The Editor's Foreword

THERE APPEARS TO BE great interest among the chapters and members in the Thirteenth Grand Chapter Congress of Delta Sigma Pi which will be held in Philadelphia next September. The General Committee in charge has made elaborate plans for the comfort and entertainment of visiting Deltasigs. Philadelphia is a historical city well worth visiting. Delta Sigma Pi has two active chapters and a flourishing alumni club there, and there is a large Deltasig population within easy driving distance to Philadelphia. We expect a record breaking registration. Many chapters are already organizing delegations to make the Philadelphia trip. Better start making your vacation plans now. Four or five members driving together, sharing expenses, can make this trip very economically, see a lot of the country en route, attend the fraternity convention and also visit the New York World's Fair. Don't pass up this wonderful opportunity. A special circular will be released this summer regarding the Grand Chapter Congress and will be mailed to any member requesting it from the Central Office.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 8 has been designated by the administration of the New York World's Fair as Delta Sigma Pi Day. This is the day following adjournment of our Grand Chapter Congress at Philadelphia and there will be a mass movement of Deltasigs to New York that day. Our entire plans cannot be announced at this time but full details will be published this summer and it is hoped that every Deltasig residing in or near New York will make it a point to attend the World's Fair on Friday, September 8. It may be possible that the fraternity will have a special registration booth there, and there may be arrangements made for the brothers to dine together and spend the evening. More about this later.

CONGRATULATIONS to Beta Chapter at Northwestern University on the occasion of the celebration of their Silver Anniversary in February. A total of 157 members attended the special banquet held then. Many members returned from distant cities to be present. It was a delightful occasion and will be fully reported in the next issue of THE DELTASIG.

THE ATTENTION of all chapters is called to the newly established Delta Sigma Pi Chapter Leadership Ring announced elsewhere in this issue. Such an award has been requested by several chapters and it is felt that the form finally approved by the Grand Council offers a most appropriate means of recognizing brilliant leadership within the chapter. It is hoped that many chapters will adopt this award locally.—H. G. WRIGHT.

EUGENE D. MILENER
Grand President of Delta Sigma Pi

I SUPPOSE there is no phase of extra-curricular work that crowds into the life of young college men more genuine opportunities for self development than active work on chapter committees, especially in a professional business administration fraternity. College life, as it should be, to meet the needs and abilities of vigorous young men, is of necessity geared to a fast pace. But a straight college career needs rounding out. Opportunities are needed that are not offered by the curriculum. The chapter offers enduring fraternal friendship and brotherhood and contact with ritualistic perfection. It offers social opportunities second to none on the campus, and it immediately places the undergraduate in contact with many alumni. These are among the obvious phases of fraternity membership.

But one of the most valuable and ever-present opportunities offered, other than filling an elected office, is in seriously participating in committee work. It is a splendid training ground for future participation in important business affairs. The young man who understands the power of committee work has the jump on those who don't. I am convinced that the average business employee does not realize the extent to which management of large concerns depends upon committees to help in reaching decisions. Such committees are frequently given definite questions to study and report upon. While usually composed of executives, subordinates who can constructively contribute to the solution of assigned subjects are often selected to work with the executive personnel. It is one of the most effective means whereby ability becomes recognized; and a thorough knowledge of committee procedure, and of how to handle oneself in committee meetings, is just as important as sound judgement and a thorough technical knowledge.

Each man in our chapters should seriously serve on committees, not just because he is appointed, but because of the opportunities such work offers for preparation in an important business field that is too often overlooked and seldom thoroughly understood and appreciated.

Another milestone in Delta Sigma Pi was reached when Beta Chapter completed its "First Quarter Century." Thus our second chapter has reached the point at which its early graduates can be classed as real "old timers." In a few years their sons will begin being pledged, as has been the case at Alpha for several years. It has been seven years since our Mother Chapter reached its 25th birthday, but there will be no more periods of that length between silver anniversaries. Gamma reaches that important point in two years and Delta a few years later. After that they will come fast and furiously and the Fraternity itself will then be looking toward its Golden Anniversary. Congratulations to Beta on its fine accomplishments during its First Quarter Century.

