Mel served as District Director in the Eastern Region, is Past Regional Director of both the Eastern and Mideastern Regions, is a member of the Baltimore Alumni Club, is a member of the Golden Council and is a Life Member. He has been active in the administrative and financial affairs of Grace Lutheran Church in Bowie, Maryland, and he and his wife, Ruth, travel extensively. In 1976 he established the Evening College H. Melvin Brown Fund in Administrative and Business Sciences at Johns Hopkins. □

It's What You Want It To Be

by Daniel N. Ford
Chairman, Committee on Life Memberships

I remember a story once told to me as a young boy at summer camp. The story was based upon an old Indian tale that went something like this: There once were two young braves who, being young and cocksure, went one day to the tribal medicine man with a question they were sure even he could not answer. You see, if they could "stump" the old Indian they would be the new medicine man and become respected by all. So, one day they captured a little bird and covered it with their hands. They approached the medicine man and asked him to identify the item they were holding. Then they asked him whether the item (whatever it was) was dead or alive. The old medicine man looked at them and said, "it is what you make it." Needless to say, the boys were stunned! "Medicine man, how did you know?" "Simple," he replied, "it is what you make it. Had I said 'dead' you could let it fly away—if I said 'alive,' you could crush its skull and it would be dead." "How did you know it was a bird?" The old man smiled and said, "The feathers were sticking out from under your fingers."

My Brothers, the story just told has a lot of relevance to your status with Delta Sigma Pi—it is what you make it. Should you become active you will prosper; if you don't, you won't.

Delta Sigma Pi has several vehicles by which you as an individual can grow and prosper, one being the Life Membership Program. When you enroll in the program:

- 1) You receive The DELTASIG for life;
- 2) Your annual National alumni dues are paid for life;
- 3) Your name is added to the National Honor Roll of Loyalty;
- 4) You receive an embossed wall certificate and identification card.

Those are the tangible assets. The intangible assets are:

- 1) The enrollment fee is contributed to the National Endowment Fund, from which The Central Office derives operating funds;

- 2) By receiving The DELTASIG for life you can stay in touch with the undergraduates of the nation and with the new ideas that young people promote.

My involvement in Delta Sigma Pi is the greatest think I have every done. As Chairman of the National Committee on Life Memberships I have met more new people and have done more for both myself and the fraternity these past two years than in my four previous years as an undergraduate. As a Life Member my annual national alumni dues are paid for life and I can stay involved at no cost to either myself or my alumni club (Boston).

Act now (take advantage of your undergraduate discount if you qualify) and you can now make your involvement what you want it to be.

Growth And Rebirth

Momentum in the fraternity continues to accelerate with the installation of three new chapters and a reactivated chapter in recent months. Continued growth is projected in coming months as the fraternity reaches toward its seventy-fifth anniversary.

Iota Psi At Corpus Christi

Installed as the newest chapter in Texas and the 17th in the Southwestern Region was Iota Psi Chapter on January 24, 1981, at Corpus Christi State University at Corpus Christi, Texas. Charter members were: James William Pengelly, Albert D. Welch III, Forrest Wayne Oakes, Mary Elizabeth Moses, Lusdin Atlantida Blengio, Jeanette Ann Koetz, Teresa Aleman, Leo John Finnegan III, Marilyn Anne Harrison, Lisa Ann Koepke, Dianne Brenda Pennington, Lisa Louise Prater, Teri Lee Snapka, Sheryl Ann Traeger, Robert Michael Vaclavik, Gregory Elbert Wolfe, and Joyce Marie Barnes.

Heading the installation team were Grand President Mike Mallonee, Executive Director Ben Wolfenberger, Assistant Executive Director Mike Tillar, Southwestern Regional Director Vic Tabor, District Director Beverly Breaux and John Richards, Dean of the College of Business. Assisting were Zeta Nu Chapter at Texas A & I, Eta Theta Chapter at Angelo State and Eta Psi Chapter at Houston, along with the Houston Alumni Club.

At the installation banquet Regional Director Vic Tabor served as Toastmaster and Lisa Prater of the chapter gave the Invocation. Dr. Alan Sugg, president of the university, extended greetings and Dean Richards talked about the history of the College of Business. Chapter Historian Teri Aleman presented a history of Iota Psi Chapter. Grand President Mallonee presented the charge and charter which were accepted by President Bill Pengelly. Following fraternal greetings by Executive Director Wolfenberger, a Board of Directors Testimonial of Appreciation was presented to District Director Beverly Breaux and a number of chapter recognitions were presented.

Corpus Christi State University

Corpus Christi State University was chartered in June, 1971, under the name Texas A & I University at Corpus Christi. This charter was authorized by the 62nd Legislature of the State of Texas by House Bill 275. The institution was established in Section I of this bill "... a fully state-supported coeducational institution of higher learning... The institution shall be organized to accept only junior, senior, and graduate level students, with at least sixty (60) semester hours of accredited college or university study".

On September 1, 1977, the Legislature of the State of Texas passed House Bill 944 which changed the Texas A & I University System to the University System of South Texas. House Bill 944 also changed the name of Texas A & I University at Corpus Christi to Corpus Christi State University.

When the University first opened its doors to students in September, 1973, 975 students enrolled for classes. The University had 40 faculty members. In the Fall Semester of 1980, over 2,700 students were enrolled and the faculty had grown to 100. The University now offers 22 baccalaureate degrees and 10 master degree programs. A Bachelor of Fine Arts Degree and a Master of Public Administration Degree are planned for the future.

College of Business Administration

The College of Business Administration originally began with a five person faculty when the University opened in September, 1973. The college presently has a 22 member faculty and its combined undergraduate and graduate enrollment is now the largest of the four colleges in the University.

The College of Business Administration offers the BBA degree with concentrations in Accounting, Computer Applications, General Business, Finance, Management, Personnel Management, Marketing and Occupational Management. The college also offers the MBA degree and courses in Public Administration.

tion which can be taken as part of the MBA program.

The college is actively involved with continuing education for the business and industry community. Formal relationships with the American Management Association and the Small Business Administration offer unique opportunities for students in the College of Business Administration.

The baccalaureate program in accounting has achieved significant recognition. CCSU students have always scored well above the state average in successfully passing the State CPA examination. On the 1978 examination, CCSU students had the second highest pass rate of all public Universities in Texas.

Phi Chi Psi Fraternity

In the spring of 1979 a letter was sent to Mike Tillar informing The Central Office of Delta Sigma Pi that Phi Chi Psi Professional Business Fraternity of Corpus Christi State University had voted to petition Delta Sigma Pi for a local charter.

Although many professional and social functions were held during the spring of 1979 through the fall of 1979, the requirements for a petition were not met. Meetings began in late January to reorganize Phi Chi Psi. Elections were held to vote for the officers. In February, Phi Chi Psi took advantage of its opportunity to raise money by selling carnations in various arrangements to be delivered on Valentine's Day. Phi Chi Psi's carnation sale not only served to bring funds into the organization, it also served as publicity for the club.

Since that time, the local fraternity has worked hard to rebuild and has been very active during the 1980-81 academic year.

Iota Omega In Greensboro

Fifty-two charter members became the Iota Omega Chapter of Delta Sigma Pi on February 1, 1981, at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro. Special Board of Director recognitions were accorded Past Grand President John Marko, Faculty Advisor H. Allen Maynard, Jr., from James Madison, and Faculty Member Joseph E. Johnson from Georgia State.

Assisting with the installation were undergraduates from Alpha Lambda Chapter at North Carolina-Chapel Hill and Iota Xi Chapter at Winston-Salem State. National officers participating were, in addition to those mentioned above, Grand President Mike Mallonee, Executive Director Ben Wolfenberger and Assistant Executive Director Mike Tillar.

Following the Invocation given at the installation banquet by Senior Vice President Mack Scott, greetings were extended by Dr. Stanley Jones, Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs. Dean David Shelton gave a history of the School of Business and Economics with Historian Diana Levore giving a history of Iota Omega Chapter. Presenting the charge and charter was Grand President Mike Mallonee. Following acceptance of the charge and charter by President Susan Johnson, special recognition awards were announced by the chapter. Since South Central Regional Director Sharon Hundley was unable to be present due to a scheduling conflict, Executive Director Ben Wolfenberger served as Toastmaster for the evening.

University of North Carolina-Greensboro

In 1891 the General Assembly of North Carolina passed an act providing for the establishment of the Normal and Industrial School for Girls. A ten acre site was donated by the citizens and the first building, a combination administration building and dormitory, was erected in 1892. Early enrollment included 223 students and a faculty of five.

The school continued to grow as a college for women until the 60's when the college became a university and was enlarged to its present 154 acres. The 1965-66 academic year saw the admission of the first male students. Current enrollment is approximately 10,300.

UNC-G is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools and is a member of the Association of Colleges and Schools, the American Council of Education, the North Carolina Association of Colleges and Universities and the National Commission of Accrediting. The university awards seven degrees in 89 fields of undergraduate studies. There currently are 634 full-time faculty with more than 62 per cent of these holding doctoral degrees.

School of Business and Economics

Strong programs in business and distributive education go far back in UNC-G history, but these were the only business related programs of significance until the present decade. In 1970, the School of Business and Economics was formed through the merger of the Department of Economics and Business Administration and the Department of Business Education. The new school was a single entity, without departments. It had a full-time faculty of 19; and a group of student majors numbering 316. Undergraduate programs were offered in business administration and economics with several concentrations available in each of these.

By the fall semester of 1978, the full-time faculty numbered 57 and the student majors exceeded 1,650. Undergraduate majors were offered in accounting, business administration, in business and distributive education and in economics. The number of students taking majors within the School of Business and Economics is expected to rise to 2,300 by the mid 1980's when the School will completely occupy the newly opened 122,000 square foot Business and Economics Building. Current enrollment in the School is 5,525 students.

Gamma Beta Epsilon Fraternity

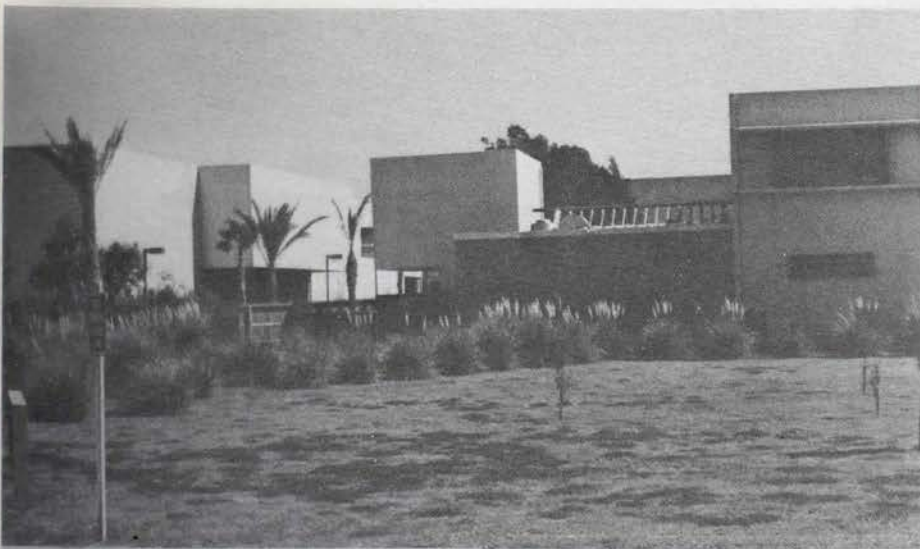

On February 26, 1980, Susan E. Johnson, Past Grand President M. John Marko and three Deltasig faculty members at the University of North Carolina-Greensboro attended a luncheon meeting to discuss the possibility of establishing a chapter of Delta Sigma Pi on the UNC-G campus. A meeting of all interested business students was held on March 27, and 25 prospective members were in attendance. This meeting proved that the business students would support a professional fraternity. A second meeting was held on April 15, 1980, during which Past Grand President Marko and a delegation of undergraduate members from Alpha Lambda Chapter at the University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill acquainted the students with the goals of the fraternity as well as the steps in the petitioning process. On April 21, a third meeting was held during which the students formally voted to form Gamma Beta Epsilon Fraternity.

Since that time the local fraternity has been meeting on a regular basis and has successfully developed a full schedule of professional activities. These activities have included speakers from the Home Federal Bank and the Provident Mutual Life Insurance Company as well as a tour of the Center for Creative Leadership. Members of Gamma Beta Epsilon have also participated in a number of fund raising and social activities. The first service activity sponsored by the local fraternity was a covered dish supper for the members of a university staff member's family. The members of Gamma Beta Epsilon scheduled this Christmas party for the family after learning that one of the children had been found to be terminally ill.

Kappa Lambda Is Newest

Over 50 out-of-town undergraduates from the Eastern Region assisted in the installation of the fraternity's newest chapter, Kappa Lambda, at the State University of New York-Binghamton. They were from Alpha Kappa Chapter at SUNY-Buffalo, Epsilon Lambda Chapter at Rochester Tech, Zeta Psi Chapter at SUNY-Albany, Zeta Omicron Chapter at C. W. Post, Theta Iota Chapter at Connecticut, and Theta Upsilon Chapter at Siena. Also attending were District Directors Dave Brumbaugh, Christine Kerwick, and Steve Kuptsis. Key individuals who had played a role in establishing the chapter (see history of the chapter) attending were Leon Niles from Houston, Texas, and Joe Krupka from East Brunswick, New Jersey. National officers handling the installation ceremonies were Grand President Mike Mallonee, Executive Director Ben Wolfenberger, Assistant Executive Director Mike Tillar, Eastern Regional Director Dick Parnitzke, and Director of Alumni Activities Mickey Johnson.

Following the installation ceremonies on campus, the installation banquet followed in the evening. Acting as Toastmaster was Regional Director Dick Parnitzke. The Invocation was given by Vice President for Professional Activities Todd Rosenfeld. Dean of the School of Management Craig Lundberg extended greetings, while Director of Undergraduate Programs for the School of Management Vincent A. Pasquale gave a history of the school. Chancellor of Kappa Lambda Chapter Gary Silver gave a history of the chapter and Grand President Mallonee presented the charge and charter. After acceptance of the charter by President Barry Zelin, Executive Director Wolfenberger presented fraternal greetings to the new members. Concluding the banquet were the presentation of Board of Directors Testimonials to Leon Niles and Joe Krupka and a number of chapter and other awards.

The charter members of the new chapter were: Barry Alan Zelin, Peter Louis Ferrara, Todd Brian Rosenfeld, Virginia Carol Bronson, Stephen Thomas Giove, Gary David Silver, Margaret Mary Cass, Florence E. Friedman, Linda Ann Alessio, Beth Ann Berk, Michael Francis Brewer, Matthew James Capelli, John George Chaconas, Lisa Jane Clark, Kerri Ann Devaney, Iris Mindy Diamond, Deena Hildy Dorfman, Donna Lee Forte, Bruce David Goldstein, Glenn Jay Greenfader, Debbie Elizabeth Grinnell, Susan Jane Horowitz, Joel Barry Joachim, Eugene Thomas Johner, Dayna Aileen Kessler, Mindy Susan Klein, Nancy Sue Kogan, Michael Scott Korten, Robin Sue Laveman, Lenora Longo, Randi Lynn Marcus, Gail Nancy Moser, Dorothy Louise Mylie, Gina Quinto, Scott Charles Randall, Susan Lynn Schneyman, Karen Mindy Shapin, Melissa Ann Sherwin, Karen Hodi Sigal, John Joseph Sprague, Vicki Catherine Steele, Howard David Unger, Lori Mae Waite, Patti Faith Weinstein, David Scott Winkler, Lori Ellen Witkin, Carol Susan Wolf, Sarah Beth Wolf, Philip C. Burger, Jerri Lyn Frantzve, Martin Freedman, and Thomas Steven Pirro.

State University of New York- Binghamton

The State University of New York dates back to 1946, when it began as Triple Cities College in Endicott. It was then a branch of Syracuse University. In 1950, Triple Cities College was incorporated in the SUNY system.

Because the school had an excellent reputation and a rapid enrollment, Harpur College was selected to become one of the four university centers in the SUNY system in January, 1965. Harpur College became the undergraduate liberal arts and sciences school and retained its identity within the university. Four professional schools were developed: the School of Management, the School of General Studies, the School of Advanced Technology, and the School of Nursing.

Today, SUNY-Binghamton was approximately 11,000 enrolled students. Spread over a 600 acre campus in the town of Vestal, one mile west of Binghamton, it provides for these students a broad range of educational services of a multipurpose university. It offers the students a wide range of programs which lead to the Bachelor's, Master's, or Doctor of Philosophy degrees.

School of Management

SUNY-Binghamton's School of Management was created 11 years ago to unify the many areas of business and management. Prior to this time, the school was a department within the general liberal arts institution of Harpur College.

The School of Management is accredited by the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. It is currently in the process of self-study for accreditation by the American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business.

As of September, 1980, 925 undergraduate students and 343 graduate students were enrolled in the School of Management.

The school offers undergraduates a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration. There are two alternate fields—accounting and management. The accounting student must take 126 credit hours, including 52 liberal arts, 64 business, eight electives, and two credits of physical education. The management student must also complete 126 credit hours. These are to include 58 liberal arts, 46 business, 20 electives, and two physical education credits.

In the graduate area, the School of Management offers a Master's of Business Administration, a Master's of Science in Accounting, and a Master's of Science in Management Science. An external degree program is held at Griffis Air Force Base in Rome, New York.

Sigma Mu Beta Fraternity

Sigma Mu Beta Fraternity was first organized in March, 1980, by Deltasig Alumni Joseph Krupka and Leon Niles. Both men were undergraduate members of Epsilon Lambda Chapter at Rochester Institute of Technology and were enrolled as graduate students on the Binghamton campus. After receiving the approval of the university administration, Brothers Krupka and Niles began to recruit interested students and on May 4, 1980, the first 19 members of the local fraternity were pledged to Delta Sigma Pi.

When the new academic year began, the members of Sigma Mu Beta launched an aggressive recruiting campaign. The first recruiting activity drew 60 prospective members. This success, combined with a full schedule of professional, community service and social activities, made it clear that the dream of affiliating with Delta Sigma Pi would become a reality.

During the first half of the 1980-81 academic year the local fraternity has sponsored a number of activities, including a presentation on careers in business law, as well as speakers from Merrill Lynch, IBM and Singer-Link Corporation. Sigma Mu Beta also sponsored a fund raising activity for the benefit of the United Way and has participated in a variety of social activities. A delegation from the local fraternity also participated in the Eastern Regional Conference in late October, 1980.

Epsilon Tau Returns To Dayton

On January 10, 1981, Delta Sigma Pi returned to the University of Dayton with over 100 Deltasigs from chapters throughout the East Central Region converging on the campus to welcome the new Brothers and to welcome back Epsilon Tau Chapter. Many members traveled 200 miles in a display of dedication and unity that was heartwarming.

The reactivation was the culmination of a series of events that had begun many months earlier. East Central Regional Director Jeff Philippi had been monitoring the University of Dayton waiting for the right time to begin recruiting efforts. District Director Kurt Boveington was also living a few short blocks from campus.

Kurt received all necessary approvals from university officials to reactivate the chapter and in October, 1980, recruiting was begun. Numerous members of the Cincinnati Alumni Club assisted periodically with the functions and development of the reactivating group.

After pledging, planning and working on a program of activities developed simultaneously with a pledge education program. Representatives of the reactivating group also participated in the East Central Regional Conference in Cincinnati.

Preparing For The Professions: The Role Of The Professoriat

by Lowndes F. Stephens

Today, I want to share some thoughts about the role of university professors in shaping professions and preparing students to enter professions. My comments about the American professoriat apply to other democracies as well.

Americans have lost confidence in educational institutions and this crisis in public confidence in most of our service sector organizations—political parties, churches, the mass media, schools, etc.—is due in part to the fact that the professions that give life to these institutions don't do a very good job in public relations and promotion. As businessmen you have experienced an up and down cycle of public and consumer confidence and are meeting the problem head on. The Wall Street Journal recently reported that CEO's are spending more time on public relations than ever before and that managers with corporate communications experience are now competing with line-function managers for top corporate jobs.

I am proud of my university—proud of its achievements in the areas of education and training; proud of its contributions to scholarship and public policy research; and proud of its record of public service.

For example, the University of South Carolina has successfully placed at least one student a year for the past eight years in the foreign service and, along with the University of Wisconsin, it is at the forefront in establishing faculty and student exchange programs with universities in the Peoples Republic of China.

By sharing my views on how the professoriat serves your interests as employers and parents, perhaps you will be encouraged to support higher education.

One member of my profession—William L. Bryan, president emeritus of Indiana University in the early 1950's—once said "A college education is one of the few things a person is willing to pay for and not get." In a literal sense, his point still has some validity in the 1980's. For example, 25% of the freshmen in most of our public universities this academic year will not enroll next year as sophomores. Most are unable to return for academic reasons. All will have spent a minimum of about $2,500 not including items such as transportation, books or personal expenses. When you factor in opportunity costs—the income they sacrificed as a result of not being in the labor force—the cost of extending adolescence for one year by going to college is about $10,000. Others will decide as sophomores or juniors that the "university experience is no longer relevant to their vocational goals" so they, too, will drop out. Some of them will perceive this experience as a $20,000 to $30,000 investment in failure. The professors who gave the failing grades become villains. Others, of course, share the blame—the students themselves; parents; public school teachers; maybe even those in the television industry who some would say are responsible for the "Johnnies who can't read."

So as parents of young adults who don't make it in college, you may get miffed at the professors who handed out the failing grades.

Chances are, however, these students will enter the world of work, become affluent American consumers, and will return in the year 2010 to the university as mature students interested in a liberal arts education for other than economic reasons. Richard Freeman, a Harvard economist, tells us in The Over-educated American (Academic Press, 1976), that we have a glut of college trained people and that the wage differentials between high school graduates and college graduates is declining at an increasing rate, though college graduates today still can expect to earn more during their working years than their high school counterparts. I tell my freshmen students in the University 101 orientation classes that the value added of a university education in the economic sense is not worth the investment. No . . . I say . . . you better have some quality of life reasons other than economic well-being for pursuing a college degree. Like learning to get along with others . . . learning to live within your means . . . developing a sense of ethics and values . . . learning to be tolerant of ambiguity and of differing points of view.

The late Professor W. H. Cowley of Stanford University said it best in this oft-quoted remark: "People sometimes refer to higher education as the higher learning, but colleges and universities are much more than knowledge factories; they are testaments to man's perennial struggle to make a better world for himself, his children, and his children's children. This, indeed, is their sovereign purpose. They are great fortifications against ignorance and irrationality; but they are more than places of higher learning—they are centers and symbols of man's higher yearning."

In a recent message to the business community Professor Douglas Archibald of Colby College (see "Learning from Liberal Arts," The Wall Street Journal, December 23, 1980) says, "Our job as teachers is to help our students see that they have excellent music if they work hard enough to discover it, that education can nourish self-understanding and self-realization, and, yes, self-protection." He makes the point, as well, that "the liberal arts are survival skills: survival with you in business, for we hope our students get jobs; survival for you, as you hope they will increase your productivity; but also—survival against you. I do not mean moral superiority, but psychic survival in any corporate structure that is able to gobble you up."

As parents you no doubt regard these as perhaps lofty, but nonetheless, defensible arguments in behalf of the role of university education and the liberal arts in particular.

But universities also provide specialized knowledge which prepares students for specific professions. From the standpoint of an employer, you want a competent worker and you expect the college trained adult to bring specialized skills to the job. In this regard, it is not sufficient that your college trained employee be merely honest, affable, and loyal (to you and to the work ethic). She/he must also be efficient—doing the job right—and effective—doing the right job. The university experience—classroom time; private time with books and journals in the library; informal interaction with instructors and other students; on-the-job-training by way of internships and part-time jobs—fosters efficiency and effectiveness.

Professors as teachers and educators try to promote learning. We theoretically have a contract that says to you, the employer, here is an adult learner who will continue the learning process in his role as an employee. By learning, I mean—assimilation of facts, principles, and concepts; integration of knowledge from a variety of sources; development of certain skills, for example, written expression, application or transfer of facts, principles, and concepts to other situations; evaluation of various forms of evidence or proofs.

If, as employers, you are not getting efficient and effective college trained people, then you, too, become outraged at the professoriat.

Professors serve the "student" public and several other publics as well in their roles as researchers and public servants. We are expected not only to draw on the literature from which we teach, but to contribute to that literature as well. We do so by publishing textbooks and journal articles, and by delivering papers at professional meetings. In addition to teaching and research, professors are also expected to act as public servants (e.g., speak before civic groups, serve on advisory committees, etc). Occasionally, a member of the academic community receives extraordinary recognition for his commitment to public service and is able to use the mass media as a forum for explaining how his contributions as a teacher and scholar made the public service possible.

The American hostage crisis provided a dramatic example. On January 29, during the week of celebration, ABC-TV's "Nightline" recognized the extraordinary public service made during the negotiations by Professor Harold Fisher, a crisis-intervention expert from Harvard. During the "Nightline" interview, the Harvard professor made the point that his contribution as a "third party" to the negotiations was possible in part because of his earlier contributions as a teacher and scholar. He has devoted his career to teaching and research and public service in this specialized field. The academic setting made his dramatic public service contribution possible. His "contacts" had no doubt been former students at Harvard. His "credibility and expertise" were established through a record of scholarship and "real world" application of his crisis-intervention theories. In response to a question from ABC's Ted Koppel, the professor said he was in a better position to "help" in these negotiations, in his role as a Harvard professor, than he would have been as an employee of the U.S. Department of State.