And speaking of birthday celebrations, that was a honey Beta Nu held a few weeks ago. Usually held at a downtown hotel, this year's dinner party was held at the house with a three fold purpose. First, to acquaint the alumni with recently completed renovations and decorations and to show them how 65 men could be handled in banquet formation; second, to whoop up the Grand Chapter Congress and practice how to be one of the host chapters; and third, to have a good time. All three were equally successful as visitors from several chapters will attest! Every month more arrangements for the Congress are completed. Brother Hanby's publicity is now under full steam and I am happy to announce that Brother Harry C. Cox, Alpha 13, has agreed to head a group of old timers who will sponsor a mass movement to Philadelphia, especially for the Opening Banquet, of men who have been in Delta Sigma Pi 20 years or more. (Alpha, Beta and Gamma men take notice!) If that banquet isn't the greatest event the fraternity will have ever seen, at least a half dozen Philadelphia Deltasigs will be ready to cross the Delaware and never return.

Within five years of its installation Beta Xi is leading the Chapter Efficiency Contest. Their recent winter formal was one of the finest events of its kind it has yet been my pleasure to attend, and indicates how a leading chapter gets that way.

Was glad to see, during a recent visit to Boston, that Gamma men and Boston alumni are as active as they are. Led by a group of men who were at the Atlanta Congress in 1936 this group of New England Deltasigs expect to reach Philadelphia in force this September.

Grand Chapter Congress to Meet at Hotel Warwick, Philadelphia

THE THIRTEENTH GRAND CHAPTER CONGRESS OF DELTA SIGMA PI will meet in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, next September 5-7, 1939 and will make their headquarters at Philadelphia's popular Hotel Warwick which is situated at 17th and Locust Streets. The entire hotel staff under the supervision of George Lamaze, executive vice-president and Gerald R. Trimble, manager, will be on hand to extend a general welcome to the visiting delegates and members. The Warwick welcomes you hospitably as would any gracious host. Its atmosphere is that of a fine home where people live, well cared for with deft, unobtrusive service in surroundings of beauty and refinement. Its atmosphere has established the Warwick as the favorite of those visitors to the city who demand the best of everything. Yet prices remain pleasingly moderate for superlative accommodations.

The spacious rooms (there are 900) at the Warwick are furnished with distinguished taste. They have more than adequate closet space and every bedroom has its private bath complete with shower. The living rooms of the suites have an inviting air of homelike informality and many of the suites are equipped with complete kitchen facilities. The mezzanine floor which will be used exclusively by Delta Sigma Pi during the entire week of the convention provides superb facilities for the meeting rooms, committee rooms and various activities of the Grand Chapter Congress. The Grand Ballroom, the Colonial Salon, and the Orchid Suite will be utilized by the fraternity for its various activities and all lend themselves to the spirit of entertainment for all occasions. The Hotel Warwick's world famous cuisine is under the direction of George Lamaze, restaurateur extraordinary, whose Arrowhead Inn at Saratoga established his international reputation for superb food, the delight of gourmets.

Members of the fraternity present will also enjoy the environment offered by the Cocktail Room and the Embassy Room. The Cocktail Room is the gathering place of smart Philadelphians and world travelers who congregate there to enjoy its intimate informal charm. Wit and laughter mingle with the tinkle of ice in glasses and folks linger long over the fascinating special dishes Mr. Lamaze creates there. There is dancing at cocktail time and also supper dancing in this delightful room. The Cocktail Room orchestra under the able direction of Allen Subel feature "Celestial Music" something musically referred to as "sweet swing." For subtle rhythmic dance music as well as popular swing this orchestra is outstanding and also prepared to play the many requests asked of them each evening.

The Embassy Room presents the masterpieces of the Lamaze cuisine at luncheon and dinner. There are prix fixe meals and also a la carte service. Here you will find guests of the hotel entertaining and also the many celebrities of stage and screen who make their headquarters at the Warwick while in Philadelphia. Among the recent guests at the Warwick have been Deanna Durbin, Eddie Cantor, Ben Bernie, Helen Hayes, Eddie Duchin, Ted Lewis, Katharine Hepburn and many others.

The Hotel Warwick is the permanent headquarters of the Junior League of Philadelphia, the fashionable Acorn Club (the first women's social club in the United States), the Women's University Club and the Peterson Bridge Club. All of this attracts a fashionable clientele of permanent and transient guests.

Members attending the Thirteenth Grand Chapter Congress of Delta Sigma Pi will find the Hotel Warwick ideally situated in Philadelphia. The cities financial and business centers, theatres and smart shops are within a few minutes walking distance of its doors, yet the hotel is three or four blocks removed from the congested business center. The University of Pennsylvania, Temple University, Franklin Field, Convention Hall, the Art Museum, the Curtis Institute of Music and the Penn Athletic Club are close by. It is easily reached by all principal highways. It is also conveniently situated near the railroad stations. Every part of greater Philadelphia and the suburbs is easily accessible from the Hotel Warwick. A modern fireproof garage adjoins the hotel and there are numerous open air parking lots in the neighborhood.

The specially attractive room rates have been contracted for by the fraternity. Single rooms to accommodate one person will be $3 per day. Double rooms to accommodate two persons will be $5 per day or $2.50 per person per day. Suite to accommodate four persons will be $8 per day or $2 per person per day. All rooms have private bath, shower, and individual beds. Every possible need of the guests is carefully provided for and every service will be found at the Warwick, including valet service, barber shop, beauty salon, florist, and shops. Situated within easy access of every phase of Philadelphia's social and civic life, and with Franklin Field so close by, the Hotel Warwick is chosen as headquarters by many important visiting groups, athletic teams, etc.

And now a word in regard to the program for the Thirteenth Grand Chapter Congress of Delta Sigma Pi. This meeting is being held the week of Labor Day. Members will start arriving in Philadelphia Saturday, Sunday and Monday. The official registration office will open Monday afternoon, September 4, and members arriving that day will devote their time to official registration, being assigned to their rooms, sightseeing, and getting acquainted. The Grand Chapter Congress Opening Banquet will be held Tuesday night in the Hotel Warwick, and with large delegations from near-by cities planning on attending this important affair, the committee expects to break all attendance records for members present at a fraternity banquet that night. All the Grand Officers of the fraternity will be presented as well as all of the delegates and delegations and visiting members. A prominent member of Delta Sigma Pi, nationally known, will be our guest speaker at the banquet that evening. This Opening Banquet is always one of the highlights of the Grand Chapter Congress. With members present from all sections of the country representing more than 50 chapters here is an opportunity to fully appreciate the size and scope of Delta Sigma Pi. Many interesting features are being planned for this evening.

The first business session will be held at 9:30 A.M. Wednesday morning, September 6. There will be morning and afternoon business sessions both Wednesday and Thursday. On Wednesday evening the traditional Delta Sigma Pi Stag Party will be held at the Hotel Warwick. This party will be strictly informal in character, there will be an enjoyable floor show presented and every opportunity will be given the visitors to thoroughly enjoy themselves. The famous Yellow Dog initiation will be held following the conclusion of the Stag Party.

A Model Initiation will be held on Thursday and the official fraternity photograph will be taken that day. The last business session will take place Thursday afternoon and when all business of the fraternity has been transacted and the Grand Council elected adjournment will follow. Everybody will then start getting ready for the grand finale, the Grand Chapter Congress Dinner-Dance. To many members this is the most enjoyable convention activity of all. Several hundred Deltasigs and their wives or lady friends will gather in the Grand Ballroom of the Hotel Warwick for this gala evening. There will be many special parties preceding the Dinner-Dance. A fine orchestra and special entertainment features will be provided, and the party will last long after midnight. The traditional Delta Sigma Pi Diamond Badge Drawing will take place at this party. Dates will be provided by the Philadelphia members for our out-of-town brothers. And when the last dance has been played and this party breaks up the Thirteenth Grand Chapter Congress of Delta Sigma Pi will become history, and will become fond memories to the several hundred Deltasigs who will have been present.