So the professoriat helps shape professions and prepares students for professions by making various contributions to several different publics, as educators, scholars and public servants. The typical faculty member in institutions which award the PhD may work from 60-80 hours a week. His compensation in monetary terms is modest. The American Association of University Professors reports annually on the compensation of faculty members. During the 1979-80 academic year the average 9-month salary for full professors was $28,450; $21,390 for associate professors and $17,450 for assistant professors. Average outside income amounted to 21% of the 9-month salary. To put this in perspective, let's compare academic salaries with the cost of living and with the compensation levels of non-agricultural employees, using October, 1980, data and June 1967=100 as the base year for the Consumer Price Index (CPI). The CPI stood at 253.9 in October. The personal income of non-agricultural employees was somewhat higher than the CPI, standing at 258, but academic salaries stood at 200.

It is interesting to note that business professors earn the highest amount of extra income because of their demand as consultants. According to a story in the December 1, 1980, issue of The Chronicle of Higher Education, full professors in business administration and economics earned an average of $9,126 or 30.2% of their 1979-80 9-month salaries as consultants, researchers or visiting professors at other institutions.

Nevertheless, most of us love our work. We derive a lot of satisfaction from our teaching experiences. We cherish thoughtful notes from old students, positive feedback on student evaluations, looks of understanding from look-alike faces in a large classroom. We also are protective of our academic freedom and our research mission.

Our hope is that you will recognize us as a resource, and our universities as resources in need of your support. For university is not just a weigh station for 17 to 21 year olds looking for a ticket to the marketplace, it is to be sampled throughout the life cycle.

Dr. Stephens is associate professor of journalism at the University of South Carolina and past head of the International Communication Division of the Association for Education in Journalism. He received his PhD from Wisconsin and has published articles in The New York Times and a number of academic journals. These remarks were made in a speech to the Lancaster (SC) Rotary Club. He is an initiate of Eta Chapter of Delta Sigma Pi at the University of Kentucky and is a Life Member.

alumni in action

ALUMNI REPORT

Two very short years ago at this time, Grand President Mallonee wrote in this column that he was presenting his last article as Director of Alumni Activities and he took the opportunity to review the accomplishments of his committee during his tenure. Those accomplishments were many and they set the goals for subsequent committees to meet. As I now find myself in Mike's position I, too, would like to pause and review our progress. Two years ago the number of functioning alumni clubs stood at 40 while now that number is 50. Two years ago we had 11,000 Life Members, but now that number approaches 12,500. Two years ago our alumni dues from non Life Members exceeded $15,000 while this year they approach $18,000. This continued success and growth is a tribute to our membership, but I must also say that it reflects the efforts of the present members of the committee on Alumni Activities who have taken an active and direct part in assisting that growth. Their efforts are certainly appreciated by me and I'm sure by the fraternity as a whole.

Other areas of progress in alumni affairs have included the establishment of an Alumni Club newsletter, The CRIER, the streamlining of alumni club refranchising to ensure continuous recognition, the marked increase in contributions by alumni to the various segments of the fraternity and, of course, the designation of future Directors of Alumni Activities as automatic members of the fraternity's National Executive Committee. These changes should be most helpful in the years to come.

During the past two years it has been my privilege and pleasure to talk with members of 38 alumni clubs from Sacramento to New York and Chicago to New Orleans and it is my happy duty to report that their enthusiasm for and participation in our fraternity continues to increase. Of the more than 90 chapters whose members I had the chance to meet, almost every one of them is strongly promoting Life Membership and continued fraternal participation by their members after graduation. With this type of enthusiasm and support we, as Deltasigs, can be proud in the knowledge that our alumni programs will continue to be a shining example to all who try to emulate them.

If an attempt was made to name each and every Brother who has contributed to the betterment of our alumni programs in the past two years, then this column would take up half the magazine so I will not do so. However, I would be remiss if I did not acknowledge two individuals who, despite all their other duties, have constantly done everything in their power to ensure continued success in the alumni field. For their tireless work and personal sacrifice, I extend to Brothers Ben Wolfenberger and Mike Mallonee my personal thanks as well as that of the Alumni Activities Committee and Delta Sigma Pi.

DIRECTOR OF ALUMNI ACTIVITIES

ALBUQUERQUE-ZIA

THE ZIA ALUMNI CLUB fiscal and membership year is nearly over. At our next general meeting, June 6, 1981, we will elect a new executive board for the 1981-82 term, July 1, 1981-June 30, 1982. The new board will be responsible for conduct of the Alumni Club's operations and functions during that term. To ensure that your voice is heard, that the club continues to provide the types of business and social activities for this area, you, the Zia members, must participate in the election process. Nominations for office will continue to be accepted at the June meeting. To be a voter, you need only to be a member in good standing. The club still meets at 9:00 A.M. the first Saturday of each month at Howard Johnson's-Midtown. All Deltasigs are welcome.

The quarterly newsletter continues to be our major organ and is distributed to Deltasigs on our mailing list. Over 300 copies are sent out with each mailing. The mailing list consists of all current Alumni Club members, current Gamma Iota Chapter members and pledges, and other Deltasigs in the Albuquerque area. If you fall into one of these categories and have not received your copy, it probably means we do not have your current mailing address—please let us know. The newsletter serves as a good source for local Deltasigs to keep abreast of local and national fraternity activities. A recent issue contained a new article designed to implement "Operation Update," a program designed to locate "lost" Brothers. The March issue initiated another new feature with the first "PROFILE" series which will provide a biographical profile of a Zia member.

Membership continues to increase at an acceptable rate. The paid membership now totals 37 with several new members coming "on board" in the past few weeks. Many of these are graduates of New Mexico State University, (Epsilon Upsilon Chapter) and are currently working and/or residing in this area.

In February, the Zia Club hosted the second semiannual Alumni-Pledge Business Night, formerly called Businessman's Social, at the West Officers' Club, Kirtland AFB. As with the previous gathering, our objective was to bring together pledges, alumni, undergraduate members, and other guests from the local business/professional community in a professional-social atmosphere. Those who attended can attest to the success of the event and endorse the good food, good spirits, and good company. Those who were unable to attend for one reason or another can only wait for another day.

In the January 1981 issue of this magazine, we made note of the fact that one of our more illustrious Brothers had embarked on a serious political venture. We are happy and proud to report that Brother Charles Barnhart, a long time active Alumni Club member, was elected as the city's newest Municipal Judge. Judge Barnhart is now seated on the Bench and handing down judicial rulings. As a measure of our esteem, we promptly invited the new Judge to speak at our February general meeting.

In other notes, Brother Al Brofsky, a former Zia, unexpectedly slipped into town and attended the Alumni-Pledge bash and relived a few old memories. Al is currently employed with a construction firm in Israel. Brother John Cox, another defecting Zia member, recently moved to Houston and is working as an internal auditor for the Getty Oil Co. A small group of Zia's gave John an impromptu sendoff at the Japanese Steakhouse.

It was anticipated that a good number of local alumni would attend the February 28

Area Conference at Eastern New Mexico University. The Albuquerque-Zia Alumni Club planned to host an alumni seminar during that conference.

CHICAGO

FEBRUARY FOUND THE Chicago Alumni Club celebrating St. Valentine's Day with the Annual Wine Tasting Party held for the fourth year at Binyon's, the location for a great many Chicago Alumni events. As in past Wine Tasting Parties, Brothers and loved ones enjoyed a program on wines combined with a tasty dinner of turtle soup or fruit juice, garden green salad, club steak, baked potato, and apple strudel. Interspaced with the dinner were four fine French wines selected by our guest wine expert for the evening, Simon Lambert of Connoisseur Wines. Having a background of 13 years in the wine business, Mr. Lambert proved a most informative commentator on the wines and an excellent judge of value in selecting the more often undiscovered lesser known wines of France. Moreover, we were pleased to have Mr. Lambert's lovely wife, Lydia, with us for the memorable evening.

Particularly memorable at the wine tasting was the unusual departure from our program to present a Special Recognition Award to Brother Rudy Weber for his 40 years of active participation in Delta Sigma Pi. Having served his fraternity in many capacities, including president of the Chicago Alumni Club, Brother Weber continues to support the club and is well known to almost all who attended Chicago Alumni Club events. This special award was voted unanimously by the board of Directors of the Chicago Alumni Club at a recent meeting.

With the economy in a constant state of change and with a new administration in Washington the alumni club did its share to better inform its members by having an Investment Seminar for members and their wives or husbands. Held at the Union League Club of Chicago, the program featured, as its guest speaker, Alison A. Winter, Vice President of The Northern Trust Company. Mrs. Winter is a chartered financial analyst and an active member of the Investment Analysts Society of Chicago. She has been with The Northern Trust for 10 years where she currently manages investment portfolios for individual investors. Mrs. Winter's talk concentrated on investments for the 1980's as she outlined areas of interest and change in the decade ahead for investors.

Interested Brothers are invited to mark their calendars for the peak of Chicago Alumni Club activities, the Annual Golf & Sports Outing to be held on Thursday, June 1, at Indian Lakes Country Club in nearby Bloomingdale, Illinois, site of last year's successful outing. Although the outing had its start as an annual golf event years ago we have enlarged the program to include tennis and/or swimming as well as the facilities of Indian Lakes. As in past years this year's outing will conclude with cocktails and dinner to be followed by the annual election of officers and directors of the club. Those who cannot make the daytime sports are encouraged to come out for the putting contest followed by the dinner and election.

As we close the school year shortly we encourage and invite graduating chapter Brothers to contact us to be included on our mailing list for future functions. In the past several years we extended free first year memberships to those just graduating. Needless to say, we also encourage undergraduates to attend any or all of the club events and offer special prices for undergraduates attending. Don't delay—contact us today—Chicago Alumni Club of Delta Sigma Pi, Post Office Box 11314, Chicago, Illinois 60611.

CINCINNATI

THE CINCINNATI ALUMNI CLUB has enjoyed a prosperous and rewarding winter and spring of 1981. Our own events, which included a roller skating party on February 4, dinner and speaker on March 5, and the Senior Round-Up on April 8, were well attended by Cincinnati Alumni and members of surrounding undergraduate chapters. Each was a huge success.

Other Deltasig events in the region have also attracted several members. One of these was the initiation and reactivation of the chapter at the University of Dayton, which was held in January. A Cincinnati Alumni Club member, Kurt Boveington, was largely responsible for the reactivation at UD, and the entire club would like to congratulate him. Kurt recruited a fine group of people who will surely make significant contributions to the fraternity as Brothers in Delta Sigma Pi. The initiations at Nu Chapter, Ohio State; Alpha Theta Chapter, University of Cincinnati; Alpha Upsilon Chapter, Miami University; and Theta Lambda Chapter, Xavier University; were also attended by Cincinnati Alums. Thanks go to these chapters for inviting us.

The entire club is now looking forward to the Grand Chapter Congress at Mackinac Island in August. We are sure that the spirits of Brotherhood and fraternalism produced and displayed at the East Central Regional Conference in October will be continued and enlarged as Brothers from across the United States gather to conduct the business of Delta Sigma Pi.

COLUMBUS-SOUTHEASTERN (GA.)

THE COLUMBUS-SOUTHEASTERN AREA Alumni Club ushered in the coming of spring with wild festive celebrations that would certainly rival even the most flamboyant parties of our undergraduate years. The season usually associated with rejuvenation was vigorously welcomed by our club membership as the perfect setting to stimulate other alumni to join ranks with us and reactivate themselves in the world of Delta Sigma Pi.

Following the expert leadership of our club president, Sherman Williams, we sought out our Brothers who had strayed from the gilded path of royal purple and old gold and saved their poor decrepit souls from existences deprived of the Brotherhood of our Fraternity. The goal of doubling our membership, which we set for ourselves at the beginning of the year, was quickly realized in our February and March meetings. The dedication of our active membership can truly be appreciated by all Deltasigs, for without this small core of members who believes so fervently in the fraternity, there would certainly not be an Alumni Club in Columbus, Georgia.

Our salutations go out to Brothers Steve Hall and Mary Mainor on the announcement of their engagement. After seven arduous years of dating, Steve and Mary finally decided to be joined in Holy Matrimony. Steve and Mary have both been instrumental in the reorganization of our club and our gratitude will never be forgotten.

We would also like to congratulate Theta Mu Chapter of Columbus College for a very successful year. Most of our club membership are graduates of Theta Mu Chapter who enjoy seeing it continue so successfully. We hope that the spring and summer graduates who remain in the Columbus area will continue in the fraternity, and associate themselves with our organization.

We in the Columbus-Southeastern Area Alumni Club of Delta Sigma Pi Fraternity are looking forward to the Grand Chapter Congress this summer in Michigan, and hope to meet other Brothers who attend, both undergraduates and alumni. We plan to have at least five representatives there and hope to add to the productivity of the business side and to demonstrate our vast experience in leadership in the social aspects.

—R. KELLY

JACKSONVILLE

THE JACKSONVILLE ALUMNI CLUB has had a very busy winter. There were many activities and meetings to bring everyone together.

In February we were deeply saddened by the death of our treasurer and charter member, Bob McIntyre. He was also a charter member of Beta Omega Chapter at the University of Miami-Florida. His dedication to and efforts for the fraternity should remind us all of the meaning of being a Deltasig. Bob was an inspiration to all of us in the alumni club and will long be remembered by all who met him.

In addition to our monthly meetings, our spring schedule has been filled with fun. In the beginning of May a beach party and picnic were held at Hanna Park. This was an all-day family affair. There was lots of food and drink for all. In June we will hold our second annual dinner-dance for the installation of officers.

The Jax Alumni Club would like to invite all of our Brothers in the North Florida and South Georgia area to join us. We meet the second Thursday of each month. If you have any questions call Brenda at 744-6029.

We wish a safe and fun summer to all Deltasigs. Next stop—Grand Chapter Congress. Hope to see everyone there!

—BRENDA ELMORE

LAKE CHARLES-BAYOU COUNTRY

THE BAYOU COUNTRY Alumni Club held its annual covered dish supper at the William Gray Stream Memorial Alumni Center on February 21. There was a great turnout of alumni as well as many Brothers from the Eta Tau Chapter. The fixings included ham, baked beans, breads and assorted vegetables. The desserts were also delicious (especially Brother John Moreau's wonderful chocolate cake that he baked himself). After the eating, everyone settled down to playing cards, scrabble and backgammon. The alumni club wishes to thank everyone who attended and helped make the supper a success.

We held a meeting on March 5 to discuss the future activities of the alumni club. The main topic of discussion was the Grand Chapter Congress trip in August. Alumni Club President Frank Guidry discussed the estimated costs of the trip and the various events scheduled. He encouraged everyone to attend as this gathering of the fraternity is an event not soon forgotten.

The first week in November was the scene for the CPA exam in Baton Rouge. Special congratulations to Brother Roger Dale Martin for passing the final part of his CPA exam. Congratulations also to Brother Richard Theunessin for passing three parts, and to Brothers Toni Williams and Karl Schram for passing two parts of the exam. Keep on plugging so that when the next Deltasig comes out in November, we can add the letters CPA behind your names.

We end this letter with a new beginning. Karl Schram and his wife Donna are the proud parents of their first child, Tiffany Noel, born on December 25. Wow!! What a Christmas present!! Congratulations from the Bayou Country Alumni Club!

LINCOLN-GREATER NEBRASKA

SPRING HAS BEEN a busy season for the members of the Lincoln-Greater Nebraska Alumni Club, and summer appears to be just as promising for Brotherhood and activity.

Highlighting the social calendar was an April 18 trip to the Fireside Dinner Theater in Omaha. Members, spouses, and dates enjoyed an evening of good food, fun and fellowship.

Opportunity for contact with undergraduate members continues to come through the many activities shared with Alpha Delta Chapter. Their professional dinners are examples of the occasions the groups enjoy together, and at their February 28 dinner the Alumni Club was able to make the evening more special by presenting a scholarship to one of the members. Recognizing the importance of such professional activities, the club also contributed financial support to Alpha Delta Chapter's professional program for the spring semester.

At least one member has been in the spotlight this spring. Bill Danley entered the race for Lincoln City Council, one more example of his commitment to service to the community.

An important election in the club occurs in May. Three of the nine positions on the Board of Directors will be filled at this time, and all area alumni are urged to officially join the club now (if they have not already done so) so that they may have a voice in this election, or even run for one of the positions.

Joining now has the added benefit of inclusion in the upcoming activities such as the summer picnic now being planned. To get in on the fun of special events and monthly meetings, contact Jerry Pigsley, 5135 Huntington Ave. #1, Lincoln, NE 68504, (402) 464-9007 or any other club member.

NORTHERN VIRGINIA

AS THE NEW year and a new administration swept into the Nation's Capital, the Northern Virginia Alumni Club underwent a surge of activity. Under the able leadership of Brother Ernie White, growth, organization and enhanced fraternal benefits continued into 1981 at a pace matched only by the new emphasis on American business as the cornerstone of the country's economic policy. The club's active membership list continued to grow to 40 members.

In January, the Brothers and their guests were treated to some personal insight into current affairs in Iran and Afghanistan by a retired Foreign Service officer who had spent a good portion of his service in those countries. At the February dinner meeting, a former U.S. Attorney, who prosecuted a recent major spy case in Northern Virginia, spoke about the case and how, in his words, "it took a spy to catch a spy." In March, the Brothers and guests learned how the Small Business Administration operates through a talk by a representative of the SBA on how to start and finance a small business.

The Northern Virginia Alumni Club is dedicated to providing enhanced professional contacts among its members. The range of professional interests represented continues to grow as new members join the club. More and more Brothers find that they can combine business and pleasure at each meeting. A warm welcome is extended to all Deltasig alumni in the area to become part of a growing and dynamic alumni club.

Future activities include the production of an up-to-date alumni directory, summer social events and more professional speakers at the monthly dinner meetings. We want to hear from all Deltasigs in the area. We think that you will be pleased with our alumni club. Alumni seeking to reestablish their ties with Deltasig should contact Ernie White (703) 683-1921, or Alan Winterhalter (703) 893-2444 for more information.

PHOENIX-THUNDERBIRD

THUNDERBIRD ALUMNI ASSOCIATION in Phoenix, Arizona, proudly announces new officers for 1981: president, Laurie Senko; executive vice president, Rick McPherson; vice president-finance, Jon Davis; vice president-membership, Bob Hamer; vice president-publications, Linda Vawter; secretary, Robert Nall; treasurer, Bill Cooper; legal counsel, Rand MacDonald.

The Association gets to view the city during its meetings on the third Wednesday of each month at the Arizona Club atop the refurbished First National Bank Building. The speaker for February was Jack Curtis of the Phoenix Civic Plaza, and for March was Brother James Watt of Tele-Sentry Security Company, and for April was Arizona Secretary of State Rose Mofford. Several Brothers had a great weekend at "Arizona Deltasig Days" in Flagstaff's snow during February, and we also had good attendance at the Area Conferences in New Mexico and in Colorado, as well as at activities of the Old Pueblo Alumni Club and of the Roadrunner Alumni Club.

We are in the process of computerizing our mailing list to provide an updated directory of members, and for our monthly ARIZONA DETASIGNAL. Brothers in the area are urged to send business cards and residential address information.

The Hoffmann Foundation is soliciting applications for scholarships from qualified undergraduate Brothers in Arizona.

All Brothers are invited to our activities and meetings, and may contact us at P.O. Box 27985 in Tempe, Arizona 85282.

PITTSBURGH

AS THE END of spring draws near, so does the end of the 1980-81 year for the Pittsburgh Alumni Club.

Our final major event of the year was the Annual Awards Dinner. This was held on Friday, April 3, at the Chartiers Country Club. Herb Finney Scholarships were awarded to deserving students from Pittsburgh, Duquesne, and Robert Morris. This was the first time in the history of the Scholarship Fund that three awards were presented.

Members of the Jacksonville Alumni Club and Assistant Executive Director Mike Tillard discuss strategy for recruiting activities at the University of North Florida.

A couple of Brothers were the recipients of surprise awards, also. The Awards Dinner was another successful affair which we hope to establish as a tradition in Pittsburgh.

We will have a meeting in June to elect officers and plan our schedule for the coming year. It is important that we have a good turnout for this meeting. The continued success of the alumni club depends on your active participation.

We are also hoping to have a respectable contingent at the Grand Chapter Congress on Mackinac Island in August. Don McCormick has details on cost, reservations, etc. Contact him at home, 105 Parliament Drive, Coraopolis, Pennsylvania 15108, (412) 562-4272, or 264-1889 at the office.

ST. LOUIS-GATEWAY

THE SAINT LOUIS-GATEWAY Alumni Club has been on the go each month with a fun and exciting activity. The Brothers enjoyed the good old times together in March as we gathered at the Montclair Bowl in Edwardsville, Illinois. Everyone brought their favorite records—some hard rock, some classical and some old rock 'n roll goodies.

The April event brought the Brothers to a well known landmark in St. Louis, the Magic House. Everyone was ec-"static" about the place, especially when they touched the big silver knob—when they did, every strand of hair stood straight out! Snapshots were taken of the Brothers as they touched the knob and buttons were made with the pictures and distributed to each one.

This month we are planning our annual Bar-B-Que and picnic. Pork Steaks and "Arkansas Tube Steaks" will be the order of the day along with something cool to drink.

Next month we are looking forward to a trip to Six Flags. Plan your vacation to end or begin in St. Louis and join us for the day at Six Flags.

—JAMES C. WINSTON

SAN ANGELO

THE ALUMNI CLUB has experienced a growth rate over the past few months that has increased the enthusiasms of each Brother. Over 75 alumni in San Angelo alone have been contacted and informed of the club's function. We have undertaken a professional project to begin this summer. The club membership, using our valued business contacts, will work with the Texas Employment Commission in finding summer employment for high school and college aged youth.

We look forward to our Annual Alumni Golf Tournament to be held this summer. Brothers from across the state will participate in the activities and Brotherhood of this weekend event.

The San Angelo Alumni Club would again like to recognize and welcome the new clubs and chapters across the nation into the Brotherhood of Delta Sigma Pi. Serving our club as officers for 1981 are: Robert Morse, president; David Largent, vice president; Jimmy Reich and Vance Jones, treasurers; and Carl Watson, secretary. We cordially invite all Deltasigs to join with us by contacting any of these Brothers for more information.

SUN CITY-ROADRUNNER

AT THE ROADRUNNERS January 17, 1981, meeting held at Ritter's Chalet, Youngtown, Arizona, the newly elected officers were announced: President, Waldo E. Hardell, 9613 Pineridge Drive, Sun City, AZ 85351, Telephone (602) 955 9025; First Vice President and Program Chairman, Gilbert L. Gifford, 13407 Emberwood Court, Sun City, AZ 85351, Telephone (602) 972 5074; Second Vice President and Telephone Chairman, Orval H. Guenther, 14011 99th Drive, Sun City Az 85351, Telephone (602) 977 2335; Secretary, Leon J. Heidgen, 17428 Jasmine Drive, Sun City, AZ 85351, Telephone (602) 972 1408; and Treasurer, James Nelson, 9508 Rolling Hills, Sun City, AZ 85351, Telephone (602) 977 7454.

The meeting was purely a business gathering to set up the program and policies for this calendar year. Norval Iverson of Alpha Epsilon Chapter was passing through Sun City enroute to California and was introduced as a guest. Also, Alvin F. Schmode was presented as a prospective member.

Our next meeting was scheduled for Saturday, February 14, 1981, as a Valentine Day luncheon to which the ladies were invited. It was held at Palmbrook Country Club, Sun City, Arizona, starting at 11:30 A.M. with a happy hour. The speaker was Mr. James Owen, of Sun City, not a Deltasig, but a nuclear engineer, now retired, whose hobby is astronomy. It promised to be a most interesting meeting. All Deltasigs in the area are most welcome to attend our meetings and are urged to join us.

TAMPA-TAMPA BAY AREA

THE TAMPA BAY area alumni club wrapped up its second year with its busiest spring schedule yet.

In addition to working with both local undergraduate chapters and having our monthly dinner/social meetings, the club hosted a special dinner meeting on April 9, with Jeff Baxter from the Tampa Chamber of Commerce as guest speaker. Mr. Baxter's topic for the night was "The Metropolitan Growth of Tampa," a subject of great interest to his audience.

On April 25, the alumni club hosted its second birthday picnic at Rowlett Park, in Tampa, with special guests, the Epsilon Rho and Theta Phi Undergraduate Chapters, in great attendance. Once again, volleyball and softball flourished—as well as the traditional food, frisbees and football. Happily, no broken bones were reported this year, although several weekend athletes reported bruised egos.

Looking forward to the near future, the club's 1981 installation banquet has been scheduled for June 20 and is eagerly awaited by all members.

Some of the members have already made their plans for August for the Grant Chapter—see you there!

The Tampa Bay Alumni Club invites all interested alumni in the Bay Area to contact General Herrero at (813) 961 5286, or drop us a line at our new mailing address: P.O. Box 24884, Tampa, FL 33623, for information on upcoming events.

TUCSON-OLD PUEBLO

HATS OFF TO Wayne and Heidi Brent and their programs committee for filling the alumni club calendar with interesting events. The new year started off right with the "Mexican Fiesta." Alumni and undergraduates enjoyed gourmet Mexican food at Chuck Farrow's home. The theme of the party was enhanced with Latin music, a pinata breaking event, and the never ending flow of margaritas. Bob Hamer of the Phoenix Thunderbird club was able to join us. The evening's highlight, the Shopping Spree Drawing, was won by Rich Boller. The drawing netted us enough money to meet our commitments to the National Education Foundation and the National Fraternity Archives.