On Friday the members will start packing preparatory to departure for Atlantic City, Washington, D.C., the New York World's Fair or their respective cities of residence, while the Central Office staff and the committee in charge will remain to conclude the many business and organization details incident to the meeting. A daily newspaper will be published during the Grand Chapter Congress and distributed to all members present. A special committee will see that the visiting ladies are entertained during their visit. Another committee will see to it that every visiting member sees the city of Philadelphia and its environs as thoroughly as desired. A special trip to the seashore (Atlantic City) is being planned. Little need be said in regard to the many places of historical interest in the city of Philadelphia. They are too well known to be covered in detail here. And surely just about every member present will attend the New York World's Fair before or following the Thirteenth Grand Chapter Congress. With all these attractions about all that remains to be done is for YOU to plan to be present at the Thirteenth Grand Chapter Congress of Delta Sigma Pi in Philadelphia next September. Several groups of members are being organized to make the trip to Philadelphia and New York by automobile, visiting many points of interest en route, sharing expenses. These parties will originate in various cities such as Detroit, Chicago, Atlanta, New Orleans, Columbus, St. Louis, Omaha, and elsewhere. Members interested in joining such parties or in organizing

The New York World's Fair of 1939

By J. Wm. Schulze, Alpha Chapter
Director of Banking and Cashiering, New York World's Fair

VISITORS PASSING THROUGH the imposing entrances of New York World's Fair 1939 will view an exposition representing over a quarter of a billion dollars in value. More than one hundred and fifty millions is the cost of improving the grounds and approaches, constructing buildings and bridges, laying storm drains, sewage systems, conduits and other underground improvements, designing and erecting sculptures and murals, and constructing exhibits.

The products to be exhibited will be worth considerably more than one hundred million dollars in addition. In fact, it is estimated that the products coming from abroad will be valued at between seventy-five and one hundred million dollars without estimating domestic products to be shown.

There are, for example, five million dollars in famous jewels and precious gems, complete trains such as the "Coronation Scot" in the British Exhibit, and the trains to be exhibited by the Eastern Railroad Presidents' Conference from the earliest days of railroading to the modern streamliners, famous works of art, complete manufacturing plants, and other similarly interesting and exceedingly valuable exhibits.

Members of Delta Sigma Pi Fraternity, mostly trained in schools of commerce and schools of business administration, will be likely to seek some business justification for all this concentration of value—particularly since most of the buildings will be demolished immediately the Fair is over. That same inquiry, quite naturally, entered the minds of practically all of the executives and other employees in our huge organization when they decided to join in this stupendous work.

The purposes of the Fair are of both economic and social import.

In the prospectus issued when the Four Per Cent Debentures were launched to finance the Fair Corporation's pre-Fair expenditures, it was estimated that the attendance during 1939 would be forty million. Lately, a number of publications have made their own independent studies, and estimates running from sixty million to ninety-five million have been made. Accepting the lowest estimate, it is obvious that hundreds of millions of dollars will be put in circulation, not only in New York but in other parts of the country as well.

The first year's attendance at the Century of Progress was something over half this lowest estimate, and Chicago business men will tell you that the money circulated in that city as a result of the Fair was astoundingly large. This immediate economic result alone is expected to justify the cost.

If the advertising and sales efforts which annually have been spent by exhibitors result in stimulating profitable business—and no one can doubt that they do—then the continued opportunity over a six months' period to present their products and their fascinating manufacturing and sales stories to the millions who will congregate here, must be even more profitable not only during the Fair but also after it is over. Many products which have become famous obtained their initial stimulus at large international expositions. The second economic result, then, is continued business improvement after the Fair finally closes its gates.

We have reason to believe that the effect upon the social, artistic, and educational welfare of the country will be far reaching.

Architecturally, and in every other way, we are doing things here which will live long after many of us are gone. The Columbian Exposition in Chicago in 1893, the Panama Pacific Exposition in San Francisco in 1915, and other large international fairs have been responsible for epoch making changes, and we feel sure that this will be particularly true of the New York World's Fair 1939. There is no way in which these developments, tremendously important though they are, can be measured in dollars.