February's wine and cheese tasting party was a smashing success. Members, undergraduates and friends were treated to a variety of white wines and imported cheese. Mr. & Mrs. Bill Wilson of the Phoenix Alumni Club joined us. Attendees indicated a desire for more events of this type.

Several members attended Deltasig Days in Flagstaff. They all looked forward to fun in the snow during the events sponsored by Zeta Omega Chapter!

The final touches are being prepared for the Rose Ball, our annual formal which will be given jointly with the undergraduates. We will present an award to the undergraduate elected Outstanding Senior Member. This will be the first of an annual presentation.

With a start like this, the Tucson Alumni Club is apt to be very active during the coming summer months. If you aren't participating and would like to, please let us know.

A Message From The Undergraduates Of The Year

The semi-annual meeting of the National Executive Committee was held in San Antonio on February 19-21, 1981. As your representatives on the Executive Committee, it is our responsibility to inform you of the proceedings of these important meetings.

The Executive Committee voted to open their meetings to the general membership of the fraternity; however, they reserved the right to close the meetings for disciplinary and personnel discussions. When considering other matters of a sensitive nature, the Executive Committee may vote by a 75% majority to go into closed session. Since this policy went into effect immediately, a number of Brothers attended the final day of our meeting in San Antonio. Anyone wishing to observe the next Executive Committee meeting should plan to arrive at The Grand Chapter Congress on Mackinac Island, Michigan a few days early, as the Executive Committee will meet at The Grand Hotel on August 13th and 14th, 1981.

Another important decision made by the Executive Committee was to revise the Chapter Efficiency Index. Although the maximum number of points attainable is still 100,000, a new division entitled Chapter Management, has been added. Of the six divisions, two are worth 20,000 points each and four are worth 15,000 points each. It is hoped that the new Index will provide the individual chapters with a more effective standard against which each chapter can evaluate the strength of its programs. Since the revised Index will go into effect for the 1981-82 school year, it is important that all of the chapters become familiar with the revisions. During the open forum seminars at the Grand Chapter Congress, the chapters will have the opportunity to discuss the new CEI with members of our Central Office staff and other national officers.

The Executive Committee also approved a Community Service Manual which will be distributed to the chapters in the fall. We hope you'll read the manual in its entirety and refer to it often, as it contains some very helpful guides for planning and conducting campus and community service projects.

The Executive Committee voted to increase undergraduate dues from $24.00 to $30.00 per year, effective July 1, 1981. As we stated in our November article, a loss was projected for this fiscal year. Based on a review of the fraternity's mid-year financial statements, it appears that our original projection will hold true. Based on the continuous increase in the cost of providing services and supplies to the chapters and alumni clubs, the Executive Committee believes that a dues increase is justified at this time. Note that we have not had a dues increase since July 1, 1978.

Will your chapter achieve 100,000 points in the CEI this year? If so, you are eligible for the Most Outstanding Chapter Award. To be considered for the award, your chapter must submit an application to your Regional Director, who in turn will select the regional winner. The national winner will be selected from the regional winners by the Executive Committee and will be announced at the Grand Chapter Congress.

In addition, the Executive Committee has established awards for the Most Improved Chapter and for Community Service. More details on these awards will be forwarded to you from The Central Office. We hope you'll get involved in the competition and submit the necessary applications!

Other topics which received much attention during the meeting included expansion activities, long-range financial planning, disciplinary actions and hazing.

It would be impossible for us to convey in this article all of what was accomplished during our February meeting. We hope these highlights have made you more aware of the activities of the Executive Committee. If you would like a more detailed account of the meeting, you can obtain a copy of the minutes from The Central Office for cost plus postage.

We both look forward to seeing you at the Grand Chapter Congress at Mackinac Island, Michigan in August!—THERESA M. JESZKA, 1979 and MARILYN R. DOSKEY, 1980

THETA IOTA

THE THETA IOTA CHAPTER at the University of Connecticut continued its fine professional program. Richard Bowerman, CEO of Southern Connecticut Gas Company, and Dr. Menton H. Miller, Edward Eagle Brown Professor of Banking and Finance at the University of Chicago, were among the speakers this semester. On the innovative side David Andrews, Business Manager for the National Hockey Hartford Whalers, spoke to the fraternity on the profitability of the hockey team, prior to a game against the Washington Capitals. "We were very pleased to have this presentation because it brought faculty, alumni and undergraduate Brothers together for a professional and social event," said Graeme Brown, Vice President for Professional Activities.

William J. Duffy, social chairperson, and his committee have made this semester's social life very interesting! With such theme parties as, "Come as your Favorite Brother," "Sixties," "New Wave," and everyone's favorite, "Come as your Favorite Dessert," each Brother thoroughly enjoyed him/herself.

At this time we would like to congratulate all our new Brothers from Binghamton! Whether witnessing or participating in the installation ceremony it proved to be a learning experience as well as a great time.

As the end of the school year draws closer, we here at the University of Connecticut would like to wish our university a very happy 100th Birthday and many more. Also, Theta Iota Chapter wishes the best of luck to graduating seniors, and see you in Mackinac!

NEW YORK

ALPHA

THE ALPHA CHAPTER at New York University kicked off the spring semester with the initiation of three new Brothers: Marc "Golden Boy" Blumenthal, Brian "Heine" Oak, and Alan "Veg" Goldenback. One event, planned by super-rusher Jay "Pacino" Goldberg, was overly successful. We hosted a party in our newly refurbished house which drew overwhelming crowds. Toward the end of the party, at about 2:30 A.M., nearly 30 members of rival fraternity Alpha Kappa Psi stormed our house with stilettos. Fortunately, Brothers Mitch "Coppertone" Blumenthal, Mark "Nervous Wreck" Gittelman, Wayne "Retahwej" Moser, Bruce "Cowpasture" Martin, and Michael "Mad Dog" Schiffman, all humongous men, warded off the attack by barraging the overmatched AKPsi's with 7-ounce Coca-Cola bottles.

As mentioned earlier, our house has been refurbished, due to the generous support of our alumni. Aaron Rabin, one of Manhattan's top lawyers, unselfishly gave the undergraduate Brothers a $2000 contribution. We were able to buy 13 new couches, all equipped with Monsanto's new momenayah liquid-resistant covering. Boy, that sure comes in handy after our parties.

All kidding aside, Vice President for Professional Activities Robert "The Greatest of All Times" Feller has been hard at work lining up Alpha Chapter's finest professional speaker series in recent years. Ralph Grepps, an accountant with the firm of Facochtah, Dreck and Grepps, spoke on the subject of debits and credits. We would like to thank Mr. Grepps, nationally, for his kind efforts. In later weeks the Alpha Chapter sponsored such renowned personalities as George Steinbrenner, David Stockman and Frank Sinatra.

We would like to wish all of our Brothers a fruitfully warm summer, and if you're ever in the Big Apple, stop by. We live up to our name!

THETA UPSILON

THE THETA UPSILON CHAPTER of Delta Sigma Pi celebrated its 10th Anniversary in grand style this past semester. A banquet was held in honor of this decade of Brotherhood on April 4. It was an alumni reunion as well, as all the Brothers of Theta Upsilon Chapter, past and present, were invited to the semi-formal feast. This also included the Brothers who were newly initiated just that afternoon.

Earlier in the semester, Theta Upsilon Chapter squared off with Zeta Psi Chapter in a Brotherly volleyball match. There were no winners or losers that night as everyone had a good time. The social side of the spring semester was capped off with the second annual frat picnic. This event was back by popular demand and was held May 9, the last day of finals, at beautiful Thatcher State Park.

The business aspect of this past semester included various speakers from the financial community and the initiation of our new faculty advisor, Miss Premont. Also, money raising events were begun for the Muscular Dystrophy Fund under the supervision of Community Service Chairman Efre Figueredo.

This is the time of year when many congratulations are extended and we, Theta Upsilon Chapter, would like to take this opportunity to do so. First, we would like to congratulate our new Brothers on their accomplishments; next, we would like to congratulate and welcome the Brothers of our new chapter in Binghamton. Also, we would like to thank our new faculty advisor, Miss Marion Premont, for her assistance this past spring. And, as one final note, I would like to thank Delta Sigma Pi for the experiences it has given me. There is no doubt in my mind that the Brotherhood continues long after graduation. I am grateful for this and would like to wish good fortune to all my Brothers, past, present and future.

SUNY-ALBANY

ZETA PSI

ZETA PSI CHAPTER has completed another busy and exciting semester. In keeping with the spirit of professionalism, we sponsored weekly speakers from companies such as General Electric, IBM and Xerox. Our annual professional trip took us to Boston this year. A good time was had by all, and the memories are not soon to be forgotten.

Our Faculty Brother and Undergraduate Brother relationships have continued to grow, due to weekly coffee hours. The first annual combined brunch and business meeting was held in late April to promote closer ties with our Faculty Brothers.

The Brothers of Zeta Psi Chapter have been working hard to organize fund raising activities in anticipation of the Grand Chapter Congress. During Spring Break, we sponsored a trip to Daytona, Florida.

Working closely with our Theta Upsilon Chapter Brothers at Siena College, we've been able to give our support in raising money for the Muscular Dystrophy Association. Once again, we sponsored a Blood Drive in cooperation with the Red Cross and were met by enthusiastic donors.

Our Siena Chapter liaison, Pam Adessa, coordinated many activities with our Brothers at Theta Upsilon Chapter, including an afternoon volleyball game and barbecue. Our waterpolo team has completed another successful season and managed to keep their heads above water. We held our first progressive dinner consisting of cocktails, main course and dessert, with each successive course being served at a different Brother's house. The highlight of our social calendar was an evening of square dancing with a professional caller. We all "do-se-doe" the night away.

Another successful pledge period came to a close with the traditional formal dinner-dance. It was great to see so many alumni attending.

Congratulations to our graduating Brothers. We wish you much success and happiness in the future and hope that you'll visit us often. Your dedication and enthusiasm have been an inspiration to us all.

ALPHA KAPPA

REFLECTING ON A memorable semester, Fall 1980 saw the Brothers of Alpha Kappa Chapter patiently guide 14 pledges into our growing ranks; run the most successful Red Cross Blood Mobile ever on the university campus, collecting over 190 pints of blood in two active days (due to the zealous undertaking by Brother Cheryl Greenfield); and participate in a university-wide Greek letter volleyball tournament.

The Eastern Regional Conference in late October offered us a great opportunity to exchange ideas and experiences with our fellow Brothers. The strong feelings of camaraderie at the conference were renewed at the recent installation of Kappa Lambda Chapter at the State University of New York-Binghamton. We all wish our new Brothers a warm, fraternal welcome, and best of luck in the years to come as Deltasigs.

Alpha Kappa Chapter's spring semester was begun with a professional tour of Fisher Price Toys. We were extremely fortunate to meet and speak with Joanne Jackson, Fisher Price's newly appointed domestic controller. The Career Development Officer from the University of Buffalo's School of Management recently informed our chapter of many of the intricacies of job interviewing, first employment experiences, and how to best prepare ourselves for "Life After School."

With another large pledge class of 13, Brother Keith Stolzenburg will have his "paternal" duties heavily relied upon. We eagerly look forward to initiating all 13 as new Brothers, after which Alpha Kappa Chapter will have more than doubled its membership within this last school year.

Along with our hopes for our Binghamton Brothers, best of luck and sincerest wishes are also extended by the entire chapter for the engagements of Brother Andrey Scungio to Brother Robin Hunter, and Brother Wendy Sandbank to Brother Brian Feldman.

—GARY STEINKOHL

SUFFOLK

DELTA PSI

THE DELTA PSI CHAPTER at Suffolk once again began the semester with an explosive party which helped raise nearly $500. The chapter also had its fifth annual Easter Bunny raffle in April. As usual, the money made was given to the March of Dimes.

With the help of the vice president for professional activities, the chapter has been busy with speakers from E. F. Hutton and Merrill Lynch. Also included in the line-up was a tour of Narragansett Brewery in Rhode Island at which the chapter was honored with a complimentary case of Narragansett beer.

The chapter once again is participating in intramural softball. We are anticipating another undefeated season like last year's.

The Brothers sponsored an Italian Night in which each Brother donated a favorite Italian dish. Invited were the Business School professors, along with the alumni Brothers. A good time was had by all in what was a rejoicing of the professors and students.

To top off the semester, Chapter President Mike Giangregorio won first place in the University's Springfest Talent Show as he sang "Climb Every Mountain" from the movie, The Sound of Music.

DUQUESNE

THETA RHO

THETA RHO CHAPTER at Duquesne University has had another super year. The name of Delta Sigma Pi has made its mark on campus. In the annual University Phon-a-thon, the Brothers raised more money than any group on campus. In another event, the Brothers collected over $2000 in the Duquesne University Dance-a-thon for Muscular Dystrophy. This total was the highest total for the professional division, and was also good enough to claim second place overall.

Professional activities have also been well attended this year. Besides speakers, tours to the Allegheny County Jail, J&L Steel, and the Federal Reserve were sponsored by the chapter. A tour of the Pittsburgh Brewing Company was also planned for the spring term.

The highlight of the year for Theta Rho Chapter was the celebration of our 10th Anniversary. Regional Director Lee Myers and our District Director George Matta were in attendance as were Brothers from Lambda and Iota Tau Chapters.

MU

DURING LAST SCHOOL year the Executive Committee of Mu Chapter at Georgetown University organized a "Retreat Weekend" in the Blue Ridge Mountains, during which information concerning chapter policies and activities could be shared with the newly elected officers. Although the rain dampened the ground of the cabin, it did not affect the spirit of any of the Brothers, for the three workshops on Motivation, Leadership and The Necessity of Long Range Planning and Goal Setting, went off without a hitch.

Ex-President Peter Badala and Assistant Josephine Ramondi preplanned each workshop so as to obtain maximum participation by those newly elected, while allowing the incoming administration a chance to generate some ideas and thoughts for the upcoming year. Regional Director C. Lee Myers shared in the partying festivities Saturday night, none of which had to be learned by any of the Brothers.

Members of Zeta Omicron Chapter at C. W. Post on a professional tour of the Brotherhood Winery.

The transition between the administrations went much smoother than the transition between Friday night's partying and Saturday morning's workshops. This year another "Retreat Weekend" has been scheduled for the same purpose. Hopefully, with the combined efforts of officers and Brothers alike, this transition will run just as smoothly and, maybe, the sun will even shine.

Spring semester 1981 is fast becoming one of the most active semesters for Mu Chapter at Georgetown University. In January, our chapter, as well as various other chapters in the region, participated in a Regional Weekend. The weekend consisted of seminars and a brunch at the Georgetown campus, followed by a basketball tournament, a banquet, and a dance at Maryland University. Our chapter learned a great deal from these experiences, not the least of which is how to lose gracefully in basketball!!

In early February, Mu Chapter co-sponsored Business Week '81, an annual event at Georgetown which has become an integral part of the Business School. Various professional businessmen from different fields came to Georgetown to deliver speeches, attend seminars, and generally share with the students and faculty their experiences, and how they came to rise to the top of the corporate ladder. The week was nothing short of a success, and it brought much praise and prestige to the professionalism of Delta Sigma Pi on the Georgetown campus.

On the social side, praises were also abundant in regard to the Delta Sigma Pi Valentine Day Semi-Formal. Featuring continuous music, flowers for your date, and an open bar consisting of free kisses and hugs, the event proved to be an enjoyable evening for all.

Our Pledge Program was very successful, and all Brothers were treated to a pledge breakfast in early March. Initiation took place later in the month. With 15 new Brothers, Mu Chapter is on the way to a successful 1981-82 year.

HOWARD

IOTA RHO

THE IOTA RHO CHAPTER of Delta Sigma Pi celebrates its first anniversary on March 8, 1981. This memorable event marks the culmination of an active year beginning with our first pledge program in the fall of 1980.

The chapter initiated 22 pledges after a rigorous interview of 40 people as prospective members, followed by a highly structured pledge period. There were numerous activities to keep the pledges busy. Some of the activities included tutoring elementary school children at the Kingsman Boys Home in Washington, DC; participating in Careers Day, an annual event to host recruiters at Howard University; and organizing a students' speaker forum on various business interests, as well as maintaining high academic status and constant interaction with Big Brothers.

Upon initiation, the neophytes blended into the mainstream of the organization. The events that Iota Rho Chapter sponsored in January were highlighted by our visit to Georgetown for a seminar on motivation, followed by the regional basketball tournament held at the University of Maryland. Triumphantly, Iota Rho Chapter finished the tournament by defeating Robert Morris, Pennsylvania State, and the University of Maryland for the championship. The day ended with a banquet at the University of Maryland.

Bearing in mind the importance of "... association of students for their mutual advancement by research and practice ...," Iota Rho Chapter organized a retreat to the Prince William Forest Park in Virginia on February 28, 1981. Our major activities included sensitivity sessions, brain storm sessions on fund raising, discussions on the state of the chapter, and some "good ole fashioned" fun. We found the retreat rewarding in terms of closeness, uniformity of purpose, and a profound sense of fraternalism.

The next major project of the chapter will be the successful orchestration of Iota Rho Week. This will entail various professionals to conduct seminars and discussions concerning a positive self-image, etiquette in the commercial world, and a tour of the Federal Reserve. A fashion show will end the week of activities, highlighting business attire for the aspiring professionals and discussing the marketing functions of the clothing industry.

JOHNS HOPKINS

CHI

CHI CHAPTER AT The Johns Hopkins University was pleased to be of assistance in the planning and coordination of the first annual H. Melvin Brown Lecture. Brother Mel Brown, alumnus of our chapter, made the lecture series possible when he established a fund in his name in Administrative and Business Sciences with the evening college. Under the direction of Dr. Peter B. Petersen a diverse committee was set up to study and implement the lecture series. The committee consisted of Hopkins staff members, Brothers of Chi Chapter, Baltimore Alumni Club members, and representatives from T. Rowe Price Associates, Inc.

The first lecture took place as scheduled in Shriver Hall on Monday evening, February 2, 1981. The speaker was Congressman Barber B. Conable, Jr., the senior Republican member of the House Ways and Means Committee. He spoke on the environment for tax reform in the 97th Congress and just how the body would react to the proposals of the new Reagan administration.

The talk by Congressman Conable was a huge success and as a result another lecture is in the planning stage to take place during the fall semester.

The Brothers of Chi Chapter are pleased to welcome aboard Ms. Marilyn J. Weaver from the fall pledge class. Marilyn, currently a senior in the Accounting program at Hopkins, has already been involved with the chapter's special service projects.

Just a reminder—The June Dinner Dance and the Annual Crab Feast are fast approaching. Check with Chi Chapter or the Boston Alumni Club officers for details. Hope to see you there.

ALPHA GAMMA

ALPHA GAMMA CHAPTER began the new year by setting up a Business Roundtable, an innovative program initiated by our chapter president. The program consists of regular meetings involving the presidents of each College of Business organization in order to discuss and coordinate various programs that affect each of these clubs and fraternities. The meetings facilitate communication between these inter-related organizations and promote a smoother functioning College of Business Administration.

At the same time, Alpha Gamma Chapter was actively involved with our local Jaycees in a project to teach eight to 14-year olds proper gun-handling, safety and shooting.

Early in March, our chapter sponsored an overnight trip to New York City in order to bring students of commerce into the more practical environment of the business world.

Alpha Gamma Chapter's proudest accomplishment so far this year was the coordination of the First Annual Business Week which was held April 27-May 1. Each day of the week was earmarked to give particular attention to a specific career within the College of Business. Professional speakers from many diverse career backgrounds were present to inform students, faculty and local merchants of the more practical changes and current events taking place in today's business world.

Strengthening our alumni relations, our chapter held its annual Spring Rose Dance in which are invited all alumni and undergraduate Brothers to a homecoming formal ball.

Finally, wrapping up an active 1980-81 school year, our chapter will be electing new officers for next year in order to maintain Delta Sigma Pi's ongoing purpose of promoting the business world.

PHILADELPHIA TEXTILES

ETA XI

THE ETA XI CHAPTER, of Delta Sigma Pi, at the Philadelphia College of Textiles and Science, began the spring 1981 semester with the hopes of boosting our campus image. The pledge class which was initiated in the fall 1980 has contributed a great deal to the reorganization of our chapter.

Last semester we held our annual Rose Banquet, which was a big hit—so much so that we are currently making plans for next year's. We are in the process of trying to reactivate the Deltasigs in the Philadelphia and surrounding areas. Our professional committee sponsored a number of activities, ranging from a trip to U.S. Steel in early March, to a Business Fashion Show Luncheon to kick off Spring Weekend. Our list of guest speakers seems to increase steadily.

Finally, the Brothers of Eta Xi Chapter would like to congratulate our Undergraduate of the Year, Lisa Krallis.

Special thanks go to our president, Patti McKenna, for her unending enthusiasm and ambition, and to Carol Perloff, senior vice president; Jim Peditto, vice president for pledge education; Janet Fisher, chancellor; Benita Jackson, treasurer; Lisa Krallis, secretary; Susan Campbell, CEI chairperson; and Faith Lawhorn, historian.

PITTSBURGH

LAMBDA

LAMBDA CHAPTER AT the University of Pittsburgh is bringing another successful academic school year to a close. As the 1980-81 school year climaxes, many Brothers are preparing for their future terms, while many are preparing for their future life after graduation.

Stuffing folders for the Graduate School of Business at the University of Pittsburgh was a winter service project selected by the Brothers. A large number of members turned out to work and afterwards were treated to lunch at Frankie Gustine's Restaurant and Bar in Oakland.

Lambda Chapter's winter term smoker was held in March at the Greentree Marriott Inn. A large group of new pledges was welcomed with an evening of fun and fellowship. The smoker proved to be both educational and enjoyable for members, alumni, prospective pledges, and faculty advisors. This social event led the way to the successful initiation of a large group of new pledges in April.

The final plans for the Spring Banquet to be held at Pittsburgh's Top of the Triangle Restaurant on the 22nd floor of the U.S. Steel Building are underway. This event is the finale of the school year. The banquet gives members, alumni, and faculty advisors, along with their escorts, an opportunity to mingle and enjoy a pleasant evening with good food and music. The Spring Banquet celebrates the chapter's birthday. The banquet is highlighted with the presentation of awards to the outstanding University Business Instructor of the year, the Scholarship Key to the deserving graduating senior, and the alumni of the year, as well as the pledge of the year. The newly elected officers for the coming year will also be introduced at the banquet.

The best of luck to the graduating Brothers of Lambda Chapter and a special thanks for their dedication and contributions in making Lambda Chapter an outstanding one. Also, the Brothers of Lambda Chapter would like to congratulate all graduating seniors and wish them the best of luck with their careers in the business world.

BETA XI

BETA XI CHAPTER at Rider College is having one of its most successful semesters. The chapter increased in size by 35 per cent last semester and is now more active than ever, with a large pledge class after our successful rush functions. Vice President for Pledge Education Tony Monticchio planned a very good program with new and innovative ideas.

Vice President for Professional Activities "Spoons" Klepner had a good selection of speakers, our most recent being from the Personnel Department of Deloitte, Haskins, and Sells, one of the Big Eight accounting firms. We also planned a field trip to the New York Stock Exchange.

Fund Raising Chairperson Dana Raines is now in the process of running a hoagie sale. The Brothers enjoy selling them and we make a large profit.

Our chapter and the Trenton Alumni Association are in the planning stages for a weekend camping trip which includes a 15 mile rafting trip.

To finish things up the Brothers of Beta Xi Chapter would like to thank Brother Willard Moore for planning a fantastic ski trip in January: we had an excellent time!

IOTA TAU

IOTA TAU CHAPTER is proud to recognize five Brothers for being nominated to Who's Who Among American Colleges and Universities. Selected were Dave Brzozowski, Cyndi Dickey, Steve Ferber, Anthony Suber, and Barbara DiYanni. Congratulations on your outstanding achievements!

We would also like to take this opportunity to congratulate Linda Seifert, recipient of the Herbert Finney Scholarship Award presented by the Pittsburgh Alumni Club.

As far as professional activities are concerned, Iota Tau Chapter has been kept very busy the past few months. We have had speakers concerning devices for personal protection, speakers from Pittsburgh National Bank explaining various accounts, and presentations by employees of the Better Business Bureau. In addition, Iota Tau Chapter sponsored an "Awareness Afternoon" for RMC faculty and administration. The purpose of this function was to demonstrate and explain to the administration the goals and objectives of our fraternity.

In February, the Brothers visited the newly opened Pittsburgh Convention Center and attended a Penguin hockey game which followed a talk concerning business procedures at the Civic Arena.

The end of this month we will host "Business Week at RMC," and in April the fraternity planned a tour of the D. T. Watson Home in Sewickley and a tour of the Iron City Brewery in Pittsburgh.

On February 28, 14 new Brothers were formally initiated into Iota Tau Chapter bringing our total undergraduate membership to 54. Following the induction ceremony everyone enjoyed a party of congratulations given by the Brothers to welcome our new members. At the party each inductee was given a Delta Sigma Pi jersey with his/her name. And in keeping with tradition, the pledge class presented the fraternity with a project—this semester a shadow box. The construction of a pledge project is a requirement of each pledge class. The Brothers feel that requiring the pledges to work together will develop closer friendships and a stronger Brotherhood.