It is an inspiration to most of us, too, to know that we have made over an unsightly, smelly swamp and dumping ground with a measly little stream trickling through it—which for generations has been a bad spot in the suburbs of New York City—into the site for the now internationally famous New York World's Fair. After the close of the Fair a beautiful park of 1216 acres—big enough for ten golf courses, for example—adorned by two fine lakes, will take its place. Here will be a recreation center and playground for millions of New Yorkers

J. Wm. SCHULZE

for generations to come.

Some sixty foreign nations will be represented at the New York World's Fair. A number of them have erected huge structures and are spending millions of dollars. The total expenditure by foreign governments, exclusive of the value of the products to be exhibited, is estimated at $31,000,000. These nations, which accepted the invitation of the President of the United States to participate, are grouped together in neighborly fashion in the government exhibit area flanking a seven hundred foot Court of Peace, with the United States Government Building at one end and a large Lagoon of Nations at the other.

The President of the Fair Corporation, Grover A. Whalen, who, from early morning until late at night, is actively in touch with every phase of the gigantic task of building the world's greatest exposition and who, both here and abroad, has met all of the important officials of the foreign nations taking part, confidently expects that a natural result of the grouping of these nations next door to each other will be an unconscious but forceful aid to peace. When nations, like men, put their feet under the same table, differences can be composed more easily than through diplomatic correspondence.

So, then, the benefits to be derived from this huge effort are both immediate and far reaching. If the sum total could be computed in terms of money, the figure would be so staggering that the cost, however large it may be, would be dwarfed by comparison.

There is a strong temptation in an article of this kind to dwell at length upon many of the interesting phases of New York World's Fair, but the limitation of space here saves the reader from a long discussion.

The extensive Fair grounds are dominated by the 700 foot Trylon and the Perisphere 200 feet in diameter. The Trylon can be seen from a distance of many miles. Its height may be compared with the Washington Monument which is 555 feet. The Perisphere—the equivalent of an eighteen story building from floor to roof—houses the Fair Corporation's own focal exhibit, which serves as the keynote to the "World of Tomorrow." From two magic carpets (continuously moving platforms) high in the air, the visitor will view "Democracy," the city of the future, both by day and by night, to the accompaniment of a newly composed World's Fair marching song and a choir of 1000 voices.

Other buildings erected by the Fair Corporation will contain focal exhibits pointing to future progress in various fields of human life. In fact, the huge exhibit area is broadly divided into the major human interests, such as transportation, communication, shelter, clothing, food, health, production, and distribution.

Within these fields private enterprise is intensely active in the preparation of marvelous exhibits ranging in size from buildings and outdoor activities on a 40,000 square foot tract down to the smaller spaces within Fair-owned exhibit buildings. Already hundreds of thousands of words have been written by more facile pens than mine describing them. We have here at the Fair a very thick volume for our own information presenting only a terse description of each for operating purposes.

The roadways and streets on the Fair Site, if laid end to end, would extend over a distance of sixty miles. Do not let that frighten you. A high speed peripheral transportation system and various means of conveyances on the interior roads will take you from place to place with the utmost comfort.

Our landscaping artists and technicians have transformed what was formerly a desolate swamp with hardly a bush on it into a fine park with thousands of trees of many varieties, expansive, dignified lawns, many fascinating gardens with their backgrounds of hedges in spiral and other forms, and of massed shrubbery, both flowering and evergreen.

A large area devoted to the entertainment and amusement of visitors both young and old runs the gamut from new kinds of thrills in the form of rides and parachute drops through awe-inspiring and laugh-provoking shows up to the more classical types of recreation. Foreign and domestic experts in these matters have been at work for many months upon designs and preparations. "The Children's World," for example, is a section devoted exclusively to the entertainment of the youngsters.