As a close for the busy year, Iota Tau Chapter planned its annual Delta Sigma Pi formal. In April the Brothers gathered at a local hall to enjoy dinner, dancing, and award presentations. The day following the dance we had a picnic to conclude a great weekend and a great year.

SHEPHERD

EPSILON KAPPA

EPSILON KAPPA CHAPTER at Shepherd College has just completed a very successful semester. This year we have become a bigger part of the campus than before.

Our professional program was off to a good start, thanks to Jody Mayes. We started with a short distance tour to Washington, DC, where we toured the FBI and The National Bureau of Printing and Engraving (directed by employee Brother Tom Sheeley). A speaker from the Swiss Embassy gave us a talk on international banking. In mid-semester two representatives from Ferris & Company gave us useful information on stock market investment. In early April Alumnus Brother Mark Rothman let us know what it is like owning your own business. Finishing out the busy year we went to Martinsburg to see the Air National Guard Base and how it is operated. Special thanks to Tom Miller for this last tour.

Registration for classes on campus was different this semester as the Brothers helped the new freshmen with class scheduling difficulties, such as classes being full, and giving possible alternatives.

This season we welcomed eight new Brothers with a spring banquet in their honor. The new Brothers worked hard on their fund raisers with activities such as a beer chugging contest.

On the social aspect, we celebrated our 20th Anniversary on campus with a 20 kegger for the college.

The Brothers will meet this summer for our annual summer meeting and picnic. There we will have a softball game between the undergraduates and the alumni.

The chapter would like to congratulate all graduating seniors and wish them success in the future.

We will see everyone on Mackinac.

IOTA KAPPA

BROTHERS OF THE Iota Kappa Chapter have put to good use the classroom training that suggests that business enterprises are more likely to survive if they anticipate their environment and plan accordingly. Heeding such strategy has caused Iota Kappa Chapter to be able to adapt to both a changing external environment and changing internal constraints, by continuing steadfast in some time-tested traditions, and fearlessly shedding others.

One shining example of such foresight is our newly revamped pledge program. Much credit is owed to Vice President for Pledge Education Melanie Harp, who has strengthened unity between Brothers and Pledges in her concern for the Brother-to-be. Our new Brothers are living testimony that what is best for the future can also bring immediate benefits.

Brother James Huber, vice president for professional activities, has been a whirlwind of activity, setting up tours of Breckinridge Sound, Dupont, Alexander and Alexander, and the Federal Reserve. Contrasting with our relatively sheltered school life, these real-world glimpses both beckon to graduating seniors, and enlighten and guide undergraduates.

Fund Raising Committee Chairman Lori Tobin has also done an admirable job, organizing fund raisers around the schedules of 34 busy Brothers. Her tireless efforts kept the Brothers active enough to earn money for our smashing Spring Banquet, which was held at the Spotswood Inn. A good time was had by alumni, old Brothers, and our new initiates alike.

The Iota Kappa Chapter's semi-annual Farm Party also proved again to be a successful time for Brothers and Pledges to interact socially. Beer drinking, hot dog roasting and volleyball helped fill in the time until the Brothers could meet and conquer the Pledges on the football field.

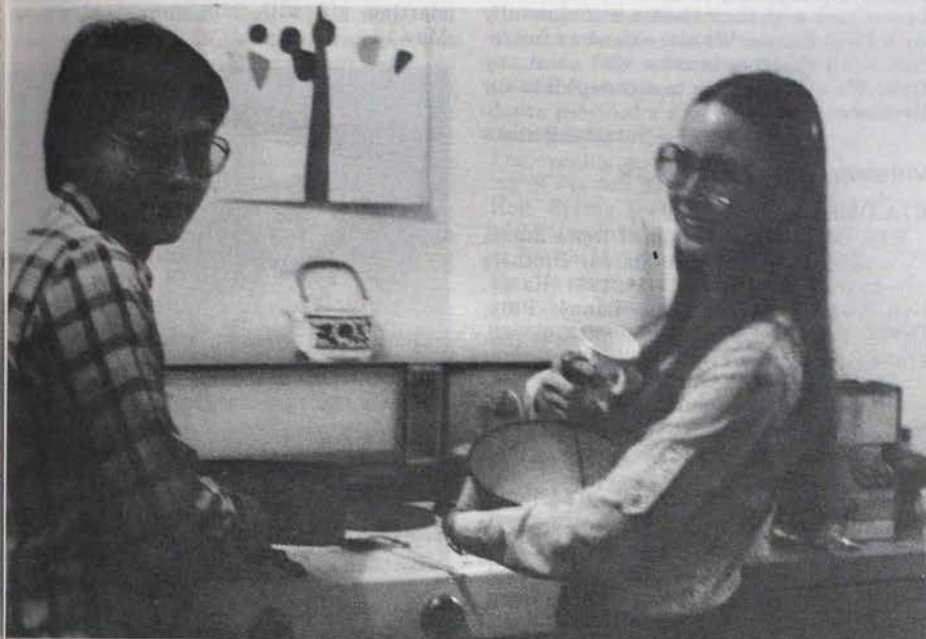

This semester has seen much growth for the Iota Kappa Chapter. Additional professional insight has been achieved, and there exists an increased awareness of that ever so important principle of submitting the will of one for the betterment of all.

ALPHA LAMBDA

ALPHA LAMBDA CHAPTER spent the spring semester conducting numerous activities to acquaint the Brothers with the 40 new pledges, and to further our business knowledge with professional speakers. At the end of January we were honored by the presence of Grand President Mike Mallonee at one of our parties. He was visiting the area to help install a new chapter at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro and attended their ceremony with six Brothers from our chapter. To begin February and the pledge period, the Brothers and the pledges met at a local hangout for Happy Hour. Later the next week there was a semi-formal pledging ceremony followed by dinner at a local restaurarant. During the rest of the month we entertained Dr. Jack Behrman, the former Under Secretary of the Commerce Department, who spoke on the topic of International Bribery. In March, we had another speaker, Mr. Mel Rashkis, a prominent North Carolina Realtor, who talked about the contrast in working lifestyles, comparing the benefits of the sole proprietorship against those of a corporation. The rest of March consisted of an ice skating party, our annual beach trip and another speaker, Barry Weinstein, who talked about crime in the Bronx. April was capped off by initiation, at which time we welcomed 40 new Brothers into the chapter, and said goodbye to a number of old ones.

IOTA OMEGA

IOTA OMEGA CHAPTER has been quite busy since our charter installation in February. A recruiting booth in the School of Business and Economics and three rush smokers contributed to our pinning 22 new pledges. These pledges were initiated into the Brotherhood on April 4. We now have a total of 70 members dedicated to building a tradition of responsible leadership for our chapter.

Our Vice President for Professional Activities Kay Smith has done a terrific job organizing enlightening speakers and tours. Our activities included visiting Dillard Paper Company and the White Oak plant of Cone Mills. The Executive Vice President of the Aviation Division of Piedmont Airlines spoke to us on the importance of the free enterprise system. Members also served as pages for the university-sponsored appearance of Arthur Burns.

Group fund raising projects included a popcorn concession at Spring Fling, selling donuts in the dormitories and sponsoring several car washes.

Social Chairman Karen Huffstetler did a tremendous job planning exciting activities which everyone seemed to enjoy. Beer blasts and a roller skating party allowed us to escape the doldrums of school life. We also hosted a covered dish dinner for our faculty members and their families. Yet to come is our much awaited trip to Myrtle Beach scheduled for mid-May.

The chapter would like to take this opportunity to thank all our Brother chapters for their letters of congratulations on our installation into Delta Sigma Pi. Your warm response inspires us to work diligently to uphold the standards of our Brotherhood.

SOUTH CAROLINA

BETA GAMMA

BETA GAMMA CHAPTER at the University of South Carolina leaped into the spring semester. We have finally recuperated from counting the 1980 national, state, and city election votes for South Carolina and the Christmas party with the Columbia Alumni Club.

Spring rush has attracted 14 potential Brothers who will be an asset to the fraternity in the future. Our spring officers are: Anthony Thomas, president; Charles Wullner, senior vice president; Sheila Silver, vice president for pledge education; Chuck Eaton, vice president for professional activities; Rhonda Tillotson, secretary; Andrew Tolleson, treasurer; Angela Broughton, CEI chairman; and Kevin Hart, chancellor.

Spring activities will include professional speakers, co-recreational softball, professional tours, the Rose Dance, fund raising, Bozo Dunk Day, and more parties with our active Columbia Alumni Club. Your Beta Gamma Chapter Brothers also support our Carolina basketball team since we presently have the leading scorer in the nation within our midst.

Beta Gamma Chapter wishes everyone the best of luck with their classes, and especially with Final Exams. We also extend an invitation to all chapters to come visit us at any time. We will be happy to accommodate our Brothers.

VIRGINIA COMMONWEALTH

ETA OMEGA

ETA OMEGA CHAPTER of Delta Sigma Pi would like to congratulate our Brothers who have graduated as of May, 1981: Kathy, Ken, Lise, Richard, Cathy, Danny, Billy, David, Tom, and Barbie. We want to congratulate Dan and Teresa Shardein on their wedding of January 17, 1981.

Eta Omega Chapter initiated 14 new members and held a banquet in their honor on November 8. Their pledge party was on Halloween so all Brothers came in costume.

Our big fund raiser last fall was a "Who Shot JR?" party held in VCU's old gym. The Heights of Grass provided bluegrass for all the guests dressed in Western gear. We even served JR Beer and the whole evening was a great success.

Our theme party this semester was a beach party, the "Waikiki Wipeout." The Brothers promoted this party even more heavily than the "JR" party and the effort was rewarded. We filled the gym with hundreds of students anxiously awaiting Spring Break. We dressed in beach wear, gave out leis, and beach music by "Casper" completed the atmosphere. Not only was the party financially successful, but everyone had a great time.

On March 28, 1981, we gained six new Brothers. Eta Omega Chapter is proud of both pledge classes initiated this year and their contributions to the fraternity.

We have had various professional activities this semester, including tours and speakers. We toured the Federal Reserve Building, the William Byrd Press, and Phillip Morris. Speakers included a stockbroker from Paine Weber, a marketer from VCU's athletic department, and Richmond Newspaper staff-persons.

Eta Omega Chapter has had a fine year at VCU. We look forward to summer activities starting off with our annual picnic on May 10.

Connie Zangus from Iota Tau Chapter at Robert Morris was named "Snowball" Queen at Robert Morris College and was escorted by Richard Lunn. This is the third straight year that a chapter member has won this title.

While in Williamsburg, Virginia, members of Epsilon Kappa Chapter at Shepherd toured Vepco Electric.

The Brothers especially want to congratulate Virginia Commonwealth's basketball team on their performance this year. For the second straight year, the Rams are Number 1 in the Sunbelt Conference!!

VIRGINIA TECH

ZETA UPSILON

THE ZETA UPSILON CHAPTER at Virginia Tech has had a fantastic winter quarter and looked forward to another successful spring quarter. The quarter began with a tremendous rush, organized by our Executive Vice President Eddy Day, which attracted nearly 30 rushees. Of these 30, seven pledges were carefully selected to make up a very organized pledge class, under the supervision of Vice President for Pledge Education Ann Hellmann. A combination Hawaiian-nut and bolt theme was chosen for the pledge party which boasted an impressive turnout, including the attendance of several visiting Brothers from James Madison University. As always, the party was a great success and was enjoyed by all.

Paul Kaiser, our professional vice president, scheduled several very beneficial professional events this quarter. The fraternity ventured on two tours, one to a lighting manufacturer and the other to a gasket manufacturer. We had some interesting events to look forward to this spring, including a speaker on "How To Begin Your Own Business," and a tour of the Miller Brewery in North Carolina. Who said that you shouldn't mix business with pleasure?

An effort has been made to increase faculty participation within our chapter. In addition to the establishment of a faculty search committee, a "Get Acquainted" party was held at Dr. Moore's house on January 10, 1981. The purpose of the party was to reacquaint the faculty and undergraduate Brothers and to introduce other faculty to our Brotherhood. The party was attended by the majority of our faculty Brothers, including Dean Mitchell, the undergraduate Brothers, and several invited faculty members. The "Get Acquainted" party was such a success that another one was planned for the spring.

As part of our busy calendar, nine of our Brothers traveled to Tennessee for the South Central Regional Conference. Our enthusiastic attendance won us the attendance award, which is proudly displayed at our house. Our Brothers appreciated the opportunity to meet the Brothers from other chapters and hope that all benefited from the conference as much as we did. Also, on January 3, many of the Brothers took a road trip to Atlanta, Georgia, to see the Peach Bowl. Instead of a Winter Banquet this year, we sponsored a Rose Dance on March 7. The dinner-dance provided a great time for the faculty, undergraduates, and alumni that attended. The evening was highlighted by the crowning of the new Rose by the last Rose, Debbie Holt. Spring Quarter wouldn't be complete without mention of our annual Spring Blast at Smith Mountain Lake. That weekend in May is comprised of an alumni vs. undergraduate basketball game, water skiing, dancing, swimming, and general craziness.

This past year has been one of our best years, and we all are looking forward to another successful year. To all the Brothers of Delta Sigma Pi, have a great summer!

WINSTON-SALEM STATE

IOTA XI

IOTA XI CHAPTER at Winston-Salem State University has celebrated another great semester. Our officers are the best in the business. Vice President for Professional Activities Sandra F. Dunn had comprised a stunning professional activity calendar. Professional meetings carried the theme "How to Prepare for Life in the Business World." The topics of motivation, advertising, investing, and income tax were selected to help

Iota Xi Chapter keep abreast of constant changes and the fast pace of the business world. Our speakers were Mr. Robert E. Mooreman, Consultant/Counselor; Heida Smith, Senior Executive of Accolade, Inc.; Sam Wauford, Wheat First Securities; and Harvey Nicholson, H&R Block District Manager. Our field trips gave chapter members the opportunity to interact with the business world. We visited the Western Electric Plant and the Piedmont Publishing Co., Inc.

A special service project we participated in was the Red Cross Blood Bank. The experience was invaluable. Iota Xi Chapter members gave blood, helped in the registration of blood donors, and helped people to tables for fluids and nourishment after they had donated blood. Many members overcame their fears about blood and gave at late sessions.

Many of our members have received academic honors, Who's Who recognition, and other awards to make us stand out among the crowd. Our new members are a worthy crew. Seniors feel good about leaving our chapter in their hands. This is a salute to the seniors who go forth into the business world or to graduate school. Please join us to say "Best Wishes" and remember "He profits most who serves best."

COLUMBUS

THETA MU

THETA MU CHAPTER—who are they, you say? Well, just ask anyone on the Columbus College campus. As the year began, many students did indeed wonder who the Deltasigs were. The Brothers of the Theta Mu Chapter have worked hard, especially this last quarter, to dispel rumors that we didn't exist.

This quarter instead of our usual campus-wide recruitment program, we chose a program based on individual recruitment. We found this method to be successful as we recruited and initiated six excellent pledges, Bob Thomas, Ned Weathers, Scott Taccati, Carol Faulkner, David Coburn, and Tricia Wright.

We had a strong professional program this quarter. We began with a luncheon featuring Mr. Rick Woodham of the W. C. Bradley Company. We were pleased to announce that we had 40 people in attendance. The Brothers of Deltasig were also proud to present the Mayor of Columbus, Mayor Harry Jackson. Mayor Jackson spoke on growth and opportunity developments in Columbus, providing many of us with valuable insights on the job market in Columbus. The highlight of the quarter was a tour of the American Family Life Assurance Corporation, an international corporation founded in Columbus.

This quarter, the Brothers decided to honor those people who baked cookies for us even when they didn't feel good, who stayed up waiting for us when we went out on our first date, who suffered through the trials of the generation gap, and who loved us in spite of everything . . . our parents. We held a formal tea in their honor.

We'd like to say goodbye, good luck, and Godspeed to all of our graduating Brothers. We'll miss you.

GAMMA LAMBDA

THE GAMMA LAMBDA CHAPTER was full of fire after the return from our Regional Conference last fall quarter. The fire burned even greater when we returned from the Christmas break.

The quarter started off with the initiation ceremony that was postponed from fall quarter because of the many activities and schedule conflicts. The new Brothers, Matthew Allen, Ricardo Castillo, Myra Counts, Darlette Hall, Karen Lowery, Vivian Perez, Rick Rhoades, Pamela Tarpley, Janet Thompson, and Gerald Ullmann, were all put right into action. As pledges they attended the Regional Conference and returned with new ideas and high spirits.

The loss of several Brothers due to graduation enabled some of the new Brothers to be elected as officers for the next year. The present officers, President William Law; Senior Vice President John Turgeon; Vice President for Pledge Education Curtis Hawkins; Vice President for Professional Activities Jeff Durkee; Secretary Stacey Chen; Treasurer Mike Medina; Chapter Efficiency Index Chairman Henry Walker; Historian Michael Edwards; and Chapter Advisor Howard Abel were of great help in the officer transition period. With the brain-storming ideas that resulted from the Regional Conference, the officers made a transitional plan that really helped a great deal and will continue to be developed. The elected officers were groomed very well for their respective offices which will ascertain that the chapter will continue to keep the ball rolling.

The elected officers, President Michael C. Edwards; Senior Vice President Gerald Ullmann; Vice President for Pledge Education Vivian Perez; Vice President for Professional Activities John Simmons; Secretary Pamela Tarpley; Treasurer Rick Rhoades; Chapter Efficiency Index Chairman Bud Adams; and Historian Karen Lowery are all eager to execute their ideas and duties. They were installed the last meeting of this winter quarter.

Our professional activities program, directed by Brother Durkee, kept the Brothers well informed on many different aspects of the business world by presenting a guest speaker nearly every week for the past three quarters. The speakers not only appealed to the Brothers, but also to other School of Business students as well.

The vice president for pledge education, Brother Hawkins, guided the winter quarter pledges, Thomas Anderson, Victor Cooper, Lynn Futch, Jim Pennington, Doug Pickett, and Randy Tubbs, quite well with his technique. The pledges are as usual fantastic individuals and even more astounding when working together. "Few numbers, but high in quality" depicts the pledge class very well.

Florida State University will convert from the quarter system to the semester system as of August of 1981 and Gamma Lambda Chapter is getting ready. Brother Earl Solomon, Dean of the School of Business, as a guest speaker really enlightened the Brothers on the plans of the conversion and advice to help prepare us.

The "Lost Brother Drive" this quarter is in action and will continue to be every quarter. To aid us, we ask that all alumni of the Gamma Lambda Chapter submit a postcard or letter with a current address to: Delta Sigma Pi, Florida State University, School of Business, Tallahassee, Florida 32306. Also, if a Brother knows the address of another Brother that he thinks may be a "Lost Brother," please send it in.

To all of the new chapters and newly reactivated chapters, the Gamma Lambda Chapter Brothers extend a warm welcome. The Brothers of this chapter look forward to a new and rewarding quarter and wish all Brothers the best of luck for the rest of the year.

EPSILON CHI

THE BROTHERS OF Epsilon Chi Chapter sponsored the Professional Business Leader of the Year Award this quarter. This award is given to the outstanding business person in the Statesboro-Bulloch County area and presentation is made at a special banquet held in their honor.

Other activities sponsored this year included our Second Annual Road Rally, several car washes and an on-campus movie. We also held our annual Rose Dance at the Holiday Inn of Jekyll Island, Georgia. Many Brothers and alumni attended and enjoyed the festive affair.

Our spring initiation banquet was held at Williams Center on the GSC campus. Parents of the Brothers and members of our newly formed alumni club attended and everyone had a good time.

CONGRATULATIONS AND JOVIAL back-slapping were in order Saturday night, March 14, as Kappa Chapter celebrated its 60th Birthday. The festivities began around 7:00 P.M. at Nantucket's Tavern with cocktails, followed by a delicious dinner and much reminiscing of years gone by on the part of older Kappa Chapter Brothers. In attendance, along with current members of the chapter, were several alumni members, as well as Deltasigs from the Atlanta Alumni Club who are members of various chapters throughout the country.

Following the meal, Brothers and their guests were addressed by two distinguished members of the Georgia State University faculty, Dr. Donald Jewell and Dr. Sandra Beldt. Dr. Jewell is a professor of Management. Dr. Beldt, a professor of Quantitative Methods, is a Kappa Chapter Brother.

Kappa Chapter sends its regards to all Deltasigs and wishes for them the varied and rewarding experiences it has experienced in its 60 proud years as a chapter of Delta Sigma Pi.

THETA KAPPA

AS THE CLOSE of the 1980-81 school year approaches, it is a good time to stop and reflect back on what has been accomplished in the past year. Theta Kappa Chapter has had an excellent year, due to the efforts and hard work of all the Brothers. Recruiting efforts paid off with the largest membership in Theta Kappa Chapter history. The final total was 48, including 13 new Brothers from the spring pledge class. Even this large number did not prevent a special fellowship from being attained which will last far into the future.

Along with experiencing the Brotherhood of Deltasigs, Theta Kappa Chapter was also able to enjoy many professional and social activities during the year. Speakers were obtained for professional meetings and tours arranged with local banks and businesses. But the event enjoyed most by the Brothers was the annual Spring Banquet, held this year at a newly-opened downtown hotel restaurant. Most of the Brothers attended with many alumni also returning for the festivities.

The chapter also held various fund raising activities, both on and off campus, this year. Along with selling folders, raffles were held which proved to be a huge success. The profit from these ventures allowed us to put money into a fund for the trip to the Grand Chapter Congress in August.

The success of any chapter is not achieved through the work efforts of a few, but depends upon the contributions of each and every Brother. Through the efforts of all the Brothers, Theta Kappa Chapter has had a very rewarding year. And so, as we pause and reflect back on the past year, it is with pride we say, "we are indeed Brothers of Delta Sigma Pi."

EPSILON XI

EPSILON XI CHAPTER has recently elected new officers to carry on the tradition of being one of the top chapters in the nation. Congratulations to these new officers.

A pledge class of 14 was initiated into the fraternity at the end of winter quarter. Congratulations to Kathy Boulis for being elected most outstanding pledge.

The highlight of winter quarter was the annual Winter Banquet, this year held at the Holiday Inn North in Indianapolis. Pledges and members sang "The Rose," goofy awards were presented, and the outstanding member award was presented to Ruth Schlundt. Thank you to Jeff Philippi and Don Stump for being guest speakers, and a special thanks to Pam McKinley for planning a great banquet.

We have also been busy with many professional and civic functions. We have taken tours at Marsh Warehouse, Hewlett Packard, and a trip to The Central Office. We have also had many interesting speakers. We went Christmas caroling in December and visited the children at Ball Memorial Hospital in February.

Many of the Brothers attended a reactivation in Dayton where they supported Epsilon Xi Chapter's historian, who took part in the Ritual. Thanks for all your support.

Epsilon Xi Chapter would like to wish all Brothers and alumni a great summer. Congratulations to all graduating seniors, and good luck in the business world. Please don't forget about us undergraduates and come back and see us sometime. We are also looking forward to the Grand Chapter Congress this summer.

BOWLING GREEN STATE

THETA PI

THETA PI CHAPTER at Bowling Green State University held the election for new officers on March 1. The old officers did a fine job and it is hoped that the new officers can maintain the fine reputation we have built up over the years.

Deltasigs from Eta Omega Chapter at Virginia Commonwealth enjoy one of their social events.

There has been a change in the structure of our Vice President for Professional Activities office. It has been broken down into two offices, the first being Vice President for Internal Professional Activities. The main duty of this office is to take care of setting up various speakers for our meetings. Richard Mid-daugh, a representative of the state tax department, was one of our scheduled speakers.

The second area of professional activities is the Vice President for Special Professional Activities. The main duties include setting up tours and any other outside professional activity. Some of the tentative plans for this quarter were trips to Bendix and B. F. Goodrich. With the separation in the professional activities, more time can be devoted to each individual area.

Our big social event for the quarter is the annual softball game which will be held near the end of May. The teams will be comprised of members from Theta Pi Chapter. Afterwards there will be a party for all. This quarter also means the last for some of the Deltasig members. GOOD LUCK to all the graduating seniors.

CINCINNATI

ALPHA THETA

ALPHA THETA CHAPTER has again managed to survive another hectic quarter! By the end of March, with many vigorous Rush and Pledge activities behind us, we initiated 23 new members into our ranks. They were all super candidates for membership and we're very pleased to have them aboard!

Our professional activities calendar gave way to many fine speakers. Of particular interest was the speech given by Mrs. Marvin Goddard, a Procter and Gamble employee, who spoke on the International Toastmistress Club which she joined a few years ago with personal comments on Toastmaster Clubs. The purpose of the organization is to become more proficient in speaking to large audiences. As a member, a person is often called upon to make short speeches for a few minutes at a time. After awhile, the person improves with practice until any fears of speaking to audiences are alleviated. She highly recommended this organization for any person intending to lead a professional career.

Alpha Theta Chapter's community service project for this spring quarter required that our members "man the telephones" for "The 1981 Easter Seal Telethon," sponsored by WKRC-TV station in Cincinnati. It took place March 28 and 29 and was arranged by the Southwestern Ohio Easter Seal Society. Needless to say, few of us were anxious to answer any more telephones for quite awhile!

Our five Junior Achievement Advisors, headed by Dennis Gibbs, are winding up another successful year. This year's Junior Achievers are making decorative candles and wooden planters (plants included) and are confident that the company's stockholders will see a return on their investment. The Annual Junior Achievement Trade Fair was held April 4 and 5 at Cincinnati's Convention Center and proved to be a successful event.