There are eighty restaurants on the Fair grounds, including those under the sponsorship of the various foreign nations where native dishes prepared by native chefs are served in the native atmosphere and manner. In addition, there are hundreds of food and refreshment stands of every kind—all under the closest sanitary supervision. There is no reason why any one's palate or pocketbook should not be satisfied.

By day, New York World's Fair will be a gay, enticing place with its hundred of flags and banners and its pastel colored buildings (for the first time representing all the colors of the spectrum artistically arranged). At night, it will be truly awe-inspiring. It is safe to say that nowhere else in the world has there been such a display of beautiful lighting as the electrical experts of the Fair Corporation have provided. The broad expanses of exteriors of buildings are lighted by built-in cove lighting in various colors. Towering light pylons and street standards never before seen, in what may now appear to be weird shapes but in the world of tomorrow may become commonplace, all in various colors and hues—with no glare anywhere—are ingeniously and strategically placed throughout the grounds.

Crowning all this beauty of light will be the fountains on the Lagoon of Nations and on Fountain Lake—water thrown high in the air lighted from underneath in many colors, intermingled with flame, smoke and fireworks, synchronized with beautiful strains of music. They alone will be worth coming many miles to see.

Delta Sigma Pi Scholarship Key Winners for 1938

THE DELTA SIGMA PI Scholarship Key, first established in 1912, is awarded annually by the fraternity at each university where an active chapter is maintained, to that male senior who upon graduation ranks highest in scholarship for the entire course in commerce and business administration. The award is made annually by the local faculty and the key may be won by any male student in the department, without regard to his fraternal affiliation, if any. As a result the members of Delta Sigma Pi compete with the entire department for this award, and it is particularly satisfying to a member of the fraternity when he wins one of these highly coveted Scholarship Keys. Of the 54 keys awarded in 1938, 14 of them were won by members of the fraternity, an average of 26 per cent. Since 1912 a total of 782 keys have been presented by the fraternity and 264 have been won by members of Delta Sigma Pi for a grand average of 34 per cent. This is considered an unusually high average as the membership of our chapters represents but a small percentage of the total student registration on these campuses.

The names of the 1938 winners follow, the names listed in capitals being members of Delta Sigma Pi:

Commerce Club of Northwestern University Celebrates Silver Anniversary

THE COMMERCE CLUB was first organized as the Student Organization in 1909 when several students in Dean Hotchkiss' class in economics, feeling the need of an organization of students in the School of Commerce, met and informally organized for the purpose "to bring together socially the members of the different classes and to provide a means of intercourse between the faculty and student body." This organization operated rather informally the first year but finally organized on a more permanent basis and Joseph H. Gilby, a member of Delta Sigma Pi, was elected as its first president. The custom of holding an annual banquet of the students in the School of Commerce was inaugurated. As the School of Commerce grew in size and larger quarters acquired it was felt that this rather informally organized Student Organization could better function if a club room was secured and the name changed to the Commerce Club of Northwestern University. This was done in the fall of 1913 when a large group of students and alumni met and 55 of them took out Life Memberships at $10 each to provide funds to equip the club room. The Commerce Club of Northwestern University was then incorporated and came into actual existence.

From the very beginning the Commerce Club promoted the interests of the students and alumni of the School of Commerce and provided a meeting place before and between classes and also a social and professional program for the benefit of the students. Their annual program usually consisted of several smokers and get-togethers in their club room, an annual dance, an annual banquet, and the annual meeting and election of officers. The activities of the club were gradually expanded until with the acquisition of the new building by the School of Commerce in 1926 the Commerce Club acquired a club room with approximately 4500 square feet of space and equipped at a cost of over $15,000, all of which was financed and paid for by the members of the Commerce Club. As far as known the Commerce Club of Northwestern University has the longest continuous record of activity of any such club in collegiate circles in the country, and also has the largest membership.