Our Chapter Efficiency Index chairman, Amy Thompson, tells us we are closing in on our goal of 100,000 points. Everyone in the chapter, particularly the Executive Committee, has worked very hard this year, and is optimistic that we will reach our CEI goal.

Social activities have been abundant this quarter. With the help of Matt Marck, our historian, and Mary Casselman, our social chairman, Alpha Theta Chapter launched its first Delta Sigma Pi Bowling Tournament. Twenty-plus lanes were reserved for the enthusiastic members in the Student Union Building, and what talent emerged! Trophies were awarded to six deserving bowlers and a pizza party followed, much to the pleasure of the hungry participants. Other social events included our Chapter Birthday Picnic and a golf/putt-putt tournament.

Be sure to have a happy summer vacation, everyone! See you in the fall!

DAYTON

EPSILON TAU

BACK IN SEPTEMBER of 1980, many students in the School of Business Administration received letters from a business fraternity called Delta Sigma Pi, inviting them to attend an introduction to the fraternity. I am sure many of my fellow student's reactions were much like my own: how did I get chosen, I can't join, I'm a girl and, well, if one of my friends goes to the meeting I will, too.

Well, we went to the meeting and met many of the Brothers of Delta Sigma Pi. After a battle with the slide projector, Regional Director Jeff Philippi showed us the slide program and gave us information about Epsilon Tau Chapter that was active here at the University of Dayton from 1963-1976. We were then told that we had been chosen to reactivate Epsilon Tau Chapter.

On October 9, 1981, the Pledge Ceremony was held and 40 pledges began to reblaze the trail. We had quizzes and professional and social activities, and fund raisers to arrange. There were advisors to find and the many missing chapter possessions to locate, not to mention the battle for recognition at the university. We hit many dead-ends, but we never let our hopes get down—instead we fought harder. At times it seemed like we had too much to do and too little time to do it in.

District Director Kurt Boveington; Regional Director Jeff Philippi; Mike Walsh and several other Brothers came to many of our meetings. They encouraged and inspired us to strive to reactivate this chapter.

Well, we passed our quizzes and test, had three professional activities, two social events and one fund raiser. We located two faculty advisors and a few of our chapter possessions. Last, but not least, we are now recognized on campus and we are reactivated and thriving steadily.

January 10, 1981, is a date that will be imprinted in the minds of the 22 initiates of the Epsilon Tau Chapter forever. All of the struggling and stumbling, all of the steps forward and the many steps backward culminated on this day—our initiation. It was the most exciting day of our lives. We would like to thank the many Brothers of our Regional Chapters that participated in the Initiation Ritual and helped us celebrate later that evening at Sweetwater's in Dayton, Ohio. We hope you had as good a time as we did.

Fresh out of initiation we jumped right into recruiting. We set up a recruitment table in our business building. Next we had a formal rush. At this time we passed out literature and gave the slide presentation. This led into our rush, which was a huge success. On January 30 we welcomed 34 new pledges.

Our professional activities included a trip to Oxford, Ohio, for a tour of The Central Office. And thanks to our Chapter Consultant Mark Roberts, we all had a very enjoyable time.

The Epsilon Tau Chapter is looking forward to a busy and exciting future in our re-found Brotherhood of Delta Sigma Pi. Our spirit and initiative to be the best that we can be are still very strong.

EVANSVILLE

IOTA SIGMA

IOTA SIGMA CHAPTER recently observed our first anniversary with a midnight champagne celebration. Since the chapter's installment last March 22, we have enlarged the chapter membership by 25 with initiation of two additional pledge classes and two Chapter Advisors. Unfortunately, 15 of our charter members will be leaving due to May graduation. Along with the outgoing charter officers, Iota Sigma Chapter will lose the fine leadership of our District Director Bob Smith and Regional Director Jeff Philippi. We say "Thanks" for their unselfish assistance this year and wish them the best of luck.

This year has seen a variety of factors contribute to Iota Sigma Chapter's expanding future. During our winter term, Chapter Advisor Dr. Ray Arensman presented a discussion on "OPEC in the '80's." Chapter Advisor Dr. Mike Zimmer was interviewed by the Evansville newspaper on his views of the effect synfuel will have on our community. An alumni member, University Librarian P. Grady Morein, was cited for the work he is involved with in the publication of uncommon books.

Iota Sigma Chapter is also proud to announce that fellow Brother Rebecca Goforth was chosen second runner-up in the University of Evansville's 1981 Basketball Homecoming ceremony. Rebecca is past charter treasurer and a senior marketing major.

Future plans entail long-range and short-range projects. This month will initiate our first annual banquet held to honor an area business person who has made significant contributions during his professional career. Looking ahead, Iota Sigma Chapter, through the leadership of Jim Ozga, has been an instrumental factor in the induction of a business co-op program that will begin this coming fall. And with the guidance of our Past President Rick Trent, we are formulating an Evansville Alumni Club. We feel that through these combined efforts Iota Sigma Chapter is making progress in becoming an honorable member of Delta Sigma Pi, and we hope you agree.

ALPHA PI

AS THE SPRING semester drew to a close, optimism and enthusiasm seemed to be the key adjectives in describing the work completed at the Alpha Pi Chapter. President Dan Chessin worked diligently during the semester devising new methods to better our chapter. During the Professional Interfraternity Conference meetings, Dan met with all the presidents of professional fraternities on the campus to discuss recruiting, rushing techniques, and organizing joint professional events. He also worked closely with Dean Schuyler Otteson in finding a new location for our office. The new office is going to be twice the size, better located and include a long awaited telephone. Dan was also a big influence on revitalizing and reorganizing several committees. An example of this is the Faculty Relations Committee which is getting closer to faculty initiatives and faculty members. This committee was also responsible for organizing a list of prospective Chapter Advisors on which the chapter voted. Effective the first of September, Mike

Rebecca Goforth, a charter member of Iota Sigma Chapter at Evansville, was a member of the 1981 Homecoming Court at the university.

Epsilon Xi Chapter members from Ball State paused in the entry hall while on tour to The Central Office in Oxford.

Letzger will be our Chapter Advisor, replacing Dr. John Boquist, who will be taking sabbatical leave of absence. In addition, disciplinary procedures have been updated to void marginal members, the bylaws are being revised and several members represented Deltasig in Student Leadership Workshops throughout the semester.

The difficult task of coordinating a successful rush program was overcome by Dave Leumann, senior vice president. This semester's program included the membership meeting, a professional event entitled "Marketing Research and Development," and a fried chicken dinner. Rick Yeates, vice president for pledge education, worked hard transforming our new pledges into productive members. Under his direction, the pledge class sponsored a "very interesting" party, paperback book collections and bowling for the children of Big Brothers-Big Sisters among other events. While trying to beat last semester's pledge class in total points, this semester's pledges, now new initiates, had the common goal of working for an outstanding Pledge Efficiency Index.

Vice President for Professional Events Don Ervin kept the chapter active by organizing a field trip to Cincinnati and a seminar on "Interviewing Dynamics II." He also scheduled three guest speakers. David Reed, economist for the Indiana State Legislature, spoke on the future of the economy; Jack Spencer, instructor at Indiana University, spoke on transportation; and Fred Whitney, also an instructor at I.U., spoke on labor relations and arbitration. Chapter Efficiency Index Chairman Mike Jacobs kept the chapter aware of its standing compared to other chapters as we climbed toward the traditional 100,000 point level. A ski trip to Nashville, a Little 500 Luau and Picnic, and a Senior Banquet were some of the events superbly accomplished by Social Chairman Scott Potter. Secretary Su Patrick, Director of Alumni Relations Jeanene Bettner, Treasurer Mike Roop, and Chancellor Keith Davis also had a great influence on the efficiency of the chapter. And special thanks at this time also to Justin Moul, Laura Bender, Kathy Pencek, Jackie Alschuler, Mark Bilderback, Holly Brannon, Janice Kimmell, Dee Anna Kinney, Rossya Krel, and Diane Thurman for a successful year.

As we strive to keep optimism and enthusiasm an important part of our chapter, we hope all Brothers share in this spirit that forms such a close Brotherhood among all of us.

INDIANA NORTHWEST

THETA PSI

THETA PSI CHAPTER at Indiana University Northwest has ended the year on a most enthusiastic (and busy) note. Rushing for new members was held from January 12-15 with a "Meet the Chapter" night at Tiberon Trails Clubhouse. Later that month students at IUN participated in a blood drive sponsored by Theta Psi Chapter. This annual event, which donated 83 pints of blood to the American Red Cross, was headed by Josephine Grady with Dwight Vigna acting as co-chairperson.

Alice Phipps assumed her position as vice president of pledge education during the month of February when new neophytes went through the pledging ceremony. In March the Brothers met head-on with these pledges at the annual Pledge-Brother Bowling Tournament. Also in March was our most novel professional activity this year. Brother Dennis Bollhorst, vice president for professional activities, who did an excellent job of setting up lecturers for our "Lectures in Professional Excellence" program, really outdid himself when he set up a tour in Chicago. Our Brothers from Iota Lambda Chapter, Fort Wayne, were invited to attend the tours of the Chicago Mercantile Exchange and the Chicago Tribune with a party later that night in which some of DePaul's Alpha Omegas joined in.

The month of April brought the initiation of our new Brothers and the event that our Chapter Advisor, Dr. C. W. Reilly, had been looking forward to for so long; Theta Psi's Tenth Anniversary Celebration which was greeted with whole-hearted enthusiasm and the hopes that we will have many more.

IOTA LAMBDA

IOTA LAMBDA CHAPTER had two rushes this semester, producing a total of 12 pledges and Dr. Hill, a faculty pledge. Several Brothers participated in the "Weekend With The Stars" Telethon for Cerebral Palsy. We answered phones and met several local celebrities and helped a very worthy cause. We would like to thank the Brothers of Theta Psi and Alpha Pi Chapters for inviting us to their tours and parties. We completed another inventory for a local merchant and this summer we have many fund raising events planned.

All Brothers in the Fort Wayne area on May 8 are invited to the Annual Final Party featuring President Kevin Hill's band, the "High Rangers." We are also in the final stages of planning a Fall-Out Party for the East Central Region. We wish to thank Brother Jeff Philippi for being an out-

Dear Sir:

I am writing on behalf of the Delta Sigma Pi chapter at Indiana-Purdue University. They have informed me that they can receive points for participating in our recent Cerebral Palsy Telethon held January 17-18, and I'd like to help them get those points.

Twelve people from Delta Sigma Pi gave an extraordinary amount of time at the Telethon. Most of them worked from 11:00 p.m. straight through until 6:00 a.m. It was a real help to the Telethon staff to have these volunteers at this time, because it has always been difficult for us to find people to help during the early morning hours.

The members of Delta Sigma Pi help primarily with answering phone calls to take donations. The celebrity host of our Telethon was able to talk to the members of the fraternity right on the air. He mentioned the organization's name several times throughout the night while they were working. I think this was excellent publicity for the organization, especially since most of the members were wearing their Delta Sigma Pi shirts which were very prominent and visible to viewers.

The members of Delta Sigma Pi worked to help us raise approximately $39,000 locally. Their help was greatly appreciated. Therefore, I hope that the members can get credit for the effort they put forth and all the time they devoted in helping make our Telethon a success.

If you would like any additional information about the work they did, etc., please feel free to contact me. We can't thank these fine college students enough for their assistance.

Sincerely,

Mike Hinkle

INDIANA STATE

DELTA TAU

DELTA TAU CHAPTER at Indiana State University has an active and outstanding group of alumni. The chapter feels fortunate to have these alumni and wants to recognize them whenever possible. In the Fall of 1980 a portrait of the First Dean of the School of Business was donated by the chapter in recognition of him. The oil portrait was of Dr. Paul Muse. He is dynamic in his work with the chapter. This portrait was given to the School of Business and is a lasting reminder of Dr. Muse.

This spring, Dr. Muse acknowledged his gratitude for this award by giving a $300 scholarship to the chapter. The award was to be given to a senior or junior in the fraternity who had been active within the chapter. The chapter established a more systematic method of administering the award.

A panel of six members was established. This panel had the task of drawing up an application blank for the award. This method provided a more fair and scholastic approach to the decision. This application blank contained questions about fraternity work, contributions to the fraternity, and how the money would be used.

The chapter evaluated each application and had a final vote. The competition was strong and revoting was necessary.

The scholarship winners were Paul Gregory, senior, Management; Jill Krohn, senior, Marketing; and Steve Love, junior, Finance. The award recipients plan to use the money to further their educations.

This is another case where alumni and chapter are beneficial to each other.

CONGRATULATIONS, SENIORS, WAS the theme for our last social event of the school year. Not only was there a party for the occasion, but a billboard advertisement was made to kick off the festivities! Hazel Beard, vice president for professional activities, made the arrangements for the billboard through Foster and Kleiser, an advertising agency in Cleveland. Foster and Kleiser agreed to pay for the advertisement as a donation to our professional organization. Graduating seniors donated five dollars for the lettering done. Earlier in the year, a tour was conducted at Foster and Kleiser in their Cleveland office. The billboard was located on Route 59 about one mile east of Kent State University.

The "Congratulations, Seniors" project was a two-day event that brought Brothers closer together. The party was the first part of the event, which ended sometime the next day before the "Senior Breakfast" began. The event is something that will be remembered for a long time and will be inaugurated into each semester schedule.

MIAMI-OHIO

ALPHA UPSILON

THE ALPHA UPSILON CHAPTER of Miami University has had a very active and rewarding semester; we have all looked forward to a busy spring.

The semester began with our participation in the Miami University Student Foundation's "Games People Play" competition. The purpose of the games, which are modeled after the "Almost Anything Goes" television show, is to raise money for scholarships for needy students. The Deltasig team finished a respectable 17th out of a field of over 200 teams, and missed the final's qualification by one-half of a second. We are looking forward to trying again next year.

The month of February brought us 21 candidates who are interested in becoming Brothers. Their fresh outlook and enthusiasm will bring a stronger sense of Brotherhood to the chapter, and will provide leadership for tomorrow. Special thanks are due to Mike Davis and his rush committee for their hard work in organizing rush, and for attracting such a promising field of candidates.

Also during the month of February the chapter showed the movie "Where Do I Go From Here?" to students from the School of Business. The movie stresses the importance of setting personal career objectives, and the development of a concrete plan for personal growth.

During the month of March the chapter mixed business with pleasure when it met the alumni club in Palm Beach. Many of our Brothers were in the area over spring break, and took advantage of the opportunity to visit several businesses in the area.

Good Luck to all the Brothers in 1981.

ALPHA OMICRON

TORONTO OR BUST!—is what was on the minds of the Brothers of Alpha Omicron Chapter who journeyed to Toronto, Canada, for the chapter's annual spring trip. We arrived in downtown Toronto on April 23 to begin our four-day excursion at the beautiful Ramada Inn across from the Maple Leaf Gardens. Tours in the capital city included such places as the Toronto Stock Exchange and Nestle of Toronto. The fraternity also had the honor of attending a special luncheon at the Nestle Company. The weekend provided a time for all to take in some of the beauty as well as the nightlife of Toronto. Deltasigs will long remember Toronto's unique combination of business, beauty and culture.

Past Chapter Consultant Mike Walsh, left, and District Director Kurt Boveington, right, were on hand to assist with recruiting at Alpha Upsilon Chapter at Miami-Ohio.

At Miami-Ohio, Alpha Upsilon Chapter members took part in "Games People Play," a competition to raise funds for scholarships at the university.

Striving to learn more about the commercial world, the chapter toured several organizations, including Shell Chemical Company Belpre, The Central Office in Oxford and corporate headquarters of Nationwide Insurance in Columbus. Working to further a higher standard of commercial ethics, Alpha Omicron Chapter hosted several guest speakers including Harry Creiger of Price Waterhouse and Kay Laurich of Nationwide Insurance. Brothers from the class of 1980, John Buckley, Sam Cefaratti, Mike McKee and Chuck Stout returned to speak on their recent experiences in the business world. To help fund our delegate's trip to the Grand Chapter Congress, proceeds from our coffee spot of the last few months will be used to ensure that Alpha Omicron Chapter will be represented on Mackinac Island. In a successful effort to encourage scholarship and social activity, the Brothers of the chapter met with faculty members of the College of Business during a reception that was enjoyable for all.

On March 7, 1981, 24 new members were added to the pages of the Alpha Omicron Chapter for a grand total of 69 members. The initiation day brought members, alumni, faculty members and Brothers of nearby chapters together, demonstrating the true meaning of Brotherhood. Members of Alpha Omicron Chapter look forward to our annual spring formal this month where our Rose and Thorn for 1981-82 will be chosen. The fraternity will also gather one last time in June for our big spring picnic to say good luck to graduating seniors and to Alpha Omicron Chapter for 1981-82.

WINTER QUARTER STARTED off in a flurry of excitement as we initiated 13 neophytes. Special thanks go out to all those Brothers, both of undergraduate and alumni standing, who attended our initiation; you helped to make it very successful.

Professional activities in winter quarter included two speakers and three tours. Professor Walter Siefert of OSU's Journalism Department was our first speaker; his topic of discussion was Business Public Relations. Our second speaker was David Farnenhold who spoke on the Consumer Discount Program. Both speakers were interesting and very informative.

Our tours consisted of trips to Nationwide Insurance, Western Electric, and the Ohio Center complex, complete with convention center and Hyatt Regency Hotel.

Social activities have consisted mainly of parties. However, one of our service projects was making and delivering Valentines to a senior citizens' home on Valentine's Day. It was a super experience for all those who attended.

Our fund raisers included selling raffle tickets, baseball caps, and boxes of M & M's. They have all made a profit, especially the M & M's! And as usual during winter quarter, our coffee table has done very well. It seems the colder the weather, the more coffee we sell!

Best wishes to our Brothers across the nation.

WEST LIBERTY STATE

DELTA OMEGA

DELTA OMEGA CHAPTER at West Liberty State College started the semester with a "Meet The Fraternity Night." Several prospective pledges were in attendance. The quality of these pledges will help us achieve 100,000 points in the Chapter Efficiency Index for the third straight year.

The professional program, under the guidance of Mike Jordan, has continued to be varied and interesting. The Brothers of the chapter toured places in the area such as Imperial Glass, Creative Displays, Inc., International Harvester, and Perry Nuclear Power Plant. The tours were informative and entertaining.

The Brothers of the chapter continued their outstanding public service work by collecting door to door for the Heart Fund. Also, several Brothers entertained children at the Good Zoo in Ogelbay Park, Wheeling, West Virginia. Secretary Karen Lower is the chairman of the Public Service committee.

The Rose Dance is a favorite of many Deltasigs. The semi-formal affair was an outstanding success and was a reflection of hard work and good planning by Chairman Charlene Savage. The highpoint of the semester was the chapter birthday party. The annual affair was held at the cabin of President Todd Kimpel. The activities included a covered dish lunch, volleyball, and frisbee throwing. A good time was had by all. The get together helps to ensure and strengthen the life long bond between Brothers.

ZETA THETA

THE ZETA THETA CHAPTER, at Western Kentucky University in Bowling Green, is in full swing with a complete schedule of tours and guest speakers planned for the spring semester. We began the semester with our "Meet the Chapter Night" where prospective members had a chance to meet the Brothers of the fraternity. District Director Bob Smith was in attendance. Rush went very well as 13 pledges and one faculty member will be inducted into the fraternity on April 25.

The spring semester is an eventful one for the Zeta Theta Chapter. Guest speakers include Robert Fitch, Assistant President, Bowling Green Bank and Trust Company, and Peggy Clark, Senior Vice President Control, Citizens National Bank. We toured a local funeral home to acquaint members with the business aspects of that industry, and plan a tour to Louisville in the near future.

On March 31, Zeta Theta Chapter held their Fourth Annual Recognition Banquet, which honors a Bowling Green businessman for his achievements and contributions to the business community. The Brothers, with the help of the Business Advisory Committee, selected Mr. Charles Stewart for this award and induction into the Wall of Fame.

The spring semester would not be complete without the Spring Formal. On April 11, the Brothers of Zeta Theta Chapter and their dates will gather at the Holiday Inn in Bowling Green for dinner and a night of dancing and fun.

The members of the Zeta Theta Chapter would like to take this opportunity to thank the alumni members who helped the fraternity during the fall and spring semesters of 1980-81. We wish the best of luck to all other chapters in achieving their goals in the fraternity, and in the business world.

THETA LAMBDA

THETA LAMBDA CHAPTER at Xavier University has enjoyed a semester of involvement with campus organizations and other Deltasig chapters on a larger scale than in the past.

Our professional program included two professional presentations with other campus organizations. In conjunction with the Marketing Club we had presentations from buyers at local department stores, and with the Finance Club we hosted an evening with bank-employed speakers.

In the social department we co-sponsored a Rose Dance with Alpha Theta Chapter of the University of Cincinnati, Alpha Upsilon Chapter of Miami University, and Epsilon Tau Chapter of the University of Dayton. The dance was a great success not only as a social activity, but also as an aid to fraternal spirit in getting to know our neighboring Brothers.

On April 30 Xavier University officially opened its new College of Business Administration Building with a dedication ceremony. Our chapter was given the honor to lead tours through the new building as part of the dedication.

We wish to publicly give special thanks to Brother Thomas Hailstones, Dean of our College of Business Administration, for generously contributing $22 of the $72 pledge fee for each of our nine pledges this semester.

Congratulations to Brother Jane Orth from Theta Lambda Chapter for her induction into the honorary fraternity of Alpha Sigma Nu.

DELTA RHO

THE BROTHERS OF Delta Rho Chapter have had another successful quarter with the election of the following officers: Bryan B. Carney, president; Anthony J. Houle, senior vice president; Steven C. Pitts, vice president for pledge education; Peter J. Standish, vice president for professional activities; David J. Campbell, secretary; Michael Sielawa, treasurer; Kirk A. Gillett, chancellor; Joseph G. O'Brien, Chapter Efficiency Index chairman; and Bradley Herremans, historian.

With a highly competent executive board and a multitude of fund raisers and social events, how could we go wrong? Over spring break our Florida trip to Daytona Beach was very successful with nearly 200 students attending for fun in the sun. Also, our professional tour took Delta Rho Chapter to Toledo where we visited the Champion Sparkplug Corporation and AMC Jeep. Visiting these two companies gave the Brothers an in-depth look at the business practices and the operational procedures of the auto industry.

On the social side of things, both the Brothers and their dates had an excellent time at our annual Roseball dance which was held at Deer Run Golf Club in Grand Rapids. High spirits and good times prevailed as we danced the night away to the sounds of a live band.

Under the careful planning and supervision of Brother Joe Carmody, this year's Career Day was exceptional. Over 60 representatives from various companies attended the annual event. Career Day gave many students a chance to obtain possible job opportunities with the companies who attended. It also gave the fraternity first-hand experience in planning, organizing, and controlling a big event such as Career Day.

In closing, we congratulate and wish the best of luck to the four Brothers who graduated in February: Richard C. Fowler, Dennis Pearson, Daniel Passinault, and Dave Van-Surksun. May all your endeavors be fruitful.

UPSILON CHAPTER HAD another great semester! It started with a very productive rush in February, which gave us 20 pledges, and goes clear through to May, when we bid farewell to all of our graduating seniors.

In addition to our pledge program, we had a successful fund raising program with the sale of Charm Pops, "Send a Sucker to a Sucker," for April Fool's Day, and "Teddy Tuck-Ins." Also, due to the great efforts of Faculty Committee Chairman Carolyn Crowder, our semi-annual Faculty Brunch was a huge success, having the largest attendance of faculty in quite a while. DELTA CHAPTER BEGAN the spring semester with a successful recruiting evening. The evening featured a slide show and talks from some of our illustrious alumni. Recruitment night was followed by our pledge pinning ceremony which was held at the Sternward Room of the Pabst Brewery. We are looking forward to another semester with an outstanding pledge class.

Our semester was highlighted with a full calendar of professional speakers and seminars. Local businesses joined in a seminar to solicit students and inform them of their industry backgrounds. Speakers' topics included opportunities in small business, how to invest, and how to interview, among others.

Social activities for the semester include a day of skiing in Northern Wisconsin, a racquetball tournament and, of course, Founders' Day activities. Congratulations are in order for our December graduates and, also, although somewhat prematurely, to those who will be graduating in May. All of them will be missed not only for their hard work, but also for their entertaining qualities—especially our president's party jokes. I would like to wish them the best of everything!!

ETA MU

SPRING FEVER HAS hit Eta Mu Chapter with fresh, new energy! We began the semester with three coffee hour rushes from which we selected our 15 excellent pledges. In addition to the many prospectives who attended the rushes, we were honored by a visit from our Regional Director, Tony Fernandez, who gave some words of encouragement and motivation to the Brothers as well as the rushees. An informal rush party was also held to enable the recruits to get a glimpse of the chapter "at ease." Following the selection of pledges, we held a pledge-member dance at the Holiday Inn. Presently, our 15 pledges, under the teaching of Tony Prisco, are working on their requirements for initiation, which include a visit to a home for the elderly and a speaker from a local clothing store to give the chapter insight on professional dress for interviewing.

The chapter is continuing with its community project assisting the Career Planning and Placement Center with the interviewing process. This semester we have 18 Brothers who volunteer their time for this.

"We're the Professionals" and are building our professional competence with a program which included guest speaker Dr. Howland, from NIU, who talked to the chapter about the field of sales. We also made plans for a tour of Amoco Research Center in April, and a trip to the Miller Brewery in March.