It was only fitting therefore that the Commerce Club should appropriately celebrate its Silver Anniversary which was done on Friday, October 21, 1938, at the Knickerbocker Hotel, Chicago. Certainly every Northwestern man is proud of the fact that our School of Commerce contains such a distinctive organization but proudest of all are the members of Delta Sigma Pi whose members have played unusually prominent roles in the development of the Commerce Club. Members of Beta Chapter of Delta Sigma Pi have served as president of this organization for 15 of the 25 years of its existence. Under the leadership of members of Delta Sigma Pi, one of whom was serving as chairman of the finance committee, far visioned leaders saw the possibility of a separate School of Commerce building and in the early years established a fund to provide for the equipping of more elaborate club facilities when the new building materialized. Members of Delta Sigma Pi suggested that every student registered in the School of Commerce be required to become an associate member of the Commerce Club. This was adopted and provided the necessary funds for the expansion of club facilities and activities as they now exist today. So the Silver Anniversary of the Commerce Club was of special significance to members of Delta Sigma Pi.

The banquet itself was under the capable supervision of Steve Janick who served as president of the Commerce Club in 1935. The toastmaster was Gig Wright, Grand Secretary-Treasurer of Delta Sigma Pi, and president of the Commerce Club in 1919. Fourteen of the 18 members of Delta Sigma Pi who had served the club as president were in attendance at the banquet and telegrams were received from the other four who were out of the city and unable to be present. Frank Paul, member of Delta Sigma Pi and president of the Commerce Club for the current year presented Commerce Club Life Memberships to Dr. Walter Dill Scott, president of Northwestern University and a member of Delta Sigma Pi, to Dean Fred D. Fagg, Jr., and to Assistant Dean E. Coulter Davies, another member of Delta Sigma Pi. The Commerce Club had offered a trophy to the fraternity having the largest number of members present and this was presented to Delta Sigma Pi as over 50 percent of those in attendance were from that fraternity. The guest speaker of the evening was Dr. Harrison Ray Anderson, pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian Church of Chicago, who spoke on the subject, "Twenty-Five Years." Dean Fagg was so well pleased with the banquet that he offered the suggestion that it be made an annual affair.

The interest and activity of Delta Sigma Pi members in the affairs of the Commerce Club has long been a tradition in Beta Chapter of Delta Sigma Pi.

THE WORLD OVER

New York Plans for World's Fair

THE ANNUAL "TAKE-YOUR-CHOICE" party held at the chapter house, 21 W. 12th Street, on Saturday, December 3, was a great success with 50 couples present, catered by Longchamps, being served until about 2 A.M. The chairmen, Al Rohrberg and Walt Juengst, ran a well-organized party. One of the innovations was the securing of 46 prizes from national and local advertisers which were given away as door prizes. A large "book-of-health" containing a life size sample of all the Squibb products was given through the courtesy of Squibb's, through Ray Comyns. Chewing gum from the American Chicle through Auggie Vaupel, radio broadcast tickets from many firms, including several from the Chrysler Corporation through Firman Haas.

The January meeting at the chapter house was attended by about 45 brothers. Informal business session, cards and good friendly brotherly spirit.

The February meeting, also with a good attendance, was addressed by Province Officer Walton Juengst on the very much discussed and very little known "windfall tax," also called the unjust enrichment tax, wherein Brother Juengst showed that even though the government might lose out in excise taxes collected, the money would not be lost (to the government) because of this little joker, the windfall tax. Brother Juengst has been working on this tax specialty for some time now and certainly knows all about it.

There is quite a lot of enthusiasm about the coming of the World's Fair, opening date April 30. Posters at the house, Vic Kieffer busily getting ready to provide space for the brothers and visitors when they arrive at our Bagdad-on-the-Hudson in search of living quarters, and visits from our brothers who are actively connected with the World's Fair Corporation all tend to make the New Yorker feel that there certainly is something in the air. J. William Schulze is one of the directing powers of the World's Fair. Ken Strong and Ray MacGowan are other brothers keeping very busy with this activity.—ARNOLD G. ECKDAHL

Chicago Alumni Club to Compile Directory

THE CHICAGO ALUMNI CLUB OF DELTA SIGMA PI has started to work on the compilation of another Membership Directory which will be published sometime this spring. It will be very similar to the last directory published in 1936, will be printed and will contain the names, addresses and phone numbers, both business and residence of all members residing in the Chicago area. It will be paid for through the sale of advertising space.