In a quest to raise funds, Eta Mu Chapter planned a "Delta Sigma Pi-throwing" booth at the Mardi Gras fair on campus. All Brothers were willing to withstand the perils of whipped-cream in their faces to raise money for the chapter. Also planned was another fund raiser—a campus-wide computer-dating service.

Eta Mu Chapter also has an active social calendar—especially in the spring! On February 5 the pledges got together with their pledge fathers at "Rick's" for a pizza party. Nearly the whole chapter was there, including some alumni! Other social events include a Toga party which was a tremendous success, and a surprise party for the pledges. As usual, we will bring the semester to a close with our annual "Rose Dance." It promises to be a wonderful evening for all.

We at Eta Mu Chapter wish all of our Brothers a successful and prosperous semester, professionally, socially, and fraternally, and hope that all the chapters will enjoy a restful and sunny summer!

SOUTHERN ILLINOIS-EDWARDSVILLE

ETA SIGMA

ETA SIGMA CHAPTER at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is successfully completing another school year.

After initiating six members on December 13 we listened to our new honorary Brother Talmage E. Newton III, talk about "How To Get A Job."

Winter rush, held in January, yielded seven neophytes. We also elected officers for 1981. Rose Ball, on Valentine's Day, was held at Augustine's Ristorante in Belleville, Illinois, and was a great success.

The former mayor of St. Louis, John Poelker, spoke to us on "The Community Responsibility of Business Leaders" on February 18. Mayor Poelker is senior vice president of the Regional Commerce and Growth Association of the St. Louis area and the event evoked considerable response from the campus community.

Career Information Day, on February 25, was sponsored by our chapter in collaboration with the University Placement Service. A pre-spring Plant Sale helped bolster our finances.

Our major financial event was a raffle with the drawing set for April 27, the chapter's birthday.

These and many other activities are taking us steadily towards another 100,000 CEI point year.

See you at Mackinac Island for the Grand Chapter Congress.

GAMMA THETA

WHEN LOOKING INTO the mirror of life we cannot help but speculate about the reflection. The past has left imprints on the faces of our future. Failures and mistakes have marred the profiles of our chapters. However, it cannot be denied that our failures and mistakes have been our instructors in the class of accomplishment. They are inspirers and encouragers, those essential elements that evoke cooperation.

As individuals and as chapters, we have an obligation to uphold the integrity of the fraternity. In doing so, we forego many alternatives in respect to ascertaining our goals. What lengthy contemplations we endeavor once we have given it all only to realize that we have more to give! Sometimes, an in-depth, internal, and external psychoanalysis transpires. We reflect on our previous decisions and their consequences. After an apparent cognitive dissonance, we reach the same conclusion, that is, that we did our best, even though it may not always appear so. There is an unyielding cry for "try, and try again" with Brothers who aspire not only to reach and meet goals, but surpass them.

It is imperative that we, as Brothers, as chapters, and as a fraternity, learn to make cohesive our resources. Learn to uphold our decisions. Learn to cope with our consequences. When we endeavor, we endeavor as Brothers, we endeavor as chapters, and we endeavor as a fraternity.

The mirror of life holds a reflection—a reflection of the total fraternal Brotherhood, one that is full, satisfied, confident. A reflection that says that the rewards we have reaped have been priceless—the rewards of experience.

Delta Sigma Pi is the reflection of E Pluribus Unum (Latin): One, out of many.

WISCONSIN-LA CROSSE

ETA RHO

ENTHUSIASM WAS THE key word as the second semester began for the Eta Rho Chapter at the University of Wisconsin-LaCrosse. This was reflected by this semester's officers: President Richard Kellerman; Senior Vice President Pat Barry; Vice President for Professional Activities Dan Briesmeister; Vice President for Pledge Education Carl Mueller; Treasurer Bill Pattison; CEI Chairman Jack Belke; and Secretary Mark Brackett.

Talmage E. Newton III, new honorary member of Eta Sigma Chapter at Southern Illinois, presented a professional program for the chapter.

In January, the Brothers welcomed the visit of our Chapter Consultant, Mark A. Roberts, to our campus. He gave us an informative talk on our strengths and on areas where we can improve. We left him with a standing invitation to return to LaCrosse at any time—hopefully, when there is no ice or snow.

Professionally, the chapter undertook a road trip to Minneapolis to tour Honeywell and the Federal Reserve Bank on February 20-21. The weekend was topped off by a Minnesota Gophers hockey game. A local tour was also slated with Norplex Corporation.

To benefit the entire campus, an interview and resumé workshop was organized with prominent businesses and faculty taking part. Two speaker-dinners were also included in our calendar.

Under the direction of Ron Korpak, money making chairman, the fraternity undertook two big money making projects which proved to be quite prosperous. Financially, the fraternity has never looked better.

A cold Wisconsin winter night could not stop the Brothers from welcoming 18 pledges to Delta Sigma Pi, as we went on a hayride with a sorority. Plenty of LaCrosse's fine product, Old Style, helped to keep us from freezing.

Athletically, a faculty-fraternity basketball game was held in which the fraternity had little trouble convincing the faculty that they should stick to teaching. Bowling, volleyball, softball, and the annual Open Golf Tournament were also included.

A Valentine's Day party with Phi Gamma Nu, and other parties with Alpha Pi and Delta Zeta Chapters proved to be good times. A picnic is also scheduled.

In closing, the Eta Rho Chapter would like to wish the best of luck to those who are graduating and looking for jobs. We hope to meet many of you in the future as we enter the business world. See you all at the Grand Chapter Congress.

CHRISTIAN BROTHERS

EPSILON PSI

THE SPRING SEMESTER 1981 proved to be a very active and successful semester for Epsilon Psi Chapter at Christian Brothers College. Our outstanding professional program and recruitment for new members, complemented by both social and service projects, helped Epsilon Psi Chapter to grow into what is now a very close-knit and well-rounded chapter.

The semester began with a professional meeting featuring Mr. Bob Wing of Sharp Manufacturing Company of America. His presentation, which included a film and discussion of the aspects of foreign-owned industry, was very well received. Other professional speakers included: Mr. Henry Sarkis of Holiday Inns; Mr. Bill Sproull of the Bass Shoe Company; Mr. Charles Epperson of Orgill Brothers; and Mr. Bill Barksdale of Barksdale Agricomunications. All were enjoyed thoroughly.

The recruitment of new members this spring was a big event for Epsilon Psi Chapter. The recruitment party, a semi-formal affair, gave prospective members a chance to meet the chapter and hear about Delta Sigma Pi's goals of service and professionalism. A film and several speeches proved highly successful, as the spring 1981 pledge class was one of the largest in the history of our chapter, with 22 pledges.

Epsilon Psi Chapter reserves many opportunities to get together socially. A basketball tournament served as a fine excuse to have another trip to New Orleans. Needless to say, it was quite an experience for all of us. The Rose Dance also went very well.

Epsilon Psi Chapter has had a very beneficial year. We hope that the future has much more success in store for all of the chapters of Delta Sigma Pi.

BETA ZETA

"I HEAR AND I forget, I see and I might remember, I do and I understand." These words of Plato are the key to the theme for Beta Zeta Chapter this past semester. The only way to understand business is to "do" business, so our theme was 100% participation of all chapter members. With 95 members, for many this would seem impossible; for President Dea Harman, this was a fully realizable goal. The first step was to make meetings shorter and more efficient with bull sessions afterward. This was a piece of cake for Chancellor Greer Duncan. With more members attending the meetings, it was much easier for everyone to join one or more of the many committees which were formed. Among these were the old familiars, Fund Raising, Professional, Ritual, and others. We also had some new committees; among these were, Athletic Co-Rec, Social, Membership, Civic, Business Relations, Communications, and a few temporary committees like Scholarship, Panel Discussion, Grand Chapter Congress Transport, and the one everyone wanted to be on, the Crawfish Boil Committee. With enough committees to handle the entire chapter and give everyone his preference as to which to be on, Beta Zeta Chapter easily reached its goal.

Equally successful was our specific agenda. We started out the year with an excellent rush headed by Senior Vice President John "Spike" Brydels. John pulled off an excellent recruiting campaign with 25 pledges signing on. Vice President for Pledge Education Mike Miccio was always there when the pledges needed him. Mike's main goal was a greater degree of involvement between the members and the pledges. Vice President for Professional Activities Liz Olinde really kept us up-to-date with the current business world, presenting us with a complete cross section of both the business world and government. Our professional program started with a visit to the local Rotary Club at Ashley Manor. Next, Harold Hertham of State Mutual Insurance Company gave a talk on selling yourself in business. We then attended a seminar, "New Fields Open To Business Students," which was given at our university. "Effective Motivation Techniques" was the topic of Joe Traigle's speech. Mr. Traigle had a large turnout, including representatives from area high schools. In March we had a tour of the local Exxon plant which was a good chance for some of us to get familiar with the place we may be working in in the near future. As mentioned earlier, government was a big topic on our agenda. We attended a crawfish boil given by the Beaumont chapter honoring Louisiana Governor Dave Treen. This was not only a chance to meet our governor, but to meet our Brothers in Beaumont. "Bubba" Henry, Louisiana Commissioner of Commerce, talked with us about "Government and Business" toward the end of the semester, and United States Representative

The newest initiates of Eta Rho Chapter at Wisconsin-La Crosse.

Henson Moore was the star speaker at our banquet.

Socially, we had a full semester, also. We decided to start a program for our chapter called "Delta Sigma Pi Day." Every other Wednesday we come to school dressed either professionally or wearing our Delta Sigma Pi T-Shirts. This has given us much more exposure to the public. We had two crawfish boils this semester, one with our Brothers in Beaumont, and one given by Brother Dwayne C. A. Duhon, plus beaucoup (that means lots) T.G.I.F.'s.

LOUISIANA TECH

BETA PSI

BETA PSI CHAPTER at Louisiana Tech University started the New Year with a large variety of activities. Our first "Meet the Chapter" function was held on January 13. On January 15, we had Life Membership Night, and 25 members pledged life membership. Officer elections were held during our business meeting on January 22.

Winter quarter rush activities were held on February 3 and 5. It was a very good rush and 29 members were accepted. This will really help the chapter since so many seniors are graduating.

Vice President for Professional Activities David Dodd has done a good job of lining up a couple of tours, the first one on February 19, with Murphy Oil in Eldorado, Arkansas. Our big spring tour was scheduled for April 10-12, to Dallas to tour Coca-Cola, Procter and Gamble, Mrs. Baird's Bakery, and General Motors. David also lined up a large variety of speakers for the spring quarter.

The annual Crescent City Basketball Tournament was held in New Orleans on March 21. Last year we came in second, but this year we meant to settle only for first place.

The initiation of our 29 pledges and the initiation banquet were held on May 2. Beta Psi Chapter ended the spring quarter with our annual Spring Formal on May 9, which involved a ride down the Ouachita River on a riverboat loaded with plenty of refreshments, music, and Deltasigs!

It has been a very good year and we want to wish good luck to all the graduating seniors.

—ANNE SMITH

LOYOLA-NEW ORLEANS

DELTA NU

OFF AND RUNNING at the beginning of a new semester, we of Delta Nu Chapter at Loyola University-New Orleans looked forward to a great spring term. We were all proud to learn that we reached 100,000 CEI points in 1980 for the fourth consecutive year, and now we're well on our way to achieving that goal once again.

On the professional side, many activities were planned for spring, including professional banquets, speakers, and tours of local industrial plants. On March 18 we had a luncheon scheduled featuring a guest speaker to talk on career prospects. This was a great chance for the entire student body to learn what type of jobs will be needed in the future and, for graduating seniors, what they have to look forward to in the "real world." Also, on April 8 we toured the Pepsi Cola plant in our area and, as on similar tours in the past, it was very rewarding. In fund raising, besides all of our regular activities, we planned extra events in order to help finance the trips of those members who wish to attend the 33rd Grand Chapter Congress in Michigan.

The social life of our chapter is also alive and kicking and our first big event was on March 14 with our annual LUAU. This promised to be a lot of fun, with some outfits rivaling the crazier ones on Halloween. For the end of April we planned a formal dance, with alumni and faculty invited, which the members had long awaited and finally had the funds to do. We decided to go all out for this event, getting a live band and reserving a hall with an open bar—fun!

There are many other activities in the works, too. Some of the members planned to take a group of underprivileged children to the Audubon Zoo, there are tennis and racquetball matches in full swing, and in the first week of April we had a unity retreat, something that turned out to be as great an experience last spring.

With all that we planned, this has been a very rewarding and fun semester. We would like to wish all chapters good luck for a great summer and a good year.

ETA TAU

THE ETA TAU CHAPTER at McNeese State University in Lake Charles, Louisiana, started off the spring semester by recruiting pledges. We recruited eight pledges all willing to work and ready to contribute their time to help the chapter, and looking forward to becoming Brothers of Delta Sigma Pi. We greeted our new pledges with a "Meet the Chapter Night" on February 3. We also had a Pledge Barbecue, which was held on March 15.

Our professional activities started with a guest speaker, Fulton Stokes, manager of the Beall's Department Store here in Lake Charles. Several other professional meetings were very successful.

The Brothers of the Eta Tau Chapter attended the Southern Regional Basketball Tournament held in New Orleans on March 21. We also celebrated our annual Rose Ball on May 9.

The chapter thanks all the Brothers for helping achieve 100,000 CEI points in 1980. Also thanks to the new officers who took over for the spring semester. The officers were Peter Gauthier, president; Lyn Alghrim, senior vice president; Tommy Conner, vice president for professional activities; Marie Agosto, treasurer; Karen Parden, secretary; Wayne Patterson, historian; Barbara Sias, CEI chairman; Paul Jones, chancellor; Karen Matte, vice president for pledge education, and Pam Jones, corresponding secretary. Also special thanks to our Fraternity Advisor, Mr. John Moreau.

GAMMA ZETA

GAMMA ZETA CHAPTER at Memphis State has had another great semester. Several fantastic rush parties got the pledge program off to a great start. The Brothers of the chapter celebrated the Rose Dance with a steak dinner followed by a dance. Best Chapter Member Pete Crowe and Best Alumnus Dr. Binford Peebles were presented with plaques commemorating their service to the chapter. Rose Queen Donna Epps was presented with a dozen roses. One thousand and eighty-three chocolate crunch and almond candy bars were sold by the Brothers to raise $442.80. Brother Jim Gardetto won Rose Dance tickets for selling the most bars.

A tour with Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis was the first event of a terrific professional program. The chapter also toured Plough, IBM, Federal Express, and International Harvester. Speakers included Dr. Willard Sparks, a specialist in agricultural economics; Mr. Roy Winegardner, Chairman of the Board of Holiday Inns; Richard Helms, Director of the CIA; and Mrs. Tina Santi Flaherty, Vice President of Colgate-Palmolive, in a program arranged by Memphis State and co-sponsored by the chapter. Mr. Jay Scott from Caldwell-Bartlett, Wood and Mr. Olin Atkins from Dean Witter also spoke to the chapter at regular business meetings.

The Brothers of Gamma Zeta Chapter are looking forward to meeting everyone at the Grand Chapter Congress at Makinac Island in August. Until then we would like to wish everyone a great summer.

MISSISSIPPI COLLEGE

ZETA IOTA

ZETA IOTA CHAPTER is enjoying a very successful and enthusiastic year. Our recruiting program for the second semester got underway and has proven to be very successful. The chapter is growing steadily, due to much hard work of both members and pledges. Our formal initiation will be held at the end of this month and will be followed by an initiation banquet to welcome our new Brothers to the chapter.

The chapter is letting people know that they mean business. Evidence of this is the full schedule of professional activities for this semester. Thus far, tours to St. Regis Paper Company, Tri-State Brick and Tile Company, and Jackson Packing Company have been well represented by the members.

Professional speakers have contributed to the program. Mark Bulloch, an alumnus of Zeta Iota Chapter, represented the Mississippi Society of C.P.A.'s. Other scheduled speakers included Mr. Dennis Ford, Tax Attorney; Paul Stockwell, C.P.A.; and Mr. Jesse Chase, a representative of Morgan Keegan Investment Company.

Plans for a service project to help raise money for the Heart Fund are well underway. We hope this project proves to be very successful as well as fun.

Derby Day plans are also underway. Derby Day is an annual event on Mississippi College's campus and is a favorite of the student body. It is sponsored by the Zeta Iota Chapter and features competition between the women's social tribes. The event triggers much publicity and respect for Delta Sigma Pi.

The chapter looked forward to attending the Southern Regional Basketball Tournament. Excitement and enthusiasm were high and Zeta Iota Chapter was represented.

pledges to the fraternity. Our rush was a big success. Twenty new pledges were pinned at our first professional dinner of the semester.

The speaker for the professional dinner proved to be quite interesting. Mr. Elmer Mlinar, retired vice president of American Bosch, spoke to us about budgeting. Plans were made for four more professional dinners this semester.

The executive board compiled a list of activities for our chapter, and we all looked forward to a busy and exciting spring semester. Gamma Delta Chapter would like to wish you all a very good summer.

EPSILON NU

EPSILON NU CHAPTER of the University of New Orleans visited the Waterford Three Nuclear Power Plant currently under construction in Taft, Louisiana. The tour included the entire grounds and facilities of the plant site and proved to be the most interesting and edifying of the events that the chapter participated in during the fall semester of 1980.

The Brothers of Epsilon Nu Chapter celebrated Founders' Day with a dinner banquet at the exclusive Ro Je's restaurant. The event was a professional function which featured Dr. Homer L. Hitt, Chancellor Emeritus of the University of New Orleans, as the guest speaker. Dr. Hitt's talk focused on the founding and the history of the university and upon its current role in the community as the first state university in the city of New Orleans.

At the first professional meeting of the 1981 academic year the guest speaker was Mr. Morrell Trimble, president of the New Orleans Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Trimble spoke about the impact of the chamber and the industry that it is bringing into the area and their impact upon the city and the surrounding areas.

Seven young men were initiated into the Epsilon Nu Chapter at our initiation during the fall semester of 1980. We wish them all the best of luck and success in their endeavors as members of the International Fraternity of Delta Sigma Pi, as we also do to the new members who became a part of our organization at our initiation in April.

ETA IOTA

ETA IOTA CHAPTER began the spring semester by having all the Brothers stuff Delta Sigma Pi bookmarks in business books to bring our fraternity closer to the business student.

Through a wonderfully executed recruiting program we now have 21 energetic pledges. We are counting on them to be our new Brothers and strive with us to bring us ever closer to 100,000 points in the Chapter Efficiency Index.

At a recent professional meeting, Mr. Ray Barbera, manager of a car dealership in our area, spoke to us on the importance of a successful interview. He enlightened us on many of the do's and don't's of handling one's self during an interview and gave examples of the questions he asked on the side of the standard application.

Mr. Terry Lirette will join us at our next meeting and demonstrate the very important technique of CPR. This will be most interesting and useful to us all.

Our plans for Mardi Gras festivities included a costume party. Much planning was also done for the annual Baseball and Basketball Tournaments. The annual Spring

SOUTHERN MISSISSIPPI

GAMMA TAU

GREETINGS AND SALUTATIONS from all the Brothers of Gamma Tau Chapter at the University of Southern Mississippi. We are all so pleased with ourselves this new year and are excited about the many things that are happening in our affiliation with Delta Sigma Pi.

Being professional-minded business men and women, we at Gamma Tau Chapter are very much aware of the importance to grow toward our professional ideals. We have had many professional activities this semester and have many more planned that will enable us to work toward these goals. We had representatives from our student government explaining to us the activities and functions of this worthwhile organization. Coach Bobby Collins of our winning Golden Eagles explained to us the importance of motivation and teamwork and how the two can be applied to the business world. In addition to the hosts of speakers, tours in New Orleans, Jackson, Laurel, and Hattiesburg proved to be both fun and educational. An upcoming tour of the World Trade Center in New Orleans will highlight the professional program this semester.

The rush period at Gamma Tau Chapter proved to be very successful. Being very selective, we attempt to choose only the top business student who is worthy to be a Deltasig. The informal party, covered dish dinner, and the wine and cheese party are social events in which we, as Brothers, analyze the character of each rushee. As well as rush, other social events such as the pledge party, the upcoming Rose Formal, and our frequent weekend "blowouts" help us to encourage and appreciate our Brotherhood.

Being a Brother in Delta Sigma Pi is truly an honor at Gamma Tau Chapter. We are the standard of our business school and will work hard not only to maintain our rich tradition, but to ensure that the spirit of Delta Sigma Pi will live forever.

DRAKE

ALPHA IOTA

GREETINGS TO ALL from the Alpha Iota Chapter Brothers at Drake University. We have enjoyed yet another enterprising and challenging spring semester as exemplified by our numerous and venturesome undertakings.

Our debut began with a very successful rush effort directed by Senior Vice President Jim Schmidt. Throughout the semester, our pledges actively and diligently pursued the membership requirements which resulted in the initiation of 24 new Brothers.

Professionally, our chapter has benefited by a comprehensive and energetic program. In addition to a diverse range of professional speakers, in March our chapter embarked on an international trip to Toronto, Canada, for an inclusive inspection of Kodak of Canada, Redpath Sugar, Toronto Stock Exchange, and Canada Dry. In between tours, many Brothers joined in for some "heavy duty" sightseeing which included an excursion to the spectacular Niagara Falls.

Throughout the semester we have enjoyed a host of "amusing" events including "Double Bubble" outings, a Beach Party, and a basketball game against the chapter alumni. With regards to the latter, some members were skeptical of our chapter team with respect to the drubbing in Iowa City; however, after the game, doubts were quelled and the "cold suds" were chilled for an ensuing Deltasig celebration.

Many of Alpha Iota Chapter events benefited by the extremely prosperous fund raising year which consummated with Brothers working at the Drake Relays. The raised funds to a large degree helped to fund events like our spring formal and Senior Banquet, a dinner which honored our departing Senior Brothers.

The Alpha Iota Chapter extends thanks to Tom Simpson, our president, whose fearless leadership and loyalty have made this another 100,000 CEI year. In addition, we wish Marc Franson, our Chapter Advisor, the best of luck in his appointment as North Central Regional Director. To all, the Alpha Iota Chapter Brothers hope everyone has an enjoyable summer and continued success in future endeavors.

IOWA

EPSILON

SPRING SEMESTER BLEW in like a lion for the Epsilon Chapter in Iowa City. A hurried two weeks of rush found 19 neophytes pledging themselves to Deltasig. Upon their initiation, these 19 pledges soon found that Deltasig was synonymous with action.

The new pledges' first active role in the chapter came in February. Much planning had already begun last semester to ensure a successful North Central Region Basketball Tournament held February 13-15 in Iowa City, but much was yet to be done. Pledges and members together secured hotel rooms for visiting Brothers, hired basketball officials, rented a gymnasium, determined times, selected awards, and confirmed speakers. Their hard work paid off when eight chapters participated in the festivities on Friday. Games were played Friday night, followed by a typical Deltasig party at the Carrousel Inn. Saturday found the male members donning sneakers and shooting hoops, while their female counterparts were bumping, aceing, and spiking. Saturday night's banquet consisted of speakers Bill Tatum, Past Grand President, and Mike Mallonee, Grand President, who urged all members to actively participate in their respective chapters. Soon afterwards, beers flowed, friendships formed and Brothers danced to the tunes of "The Friends." A breakfast Sunday morning closed the festivities.

Epsilon Chapter continued its active ways with volunteer work for a handicapped sports day. They also journeyed to St. Louis to learn the ways of management from the D'Archy McMannu & Macius business, and the Anheuser-Busch plant. Speakers also aided in the education of the Epsilon Chapter members. Topics such as "The Reality of Industrial Relations," "Banking in the 80's," and "How to Choose a Lawyer" were presented. An alumni club was also founded. The annual pig roast in May found many worn out, but happy, Epsilon Chapter members closing out the 1980-81 school year.

MINNESOTA-MINNEAPOLIS

ALPHA EPSILON

ALPHA EPSILON CHAPTER is completing the 1980-81 academic year in high spirits and a touch of spring fever. Our chapter is currently enjoying the benefits of its largest membership ever, while at the same time successfully maintaining our strong bonds of Brotherhood and unity.

In keeping with tradition, we are moving full steam ahead in our professional as well as social activities. In April, 25 of both undergraduate and alumni Brothers attended a professional field trip to Chicago, Illinois, where we toured the Mercantile Exchange, the Merchandise Mart, Sears, and the Arts and Science Planetarium. Everyone who attended found it very interesting and had an excellent time.

On the social side, we celebrated our chapter's birthday in March with a formal held at a local restaurant. Alpha Epsilon Chapter is also very active in I-M sports at the University of Minnesota. The entire chapter is eagerly anticipating our Annual Spring Picnic, held to celebrate the end of the school year.

Alpha Epsilon Chapter would like to challenge every chapter to send a delegation to the 33rd Grand Chapter Congress on Mackinac Island, Michigan. It should prove to be a very rewarding experience, as well as strengthening the bonds of Brotherhood between all the chapters.

In closing, Alpha Epsilon Chapter wishes all graduating Brothers much success, and may everyone have a very enjoyable summer.

NEBRASKA-LINCOLN

ALPHA DELTA

ALPHA DELTA CHAPTER at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln once again enjoyed a very prosperous and rewarding semester. Twenty-two pledges were welcomed into the chapter following a very successful rush. The Deltasigs gained wider recognition in the College of Business Administration by conducting a pre-registration workshop to assist underclassmen in determining which classes to enroll in for the fall semester. Another successful project was the new student protege program. Members also helped with the campus bloodmobile as a community service. Fund raising ranged from cleaning the Sports Complex to a stereo raffle.

Professionalism continues to be emphasized by the chapter. Activities included tours of Kawasaki and Control Data in Lincoln, and a weekend trip to Kearney to tour EATON Manufacturing and The Central Telephone Company in Gibbon. Speakers such as Deb O'Honlon, Assistant Store Manager of Brandeis Department Store; Ann Scott of the Better Business Bureau; Doris Gessner of Mary Kay Cosmetics; and Pat Dinatale of Ayres and Associates Advertising and Public Relations shared their knowledge of business with members at the professional dinners and several meetings.

Social activities started out with a Welcome Back Party at the beginning of the semester, and included a Western Party, the Chapter Birthday Party, and a weekend trip to the Regional Basketball Tournament at Iowa City. The annual Undergraduate-Alumni Picnic at the end of the semester provided an invaluable opportunity for the new members to get to know the alumni and for strengthening the bonds of Brotherhood between undergraduates and alumni.

We would like to congratulate and wish continuing success to our graduating Brothers and thank them for all of the time, effort, and enthusiasm that they have put into the fraternity. Their dedication and loyalty have helped to make us the strong, unified chapter that we are today.

ST. CLOUD STATE

THETA TAU

THE BROTHERS OF Theta Tau Chapter at St. Cloud State University continually strive for the unique sense of Brotherhood and professionalism that only Delta Sigma Pi offers.

Guidance and support from Dr. Darrell Wentworth, our Chapter Advisor, Dr. Bruce Skalbeck and President Harland Tonnell keep Theta Tau Chapter running proficiently. The challenge of earning 100,000 points in the Chapter Efficiency Index, combined with 100% Life Membership, are goals Theta Tau Chapter plans to achieve for the second consecutive year.

Professional activities during the winter and spring quarters were excellent. Intriguing speakers from Xerox, and Fox and Company, along with tours through General Mills and Control Data, provided our Brothers with useful information concerning future business careers.

The North Central Regional Basketball Tournament, held February 13-15 in Iowa City, Iowa, provided an excellent opportunity to meet fellow Deltasigs. During the various events, Theta Tau Chapter exhibited tremendous enthusiasm and pride. First-place finishes in the basketball and bowling tournaments, as well as winning the beer chugging contest highlighted the weekend.

As the school year comes to an end, Theta Tau Chapter extends best wishes to all Brothers of the International Fraternity of Delta Sigma Pi.

SOUTH DAKOTA

ALPHA ETA

THE ALPHA ETA CHAPTER of Delta Sigma Pi in Vermillion, South Dakota, has been busy with a variety of projects and activities. The group planned what promised to be one of the most extravagant field trips in years, a trip to warm, sunny Dallas, Texas.

Our fund raisers have consisted of bake sales, promotional coupon sales, selling roses for Valentine's Day, and our major fund raiser of SOB (School of Business) T-Shirt sales. All of these have been very successful and certainly aided greatly in the funding of our field trip.

The chapter had an exceptionally large pledge class with good combination of fine men and beautiful women. Some of our rush activities included a taco feed and a free keg. Rush festivities were well organized, perhaps explaining the large pledge class.

Our basketball team is proud to announce that they placed second in a recent tournament in Iowa City, Iowa. Of course, the entire chapter is tickled pink over this marvelous accomplishment.

Other plans for the chapter included a spring pig roast for faculty and students in beautiful Burbank, South Dakota. Spring formal was also planned, culminating a great year.

—MIKE CASEY

WAYNE STATE

ETA PI

ETA PI CHAPTER at Wayne State College started the 1981 spring semester with a very successful recruiting function. A rush smoker, with an emphasis on professionalism, brought together Brothers of Delta Sigma Pi, prospective pledges, faculty advisors, and alumni. A social gathering followed. The function led to the selection of 10 "choice" pledges. The Ritualistic Induction of the pledges was held in early April, followed that day by a dinner and our annual Rose Formal which was held at the Biltmore in Sioux City, Iowa. Congratulations, Senior Vice President Kathy Forbes!

Fund raising this semester included a variety of interesting activities. Miller cans and bottles were collected by Brothers throughout the semester for redemption by the Miller Company. Valentine Day kissograms were delivered by Deltasigs to campus students and faculty for a fee of $1. Our faculty Brothers particularly enjoyed this as they received their kisses via special delivery. T-Shirts designed by Deltasig Brothers were sold on campus. The T-Shirts were sold on a contest basis among Brothers, men versus women.

In March, we traveled to Lincoln, Nebraska, for our mini-tour. Sites visited were Good Year Tire and Lumber Company, Dorsey Laboratories, and the State Capitol where Deltasigs had a chance to talk to State Senators.

A community project included a volleyball tournament benefiting the Heart Fund. The tourney, co-sponsored by the Wayne Jaycees, matched eight coed teams, four from campus and four from local business firms. Each team paid a $10 fee to compete and a 50¢ admission fee was charged at the gate. Brothers also solicited donations for the Heart Fund from members of the Wayne community.

Professional speakers during the semester talked on financial planning, alcohol and business, retail management, and OSHA.

Social activities included a toga party and rollerskating, and we can't forget the parties at the "white house" of Wayne, which again housed several of our Brothers this semester.

Eta Pi Chapter of Wayne State was proud to send 10 Brothers to the 1981 Basketball Tournament held in Iowa City, Iowa. President Gary Seeman seems to have enjoyed himself the most as was evident in his report of the weekend's activities.

Congratulations to those Brothers of Delta Sigma Pi who are graduating this semester. Best wishes for every success in the future. And to all chapters of Delta Sigma Pi, we extend our wishes for a very pleasant summer season.

CENTRAL MISSOURI STATE

IOTAOMICRON

IOTAOMICRON CHAPTER at Central Missouri State University began the spring term with a professional tour to Jefferson City. The day included a visit to the State Senate and several industries in the area.

The weekend of March 8 the chapter hosted a chili supper with the help of the local Wendy's restaurant. It proved to be a successful fund raiser. Later in the month a Backgammon Marathon was held with the proceeds going to a local charity. Members enjoyed the afternoon while improving their backgammon skills.

April started off with a joint initiation on the fourth. Members traveled to Kirksville where the Iota Nu Chapter hosted the Alpha Beta Chapter and Iota Omicron Chapter for the day's events. The rest of the month was spent preparing for Delta Sigma Pi Week. The week entailed T-Shirt day, donut and coffee morning, Business Day, the second anniversary of the Iota Omicron Chapter, and a day for officer transition. The next week the annual Business Olympics were held with Delta Sigma Pi as the defending champions.

The chapter ended the year with 54 members going on a float trip the first weekend in May. The weather turned out nice for the occasion even though several members found the river slightly chilly.

ALPHA BETA

GREETINGS TO ALL Brothers from the Alpha Beta Chapter at the University of Missouri-Columbia! This past spring we have been busy with several fund raisers, a professional trip to Houston, professional speakers, service projects, and the usual member and pledge activities.

In addition to this list of activities, Alpha Beta Chapter didn't forget to have a good time, too. At the annual Rose Dance, held March 13, two of the highlights were the crowning of the Rose Queen and the hilarious joke awards given out by Brothers Dave French and John Holland. We also had a racquetball party at a local club with our friendly rivals, the Alpha Kappa Psi's. The racquetball courts, whirlpools, and saunas were enjoyed by all.

In order to help fund our professional trip to Houston and our general operations, we had several fund raisers. One of them, the Gold Rush, was very successful. By donating a small sum, one bought a chance to win a one ounce Canadian gold coin valued at $500. Our Sears Credit Application project was equally rewarding. After having friends and acquaintances of collegiate status fill out a Sears Credit Card application, we would turn each in and receive a dollar in return.

Our trip to sunny Houston, Texas, was a welcomed change from rainy Missouri. This trip lasted five action-packed days and four fun-filled nights. During the day, we toured various business establishments, including the Exxon Corporation. We still had enough energy left to sample some of Houston's nightlife. During our free time, some Brothers even interviewed for prospective jobs in Houston.

During the past spring semester, we had a host of professional speakers. They included Forrest Lighton, a salesman for Nationwide Paper Company; Fred Haake, from Haake Manufacturing; Mark Chevitz, program director for a local radio station, KFMZ; and a representative from Trans-World Airlines.

During the months of February, March, and April, the chapter was involved in several service projects. We spent Valentine's Day with inmates at the maximum security division of the Fulton State Hospital for the criminally insane. We talked, socialized, and played basketball with the inmates for several hours in the afternoon. In March, along with other business organizations on campus, we assisted in advising and pre-enrolling B&PA and pre-B&PA students for the fall semester. This service helped to alleviate a vast number of the questions asked of advisors and to give those students an additional insight into their academic major. Continuing from the previous months into April was our search for our "lost" alumni. Also in April, our 20 member pledge class was initiated.

Best wishes for continued success and prosperity from the Alpha Betas!

IOTA NU

THE IOTA NU CHAPTER of Delta Sigma Pi looked forward to an even more productive second semester than the first semester was. Along with doing the football concession sales the Deltasigs took on the responsibility of selling the basketball concessions. There were many more basketball games than football games so the dedication to doing a good job was more wide-spread throughout the chapter. We have all learned the meaning of Brotherhood working together through this experience.

The proceeds from the concession stand sales have presented a most inviting problem of what to do with the money. A new finance committee has been set up to help budget and invest the proceeds.

Deltasigs are still staying in the news. Last semester we won the Tele-Alumni project, and this semester Delta Sigma Pi has won second place in a campus-wide bloodmobile.

Within the fraternity, the Iota Nu Chapter is working hard to get chapters together. Northeast Missouri has invited M.U. and Warrensburg to share a triple initiation with us. We are also trying to start a new chapter at Springfield.

Some things that were on the agenda for this semester are a Parents Day, and an awards banquet. These are two new activities for the Iota Nu Chapter that may become annual events.

Iota Nu Chapter had 26 new pledges. With the help of these new members Iota Nu Chapter is really pushing for Outstanding Chapter in the Nation. As of February 1, 1981, we were still number one in the nation with 82,150 CEI points. We are really proud of this achievement and hope it will help achieve Outstanding Chapter in the Nation.

BETA EPSILON

BETA EPSILON CHAPTER at the University of Oklahoma proved to have a very successful spring semester. Although the spring pledge class was not large, we started the semester with 15 enthusiastic pledges. For their project they sponsored a picnic for the members. Joint initiation was held in Tulsa with the Beta Chi Chapter.

Professional programs for the semester included speakers with such topics as "Personality Testing" and a special message concerning the banking structure and how to charter a bank. These programs among others were very interesting and informative.

Money-making projects included the selling of T-Shirts and completing applications for Sears and John A. Brown credit cards. The applications were concentrated toward juniors and seniors to enable them to establish credit references before graduation.

Members enjoyed the annual Rose Formal at a local restaurant and club, honoring our Rose, Lisa Rains. We were happy to have several members of Gamma Epsilon Chapter join us also.

With the Grand Chapter Congress just around the corner, Beta Epsilon Chapter has approximately 20 members planning to attend. All are looking forward to the learning and the fun that will be experienced at the Grand Chapter Congress and to bring back some fresh new ideas to share with the chapter. Congratulations to Senior Vice President Robert Granger on being selected as our delegate, also to our Treasurer, Vickie Kerr, for being selected as alternate.

As we draw this semester and this school year to a close, Beta Epsilon Chapter wishes all of their graduating members the best of luck in their future endeavors. To all Deltasigs, we hope you have a great summer!!!

GRAND PRESIDENT MIKE Mallonee and Midwestern Regional Director Jim Deaton were in attendance at Gamma Epsilon's "Meet the Chapter" recruiting function at the first of the semester. Also attending was the Dean of the Business College, Dr. Robert L. Sandmeyer, who gave a presentation on the college's organizational structure. Thanks to the great recruiting efforts of all members, and especially Senior Vice President Rachel Bailey, 49 enthusiastic pledges were pinned in formal pinning ceremonies.

Gamma Epsilon Chapter was selected to participate in the VITA (Volunteer Income Tax Assistance) program sponsored by OSU's Student Government Association. After the participants were trained in a special workshop conducted by the IRS, they began the program February 16 and continued until April 15. Responsible for double-checking all forms, making any necessary corrections, and researching and answering any student's questions concerning current tax regulations, the consultants will be available for a total of 235 man-hours during the program to give assistance. Not only is this a valuable service available to the students, but it is also a very beneficial experience for the chapter members. After several successful days already, the SGA and the chapter are confident that this program will prove to be a very beneficial and worthwhile project.

Professional speakers for the semester are scheduled to speak on the topics of "How to Interview," "Production Management," and "The Value of an MBA." Also scheduled is a tour of the Mobil Chemical Plant in Shawnee. We all looked forward to Joint Initiation at the University of Tulsa with Beta Chi Chapter and Beta Epsilon Chapter of Oklahoma University, which was held March 28.

Approximately 25 seniors from our chapter will be graduating this semester and they will be greatly missed. They are leaving behind a fraternity that is improving every year, thanks to their dedication, hard work, and time they have devoted to the fraternity. But one of the great things about Delta Sigma Pi is that even though they are graduating, they will not be leaving the fraternity; they will still remain a part wherever they go, and whatever they do they will remember what the fraternity did for them. Gamma Epsilon Chapter wished these and all our Brothers, "Good luck in all future endeavors."

TULSA

BETA CHI CHAPTER at the University of Tulsa finished up the semester with all the enthusiasm we started with at the beginning of the year.

This semester Beta Chi Chapter held joint initiation with the Gamma Epsilon and Beta Epsilon Chapters on March 28. On this day the Beta Chi Chapter initiated 10 new Brothers. This day was fun and exciting for everyone.

Our professional calendar was well planned with something for everyone. The speakers covered topics in many areas of business. Some of the covered topics were management of the banking industry and the workings of a drilling company. This semester we also had a tour of Sun Oil Company. This tour gave us excellent insight in the running of a large corporation. The speakers and the tour were informative.

This semester the chapter also had a very successful fund raiser. We sold T-Shirts to students of business to promote Business Week.

During Business Week we had our annual Rose Dance at one of the private clubs of Tulsa. The food and the music were fantastic. To help us remember the night we had souvenir glasses with the Delta Sigma Pi Coat of Arms, the date of the dance and the names of the members of the fraternity engraved on it.

Beta Chi Chapter had a good year and is ready to start next year as enthusiastically as we ended this semester, with new ideas and a fresh exciting rush program.

ANGELO STATE

ETA THETA

ETA THETA CHAPTER started its spring semester with a most successful recruiting program.

We are delighted in announcing that our chapter president, Jere White, has been selected as the Southwest Region's Undergraduate of the Year nominee. Congratulations and good luck, Jere!

The chapter and the university were greatly saddened by the death of Dr. Gerald Richards. Dr. Richards died of a heart attack this past December while on a weekend hunting trip. He was a faculty member of Delta Sigma Pi and former head of the business department here at Angelo State University.

Professional activities for the spring included informative tours to Barrys Corporation and Johnson & Johnson Ethicon plant. Plans were proposed for a road trip tour to Dallas. Also on the agenda were professional speakers from area banks, companies and other organizations. One of our more interesting speakers was Glenna Freidrich, Director of the Better Business Bureau, who touched on top management aspects of consumer complaints and business ethics.

In the financial area the chapter is distributing blotter placemats to several local restaurants. This is done by selling advertising space on the blotters to a variety of area businesses. With the projected sales forecasts the chapter should realize a reasonable return.

On January 24, Brothers Billy Sebolt and Jere White enjoyed the honor of attending and participating in the installation of the new Iota Psi Chapter at Corpus Christi. Welcome, Iota Psi!

Along the service front the Brothers enjoyed a heartwarming visit with the mentally handicapped persons at Carlsbad Center. Later in the semester we slated an outing with the kids at Boys' Ranch, where we most often begin with a softball game and end up trying our culinary craftsmanship over a bonfire and hotdogs. Plans were set for working with the local Rehab Center.

Once again we found time for our annual Eta Theta undergraduate-alumni golf tournament and barbecue, held March 28-29. This is one of the highlights of the spring semester. The Brotherhood and good times we share in seeing old friends and making new ones add up to quite an experience. And besides, what better excuse do we need to play volleyball, drink beer, play horseshoes, eat brisket, drink beer, play golf, drink beer, drink beer

Most of all we would like to say thanks and farewell to the Brothers who will be graduating this spring and summer and who have put in a lot of time, energy and dedication that would make any chapter proud.

Have a good Deltasig summer.

IOTA PSI

IOTA PSI CHAPTER of Delta Sigma Pi was installed on January 24, 1981. There were 17 members initiated and the whole installation was a success.

The chapter sponsored functions such as Business Week, during which we had such keynote speakers as R. C. Parker, Controller-Uranium and Minerals Division of Mobile Oil Corporation. The purpose of Business Week is to give the students the opportunity to listen to successful businesspersons speak on a variety of topics that pertain to the different fields offered at the College of Business. Business Week was held during the week of April 6-10.

The Brothers of the chapter celebrated Valentine's Day with a carnation sale. This function helped contribute to our funds. Iota Psi Chapter also participated at Oyster Fest which was held at Fulton, Texas, near Rockport. The stand was greatly supported by our Brothers and new pledges. We sold brownies and cookies during the weekend of March 7-8.

Recruiting activities consisted of a covered dish dinner which was held at Brother Diane Pennington's house. There was a good turnout in Brothers as well as prospective pledges. We also had a Del Mar Day. Del Mar is the junior college on the other side of town which contributes a good percentage of business students to CCSU. During Spring Break, March 16-20, we had a ski weekend at Mathis

HOUSTON

ETA PSI

THE ETA PSI CHAPTER at the University of Houston would first like to welcome the new chapters installed and reactivated into our fraternity world, especially, the Iota Psi Chapter at Corpus Christi State and the Beta Iota Chapter at Baylor. We enjoyed being part of your initiation and being able to share in your happiness and Brotherhood. We wish you all the strength and Brotherhood needed to fulfill your dreams and goals.

We, in Houston, have been busy and productive again this semester. Besides our rush program and parties, we've had a very interesting calendar of professional activities. Doug Paisley talked to us about International Law and Boyd Armstrong, with Leslie Geggis, gave us many tips about getting a job and career planning. We had two tours this semester, one to Underwood Newhaus and Company, an investment banking firm, and one to Shell Oil Company's Deer Park Refinery. The highlight of our professional activities was our Faculty Round-table Discussion at which an instructor from each major answered our questions about exams to graduate school. The activity gave us a chance to interact more with our professors and it gave the faculty a chance to meet our chapter.

Our fund raiser program was a big endeavor this semester. We worked four weekends with the Houston Festival. As well as having fun, we were able to raise money for the chapter and the Grand Chapter Congress. The Teacher's Book Drive and Casino Night were two community projects we did. Casino Night is a Las Vegas type night in which money raised goes to Camp Cougar, a camp for mentally retarded children. It's a great feeling to be part of this worthwhile cause.

We've had our fun also here in Houston with the Annual Softball Tournament. We initiated 16 new members into our chapter; the banquet was a great success and an enjoyable evening for all. We have a lot of members leaving this month—to them we say good luck and keep in touch. To our new members, remember—it's strength and Brotherhood that make a chapter strong or weak. To every other Brother of our world, good luck in your endeavors.

THETA OMEGA

THE THETA OMEGA CHAPTER of Delta Sigma Pi was re-established at St. Edward's University in Austin, Texas, on November 23, 1980, with the faithful assistance of the Brothers of the Beta Kappa Chapter at the University of Austin. There is now a new membership of 15 Brothers who were initiated on November 23, 1980.

For the spring semester of 1981, the new Brothers of the Theta Omega Chapter gave their first annual rush party with a large number of the students of business attending. Through our rush efforts, we are now proud to announce a total of 11 pledges for the spring pledge class of 1981, with each pledge having his or her own Special Big Brother to assist the pledges with any complications that may arise.

The Brothers of the Theta Omega Chapter at St. Edward's University would like to thank our Brothers at the National and the Regional levels, as well as the Beta Kappa Chapter at the University of Texas at Austin for their very appreciated assistance in making the Theta Omega Chapter a Big Success!

Theta Omega Chapter is proud to say, "We Are On Our Way Up!" Our chapter is growing and our dreams are coming true.

BETA KAPPA

MARDI GRAS, EAT your heart out! The Deltasigs in Austin are going to put you out of business the "professional way." It seems the Beta Kappa Chapter is attempting one of its most ambitious undertakings since Lindberg flew the Pacific (remember we're not history majors). April 2 was our first attempt at throwing an All Campus Beer Bust, and at a campus of 46,000, we're talking "Bust." The two bands who played on alternate stages were two of Austin's finest, Crystal Image and Christopher Cross. Yes, hold on to your badges, Austin's winner of three Grammys will help us with our fund raiser. We expect 5-10,000 Longhorns ready to drink and dance the night away, at least until Friday morning classes the next day.

This semester's rush program, run by the incomparable John Kaczor, reaped another vintage crop. With 41 pledges our chapter seems to be stronger than ever. Pledges elected to offices this semester were Herb Pestor, president, and Ross Mynant, senior vice president. The spring athletic captains are Michael Weiss, captain of the football team, and Woodson Wright for basketball. And among our Little Sisters, Hope Shipman was elected to serve as president for the spring semester, while Paula Rash and Roberta Wendt were elected to be in charge of the Spring Formal.

"Smiling" Brent Geisler has managed to keep the Deltasig social program right up to par with last semester. This year Brent came up with an original idea for our annual match with the "Tri-Delts." He decided to tell the girls that we were having a semi-formal and that long dresses would be most appropriate, then he told our chapter that we were throwing a "nurd party" and that the grubbier one dresses the better. So here goes about 100 Deltasigs across to get their dates.

If you could have seen the expressions on some of those girl's faces when they saw their dates, it would only go to prove that they couldn't tell that we were dressed up at all.

Lastly, the Beta Kappa Chapter voted unanimously to elect Brother Max Courtney as Alumnus of the Year.

THIS SECOND SEMESTER for Deltasigs here in Tucson is proving to be a busy one. We had our first meeting on January 15, but our executive board had been busy for weeks planning this semester.

On January 31, we had our initiation banquet, which was enjoyed by all. We were honored by a visitor from the east known as "FOSNACK the Magnificent," who was instantly popular with the audience. Our initiates were presented with their certificates and are now bona fide initiates.

As of January 27, we had begun our rush for new members. We had approximately 40 potentials show up. It was held at Stumble Inn, and was our informal smoker. On January 29 we held our formal smoker and had another 35 show up. We deemed our rush a success.

Our first professional meeting was on February 12 with Dean Smith of the BPA college. Dean Smith told us what was up and coming for the BPA college.

All Deltasigs looked forward to February 27-March 1, when Deltasig Days were held in Flagstaff, Arizona. We went to ski, sled, tube, and generally have a great time. It was great to see old friends and meet new ones from Tempe and Flagstaff.

The ride there was long but entertaining. Up at the Snowbowl, we were unable to ski, but had fun nonetheless. By Sunday most of us were very tired from the weekend activities, but Deltasig Days were a total success.

The rest of the semester has been filled with tours and professional meetings, along with initiation, elections, and parties for those who are leaving our chapter in body, but not in soul.

GAMMA OMEGA

THE GAMMA OMEGA CHAPTER at Arizona State University began another successful semester with the induction of 17 enthusiastic pledges.

Throughout the semester Gamma Omega Chapter held a great many professional projects. Among them were tours of Armour-Dial Research, The Ormid Company, and PaloVerde Nuclear Plant. Many speakers were invited to attend our meetings, speaking on such topics as Recruiting and Interviewing Techniques, Marketing the 80's, Financial Crime and Investigation, and Women in Advertising.

Our service project this past semester was one we enjoyed so much in the fall that we decided to do a repeat performance. We assisted KAET Public Television with their tri-annual Tel-A-Thon by answering phones and accepting verbal pledges for donations (on the air!).

Financially, Gamma Omega Chapter prospered this semester. Our big project was a raffle. Some of the prizes were a hot air balloon ride over Phoenix, a weekend in Las Vegas, and several dinners at some of the finest restaurants in Phoenix.

This semester our calendar was quite full, but there is always room for an active social program! Throughout the semester we had several social functions. Some of the highlights were the second annual toga party, and the pledge social—Hawaiian Paradise. Gamma Omega Chapter also enjoyed a fun weekend with the Zeta Omega and the Gamma Psi Chapters in Flagstaff for the annual Arizona Deltasig Days. The weekend was hosted by the Zeta Omega Chapter of Flagstaff, Arizona.

The Brothers of Gamma Omega Chapter would like to wish all our Brothers the best of luck in the future; and we hope to see you at the Grand Chapter Congress this summer in Mackinac Island, Michigan.

GAMMA IOTA

WE DO DELIVER! Right to the door of the love of your life! The Gamma Iota Chapter at the University of New Mexico delivered and sold 2000 carnations to Valentines within the city limits. Many sweethearts were made happy by the efforts of all those involved. Special thanks to Steve Gobeli and the finance committee—they raised quite a profit, besides the city's love level. The new pledges also decided to enhance a few people's day with hugs and kisses. Their kissing booth was not only fun but profitable, too. The reporters of both the New Mexico Daily Lobo and the Albuquerque Journal/Tribune loved the performance. The papers carried photographs and articles on the pledges' "good work."

As a special service project the Brothers manned phones for a local educational television station, aiding in their fund drive. The chapter historian, on her way to another party, showed up and answered the phones in her toga. Since talking money is what business majors do best the television station made out well.

Brother Valdon Butler was nominated by the chapter to attend the district conference held in Portales, New Mexico, during the weekend of February 28. He was not lonely on the trip, however, as President R. J. Ferrari and several other chapter members made the trip with him. A good time and quite a few new ideas were shared by all.

A pledge class of 20 has been keeping the Big Brothers on their toes, not to mention our vice president in charge of pledge education, David Luchini, and his beautiful assistant, Lisa Baca Segotta. We are looking forward to their enhancement of our chapter.

Professionally speaking, Carolyn Barela has quite a schedule going. On February 20 the Public Service Company of New Mexico gave us a tour of their plant. Among the many speakers was Lee Zink, director of the Institute of Applied Research Services, who spoke on the "Growth Potential of the New Mexico Economy." Jerry Jordan, Dean of the Anderson School of Management, coached us on "What to Look For in the Graduate School." J. H. Presnell, executive vice president of Phillips Uranium Corporation, advised us and guests on "International Business Management." All talks were very stimulating since they affected many of our fields of endeavors.

Well on our way to accomplishing that goal of 100,000 CEI points, all Gamma Iota Chapter members are enjoying the fantastic spring weather, the great New Mexico sunshine and a promising semester of fun and learning. Adios, Amigos!

ZETA OMEGA

ZETA OMEGA CHAPTER at Northern Arizona University started Spring Quarter off quite well with a well run rush program which brought to us 20 new pledges.

Our professional program this past semester kept us very busy with tours of Coors and Ralston Purina. The professional program also included a very interesting speaker, Mr. Kellog from the Arizona Nuclear Project.

Zeta Omega Chapter was proud to have hosted the Gamma Omega and Gamma Psi Chapters at this year's annual Arizona Deltasig Days.

Emphasis this semester was placed on several activities to raise funds for the chapter, one of which included a very successful raffle.

The Brothers of Zeta Omega Chapter also represented the Small Business Council and The Arizona Chamber of Commerce as we went to individual small business owners to sell them memberships to the SBC.

A very special "Thank You" goes out to Brother Nancy Schwartz who worked very hard on the Operation Update Program. Thanks to Nancy's hard work, we were able to locate 18 lost Brothers, and obtained full CEI points in doing so.

The Brothers of our chapter will be working very hard to send our Delegate, Matt Kells, to this year's Grand Chapter Congress. We've planned a "Run for Fun," in which the proceeds will go to a special fund to help cover the cost to attend the Grand Chapter Congress. We're all very excited about this event and very proud to have Matt represent us.

The spring semester concluded with a community service project in which our Brothers helped the Flagstaff Hospital with their "Life Run."

The Brothers of Zeta Omega Chapter wish all Deltasigs a very enjoyable summer and a successful and productive year.

THE GUNNISON VALLEY fell victim to another snow drought. The winter of 1980-81 has commonly been referred to as "the winter that never was." However, the Zeta Kappa Chapter has been undaunted by the mild weather. A successful fund raising campaign has substantially rejuvenated our treasury. Concession sales during athletic events have turned a steady profit.

In a small town with a limited social life such as Gunnison, we have found "Brew and Boogie" dances to provide healthy deposits for our hungry bank accounts.

The professional activity aspect of our organization has been a busy one. We currently host a guest speaker every other week. Such speakers have been Becky Barton, winner of the "Young Careerist" award, and Gar Ingraham, former vice president of Retail Sales for Sears and Roebuck, Inc. In the road-trip category, we planned a trip to the Coors Brewery in Golden, Colorado.

Members of the fraternity are conducting a demographic research study for the Crested Butte Mountain Resort. This involves inter-

EPSILON THETA

EPSILON THETA CHAPTER wishes to present and welcome one new faculty Brother and 13 new undergraduate Brothers into the International Fraternity of Delta Sigma Pi! Pledge Educator Jim Bartley worked hard and long to properly prepare the ex-pledges for initiation into Delta Sigma Pi. The new Brothers were initiated on April 24, 1981.

As a chapter, Epsilon Theta continued in its efforts to broaden its professional programs and public relations. These efforts were spearheaded by Paul Goldberg, vice president for professional activities, and Bud Schmitz, director of community involvement. The professional program was highlighted by our tour of the San Francisco Hyatt Regency Hotel, and the San Francisco Branch of the IRS on April 24. Public relations included working with the Sacramento Blood Center during their campus blood drive on February 11 and 12. Also, Brothers chauffeured senior citizens to and from an activities night organized by a campus out-reach group in April.

Efforts to raise funds included the selling of "Student of Business" (S.O.B.) T-Shirts (initiated last semester by Financial Chairman Ron Wool), nightly donut and coffee sales near the Library, and concession sales during Pioneer Days. Financial Chairman Steve Kish and Pioneer Days Representative Chuck O'Malley are to be congratulated for their efforts.

President Tom Birdsall, along with Senior Vice President David Muscara and Treasurer

Paul Reese, deserve also to be recognized for their work in making this a successful semester.

Many Brothers of Epsilon Theta Chapter will be reading this article not at school, but in an office at a new job. We wish them luck, and remind them that they should be working and not sitting back with their feet up, reading this article!

THIS YEAR FOR Eta Chi Chapter has been one that will not be easily forgotten; it was a culmination of events setting a milestone in the history of the chapter.

Our professional program was one of great magnitude. Speakers included the Western Regional Vice President of IBM, a partner in a CPA firm, seminars on positive mental attitude and how to see yourself in an interview, and a tour of ABC studios, including a taping of the ever-popular "Mork and Mindy."

Our social calendar was also very eventful, headed by our annual Deltasig Day at the Races at Santa Anita Racetrack. This is a private party held in the infield of the track with our own private betting windows and a "refreshment" stand. This event will be remembered for quite some time as several Brothers made some very successful wagers on exactas. Also the Eta Chi Chapter held a Wine & Cheese recruiting party which was very well received, and our annual Tequila Party, which is always one party to be remembered.

Athletically, the Eta Chi Chapter avenged their intramural basketball season. This year the Chapter ended the season with a dramatic finish to clinch the division.

Financially the chapter is having some fun. We started an on-campus Coffee and Donut Sale which gave our egos a big boost, not to mention our treasury!

On a final note, for all of the Brothers who will be taking to the road this summer, remember: Come August, 1981, all roads lead to MACKINAC ISLAND! See you there!

BEHOLD HOW GOOD it is for Brothers to dwell together as one in unity. Spring semester proved challenging and united the Brothers here at Sacramento State. With 17 newly initiated Brothers, all ready to give us their best, it seemed there was nowhere to go but forward. So progress we did!

Financial security was a must. Teresa Cassaza as our vice president of fund raising kept the chapter busy with plenty of good ideas. We printed blotters featuring local businesses and a calendar of school activities. Casino Night was our main social and financial event with plenty of gambling, a few drinks and a lot of fun. Car washes, raffles, and a large Greek mixer also helped to fill the treasury.

It wasn't all work, though, as anyone who came to our Best Legs' competition during River City Days can tell you. Greek Week once again saw us in winning shape, both in the athletic events and the social gatherings. Our Brothers also fielded a strong basketball team and an outstanding softball team.

Congratulations go to Mr. Skip Loomis, our Regional Director, who this April celebrated his Silver Anniversary with Delta Sigma Pi. It seems it was just last spring, 1956, that he roamed the halls of the University of California at Berkeley as a pledge of the Rho Chapter. He is truly an inspiration to us all. Those were the days! This year's Epsilon Phi Chapter award for outstanding chefs goes to Epsilon Theta Chapter, CSU-Chico, for cooking some really good spaghetti and for having a great rush function.

Without a spring pledge class we were able to direct all our energies towards building unity and enhancing our name on campus. Professionalism was stressed, with a lot of good speakers giving us a workable knowledge about the business world. Our chapter also started a new program with the instructors on campus which was geared towards giving the Brothers a chance to meet the professors in an out-of-classroom situation. A lot of good contacts were made and knowing the instructors personally made the classes much more enjoyable. With more than 30 of our Brothers graduating, we wanted to send them off only after a night of Senior Recognition. The evening was highlighted by some traditional and some not so traditional awards and a lot of good-byes. We're proud that they've made it and we hope to see them in the future as active alumni.

In Theta Chi Chapter at San Jose State "Recruiting for Deltasig Means Business."

In closing, we'd like to welcome the newly initiated Brothers at San Luis Obispo. They've proved to be a great group, worthy of a round of applause. We are all looking forward to the Grand Chapter Congress and an active schedule for the fall semester. From all of us at the Epsilon Phi Chapter we'd like to wish all Brothers a safe and prosperous summer.

DELTA SIGMA

DELTA SIGMA CHAPTER started the spring semester with a lot of preparation work for recruitment. Senior Vice President Joavan Tseng planned to have a Faculty-Student barbecue the day before the two "Meet the Chapter" nights. With this event, we hoped to promote a closer bond between the business faculty and students on campus; another goal for this barbecue was to introduce our fraternity to the students prior to rush.

Besides recruiting, much time was also put into the organization of our annual "Meet the Companies Night," when representatives from many companies of different professions came to meet with juniors and seniors from all colleges of the University. Vice President for Professional Activities Cynthia Morris worked very hard on the project and we all looked forward to a successful evening.

As to financial aspects, Vice President of Finance Bob Sherman has arranged to have Brothers of the chapter fill out income tax return forms for students on campus as a fund raiser this semester. After a little assistance from the Chapter Advisor, William Kinsella, all qualified Brothers are in gear to make this a very profitable project.

Although there are so many events taking place, we still have time to relax. A weekend retreat at the Green Valley Lake Mountain resort area helped to relieve some tension from school and to create a closer relationship among all the Brothers.

MENLO

ZETA RHO CHAPTER is one of the smallest chapters of Delta Sigma Pi; yet, its members make up a large percentage of the 350 Menlo College's School of Business Administration students. Our chapter's small size permits us to work as a cohesive group. It ensures each of us an important voice in chapter matters. The unity, closeness, and strength of our personal relationships depend on it. Zeta Rho Chapter is proud and lucky to be small. We can allow every member a chance to participate, grow, and lead in each phase of our plans and activities. No one is a "nameless face" avoiding responsibility. Each Brother is a central member in establishing and planning our goals. Even though we number only 21, we make things happen at Menlo.

Our weekly speaker program brings important businessmen to the campus. These men, a president of the Peninsula Times Tribune, personnel of Wren Advertising, and an executive vice president of Southern Pacific Railroad, to name a few, speak to a roomful of students, professors, and Deltasigs. They talk about their respective fields and give the students new insights and better understanding of the business world.

March 27 was the date of our Rose Dance. Zeta Rho Chapter sponsors this formal, off-campus affair each spring. This year the dance takes place at the Hyatt Palo Alto. It is one of the two major social functions offered to Menlo students. Deltasig contributes both intellectually and socially to the Menlo environment.

As a chapter, Zeta Rho Chapter must protect its own life blood. This term we will tour The Wall Street Journal and MJB Coffee facilities. Tentatively planned is a trip to the Free-Flow Packaging Company's nearby offices. We also have an on-going and very successful fund raising project. The Brothers provide a birthday cake service for other students. The response has been astounding. By the time this article is released, we will have completed our pledge program for spring 1981. As in other chapters Zeta Rho Chapter has its own traditional pledging activities. They include a night city tour of San Francisco, which broadens the neophytes' awareness of their surroundings, and three major projects to give them experience in their professional field, in fund-raising, and in charitable endeavors. Also, we are beginning a monthly newsletter to stimulate alumni interest in our chapter and we contribute to each issue of the campus newspaper to inform our fellow students about Deltasig. These internal activities are undertaken with the same aggressiveness as our campus contributions.

We hope that every one of our activities receives the same amount of campus support as it does within the fraternity. We are proud of our efforts and intend to continue them as far as our size and student body interest will allow.

NEVADA

DELTA PI

FLY DELTA PI. Flying with professional, social, rush, and community projects is exactly what the University of Nevada-Reno Chapter has been doing. As a 100,000 CEI point chapter, the members have been diligently working to capture the award again.

Nevada Attorney General Richard Bryan gave an outstanding speech on "Law and Government in Nevada," while another guest speaker included Richard Goeglein, president of Harrah's Hotels and Casinos and executive vice president and director of Holiday Inns, Inc.

As a community service project, the energetic group sponsored a March of Dimes Bowl-A-Rama at the MGM Grand Hotel. The money raised was for the purpose of treating children born with birth defects.

Patrick Tabor, Delta Pi president, has been elected as our official Grand Chapter Congress Delegate. Traveling with five other members, the group is intent on arriving in Michigan in the spirit of what Nevada is all about.

Returning to the court for a second year, the fraternity played basketball in an intramural league. While the win/loss record wasn't outstanding, the team competition was a lot of fun.

To all chapters of Delta Sigma Pi, we extend our best wishes. It's sometimes forgotten, but never untrue, that it's not the chapter that makes our members, but our members that make our chapter.

SAN DIEGO STATE

IOTA PI

IOTA PI CHAPTER at San Diego State University began an active spring semester with an aggressive recruiting drive. Our on-campus exposure with the traditional "club days," two rush parties, and "Meet the Chapter" night brought the fraternity many potential recruits. The tremendous turnout was due to the growing Business Student Body along with the increased awareness of Delta Sigma Pi on campus. Students are realizing that employers consider involvement in activities equally as important as grades.

Our Iota Pi Chapter has experienced remarkable growth since its inception on May 5, 1979. Our chapter has 53 active members and over 50 alumni. This semester our membership committee, headed by Dusty Foster, decided to install quotas on new recruits by class ranking. Many of our members will be graduating in May, leaving many less experienced members. This new method of selection will reduce the turnover at the end of each semester, and will allow for a more steady growth.

Iota Pi Chapter fully expects to maintain its 100,000 CEI point designation again this year. Under the direction of our vice president for professional events, we have had two successful professional events. The finance committee is planning an aggressive fund raising project involving our semi-annual T-Shirt sale and a new addition, beer mugs. We anticipate this to be a great semester.

SAN FRANCISCO STATE

DELTA OMICRON

SPRING 1981. Here in San Francisco, Delta Omicron Chapter is enjoying one of our better semesters in recent memories. There is rejuvenated interest on the San Francisco State University campus, not seen since before the student strikes of the late 60's. This spring, Delta Omicron Chapter, with President Gilman Louie, Senior Vice President Margaret Eng, and Pledge "Mom" Jennifer Leong, has 24 pledges. This is much larger than usual, thanks to a good rush program.

San Francisco State's campus itself now has over 190 student groups and organizations, but only one professional business fraternity. Delta Sigma Pi is prospering and growing numerically along with the Business School.

Our latest professional activity has been to join the very prestigious San Francisco City Chamber of Commerce. The vice president of professional activities is Cori Nerheim who leads a very competent and productive committee. Vice president of finance is Steve Zentes. Steve also has Dan Neumann on his committee, organizing our very important and highly visible weekly donut sales. Juan Martinez is paving the way for another 100,000 CEI point semester.

This spring, we are also grateful for the great contributions and efforts of our Treasurer Holly Higgins and our Secretary Jean Anderson.

Athletically, we owe a softball game to Zeta Rho Chapter for beating us last semester and also for calling us Gamma Omicron Chapter in the January issue of The DELTASIG. Our social chairman is Sandy Skovar and, socially, our Rush Party was great.

Matrimonially, we offer two Brothers up in September. William "Skip" Shaw III and my Big Brother, Micheline Savarin. Congratulations, Skip and Mich!

SAN JOSE STATE

THETA CHI

THETA CHI CHAPTER of San Jose State University has had a very busy and successful semester. The Western Regional Picnic was held here on April 25. Many of the 13 chapters in the Western Region were represented at the picnic and a good time was had by all. It was a welcome opportunity to get together with new friends and old. We have also been preparing all semester for our 10th Anniversary celebration of Theta Chi Chapter's installation! The celebration was on May 3 with a formal dinner and dance. Many alumni took this opportunity to see new Brothers and other alumni.

In order to improve communications between Theta Chi Chapter and other chapters, we undertook the task of publishing a newsletter this semester—the first we have put out for a number of years. With contributions from most of the Brothers, the newsletter succeeded in publicizing many of the events we had during the semester and also in providing an opportunity for all of us to work on improving our chapter's self-image through presentation to others. Hopefully, other chapters gained some useful information upon reading the newsletter.

One of the many professional activities we had this semester was "Dress for Success" which was presented by Changes, an appearance consultants firm in the San Jose area. The program was a professional fashion show which showed us how to put together wardrobes suitable for interviews and the business world in general—on a tight budget. We had a great turnout of chapter members and other business students for this interesting event.

We would like to congratulate the following graduating Brothers who have contributed greatly to Theta Chi Chapter and its success during their past years as Brothers: Cathy Cheung; Ronald Chun; Ramona Dale; Jesse Frederick; Ralph Guraydin; Jackie Marderosian; Linda Menezes; Cynthia Paul; Lynn Thode; Ed Thomas; and Dorothy Woo.

We would also like to congratulate this semester's new initiates and wish them luck as they enter the fraternity. We're confident they will make the most of their membership and will contribute greatly to Delta Sigma Pi as Brothers.

Thank you to all the spring semester officers who helped make it possible to have such a successful spring semester. Have a nice summer and please look for Kris Matthias, our representative at the Grand Chapter Congress in Mackinac Island. We'll see you there!

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

PHI

THIS HAS BEEN an exciting and successful semester for Phi Chapter. Not only are we accumulating CEI points, but our spirit is running high.

Thanks to an informative Regional Conference last fall, we currently have one of the largest spring pledge classes that Phi Chapter has known since its reactivation in 1978. These pledges are made up of well qualified, hard working individuals who are learning the meaning of "Brotherhood," and we are behind them all the way.

For our professional activities, so far we have been able to go on tours of A & M Records and the Pacific Stock Exchange. Both were fascinating. At A & M we were given free albums. We had hoped to be given some free stock shares at P.S.E., but they didn't go for the idea. Oh, well!

This is also our first semester involved in a long-term project that we have been planning since fall semester. This program consists of visiting local high schools and speaking to seniors about almighty USC and the opportunities that becoming a business major offer. Once we are fully established in the schools we are looking towards major companies to sponsor us. This program offers companies an outlet for their community service, as well as a tax shelter. If anyone is interested in more information about this program, please write to Phi Chapter. Michigan, here we come!

Action play during the North Central Regional Basketball Tournament hosted by Epsilon Chapter at Iowa and held in Iowa City.

Grand President Mallonee used this "form" to win the pool tournament at the recent North Central Regional Basketball Tournament.

North Central Region Holds Basketball Tournament

The traditional basketball tournament for the chapters of the North Central Region was held February 13-15 in Iowa City with the Epsilon Chapter at Iowa as the host.

The activities started Friday night in the Iowa Memorial Union where the Recreation Center was reserved for the Deltasigs. Tournaments were held in foosball, ping-pong, pinball, bowling and pool. Nobody less than Grand President Mike Mallonee captured the trophy in pool. After the competition, the Brothers were able to meet more closely at a party held at the Carrousel Inn lasting until early Saturday morning!

The Brothers recuperated and rested on Saturday morning since the basketball tournament itself did not start until 1 P.M. For the third year in a row, Theta Tau Chapter from St. Cloud State captured the winner's trophy. Alpha Eta Chapter of South Dakota finished second with Alpha Delta of Nebraska-Lincoln third and the hosting chapter, Epsilon, fourth.

Epsilon Chapter started something new this year by having a volleyball tournament for the women. Although not all chapters competed, it was regarded as a good initiative and will be continued. Alpha Epsilon Chapter of Minnesota defeated the hosting Epsilon Chapter in a close final and captured the trophy.

After the competition, the 165 Brothers enjoyed a banquet at the Carrousel Inn. During the dinner speeches were given by Past Grand President Bill Tatum, and Grand President Mike Mallonee. Marc Franson, the newly appointed North Central Regional Director, was also installed in his office by Mike Mallonee.

Music was provided by "The Friends" for the dance which followed dinner and a chanting contest was held in which Epsilon Chapter captured the trophy for the second year in a row with their chant, "We are the Brothers of Epsilon." The Brothers of Theta Tau Chapter proved that they are big drinkers by winning the beer chugging contest. Finally, Brother Mallonee awarded the Rowdy Award to the hosting Epsilon Chapter.

Before the chapters took to the road again Sunday morning, Epsilon Chapter served coffee, orange juice and doughnuts.

All the participants agreed that the weekend had been a success and are looking forward to the 1982 tournament.—ULF NYGREN

Alpha Epsilon Chapter at Minnesota won the women's volleyball tournament championship during the North Central Regional Basketball Tournament.

Historic Island Awaits The Professionals

Mackinac Island is consistently chosen as one of America's top ten resort centers. An official park preserve of the State of Michigan, historic Mackinac is a resort with a past. The Island is only 3-1/2 miles long and 2-1/2 miles wide, situated in the sparkling Straits of Mackinac, connecting Lake Huron and Lake Michigan. It is directly east of St. Ignace, Michigan, and about six miles from Mackinaw City, within sight of the Mackinac Bridge which connects Upper and Lower Michigan.

The most amazing thing about Mackinac Island is its 19th century main street; a post card village. Yachts, sailing ships, outboard motor boats and excursion craft rock at their moorings. There is a boardwalk with a magnificent view of the Straits and the Mackinac Bridge, second longest bridge of its kind in the world. Much of the Victorian elegance for which Mackinac Island is famous stems from its prime attraction, the Grand Hotel.

Mackinac Island has been a place of magical importance. The Indians worshipped it as a shrine because of its entrancing beauty, towering elevations, arresting rock formations, and sweeping vistas. The Indians believed the Island was a sacred gift from their gods as a place for burial of their illustrious dead.

The first white man to see the Island was French voyageur Jean Nicolet in 1634. Father Marquette established a mission on Mackinac Island in 1671. Old Fort Macinac, built in 1780, was captured by the British during the War of 1812 and returned to the United States in 1817.

The Jesuits made it the first outpost of civilization in the Northwest. Then it became the citadel of the Lakes and the battle point between French, British, and Americans, under whose flags Mackinac has lived.

The recreational activities at Mackinac Island are many and varied. You may swim in the Serpentine Pool at the hotel or relax on the island's delightful sand beaches. There is excellent golf at the sporty Wawashkamo course near the hotel. There are also facilities for cycling, baseball, golf, riding, shuffleboard, carriage tours, rolling chair rides and hiking. Indoor activities include bingo, bridge, dancing, movies and ping pong. Historic points of interest include Fort Mackinac, Fort Holmes, Astor Fur Post, Mission Church, Beaumont Memorial and the Biddle Home.

The shops along Main street offer a variety of wares, ranging from the finest in china to inexpensive souvenirs and curios. The Island is also noted for its fudge which is made fresh daily.

CONVENTION PROGRAM

A summarized tentative program appears in this issue of the magazine. Conventioneers will want to arrive after lunch on Sunday, August 16, to check into their rooms, complete convention registration and relax a while before the evening activities. The Grand President's Reception will give everyone a chance to meet all members of the Board of Directors and following dinner there will be music and dancing.

On Monday, August 17, the convention program swings into action with a dynamite Keynote Address by Michael Mescon who also keynoted the 1977 convention. The Opening Business Session will also include a State of the Fraternity Address by the Grand President, a report from the Committee on Nominations, and other opening business. The Awards Luncheon will recognize the Honor Roll Chapters, the Best Chapter, the Most Improved Chapter, and will include other special recognitions and awards.

On both Monday and Tuesday, August 17 and 18, Educational Seminars will be held for undergraduates, alumni, and national officers. Tuesday afternoon is free for enjoyment of the attractions of the island and the hotel.

On Wednesday, August 19, the legislative Session will be held and will be followed by a Meet the Candidates Forum for meeting the nominees for all the national offices to be elected. On Wednesday afternoon the Initiation of the Honorary Member will be an inspiration to all of those (members only) who witness it.

Wednesday evening will see the elegant Grand Chapter Congress Banquet in the hotel's dramatic dining room with an address by the new National Honorary Member.

On Thursday, August 20, the Election Session of the convention will elect the national officers, including all fifteen regional directors, for the 1981-83 biennium, followed by the official installation of these new officers.

Concluding the convention will be the Farewell Luncheon in the hotel dining room giving everyone a opportunity for that last quick visit with each other and will include some final awards and recognitions.

Please remember that this is your convention. It is an opportunity for undergraduates and alumni alike to be heard and to have a voice in the legislation, the elections, and the operations of the fraternity. Beyond that, it is an opportunity to enjoy the fraternalism of Delta Sigma Pi that exists across the land. You don't want to be left out, so be there!

CONVENTION INFORMATION

Those registering for the convention will receive detailed information sheets listing transportation options, wardrobe needs, dress requirements of the hotel (dress requirement will be enforced by the hotel and the national officers of the fraternity), climate, available activities, convention program, and other needed information.

TRANSPORTATION

Surface transportation to the ferry docks at Mackinaw City, Michigan, is via I-75 North in Michigan. Republic Airlines has service into Pellston, Michigan, with limousine service available to the ferry docks 12 miles away. Charter plane service is available from the Pellston Airport to Mackinac Island itself. The charter plane service is the only option to the ferry—no bridge connects the island to the mainland and no cars are allowed on the island.