Judge Roman E. Posanski was our speaker at the February dinner. His subject was "Americanism." This meeting was designated as Alpha Omega Chapter Night and we were pleased to have many of our DePaul alumni present.

Several members of the Chicago Alumni Club are planning on attending the Thirteenth Grand Chapter Congress which will be held in Philadelphia next September. This is a swell idea and we hope there will be a large delegation of Chicago members present.

Our monthly dinners are held on the third Tuesday of each month at the Triangle Restaurant, 225 S. Wabash Avenue, Chicago, and all Deltasigs are cordially invited to attend any time they are in Chicago that day of the month.—RALPH L. SWEET

Newark to Publish Membership Directory

BY THE MIDDLE OF MARCH, the Newark Alumni Club will have published a directory containing the names of over 250 Deltasigs residing in northern New Jersey. The members of the Directory Committee, under the direction of Brother Wilcox, have made many contacts during the last two months that have resulted in the renewal of interest of many Deltasigs who have been inactive for years. With the Grand Chapter Congress scheduled for Philadelphia this fall, we feel the directory will prove invaluable in assisting brothers coming from distant parts of the country in striking up old acquaintances with brothers living in this section.

An informal get-together was held by the club on January 27 at the Chanticleer, Millburn, N.J. A good representation from both the Alumni Club and Beta Omicron Chapter were on hand. We have had several sessions of bowling recently and are ready to enter a team of sharpshooting pin-splitters in the National Alumni Bowling Tournament. A recent addition to our ranks is Dan Morrison who anchored the Beta Xi Chapter team a few years back.

In order to give some diversion to our social programs after meetings, a table tennis team has been organized. A match with the Beta Omicron Chapter neophytes took place after the January meeting, and the alumni team of Brothers Whitbeck, Busse, Wolff, and Sempf triumphed by 3 to 2. Our regular February meeting was postponed in favor of the Annual Formal Initiation Ceremony and Banquet of the Beta Omicron Chapter at the Newark Athletic Club on February 18. A fine alumni representation turned out to support this affair. Brothers Percy S. Young, Vice President of the Public Service Corp. of New Jersey, Arthur F. Egner, President of the Newark Museum and Vice President of the University of Newark Board of Trustees, Franklin Conklin, Jr., President of the University of Newark Board of Trustees, and Albert E. N. Gray, Ass't. Secretary of the Prudential Insurance Co., were among the speakers.

No more news now—but ON TO PHILADELPHIA—all you Newark Deltasigs!—ROBERT G. BUSSE

Birmingham Alumni Club Celebrates First Birthday

NO BETTER INDICATION of the success of the Birmingham Alumni Club can be found than a few statements taken from a letter issued by the officers of the club, Francis Osteen, president, Lawrence Davis, vice-president, and J. C. Waller, secretary-treasurer, February 15, "This month the Birmingham Alumni Club enters its second year. Our club was organized in February, 1938,

Philip A. Benson, Alpha Chapter
President, American Bankers Association, 1939

Brother Philip A. Benson, President of the Dime Savings Bank of Brooklyn, New York, and one of the most prominent bankers in the entire country was signally honored last fall by his election to the all-important post of President of the American Bankers Association. Brother Benson is one of the early initiates of Alpha Chapter, a Life Member of Delta Sigma Pi, and will be the featured speaker at the Opening Banquet of the Thirteenth Grand Chapter Congress of the fraternity in Philadelphia next September.

and the year just closed was filled with many interesting activities. Ten professional meetings were held; two industrial tours were conducted; and five socials were enjoyed."

In order to properly celebrate the completion of this first year, Lawrence Davis, Chairman of the Professional Committee, has been busy making arrangements. The celebration will take place on the evening of Tuesday, February 21. Members will gather in the private dining room of the 20th Century Grill, at 6 o'clock, and do a bit of yarn spinning before the banquet starts at 6:15. (With no intention what-so-ever of bragging about the yarn spinning ability of these Birmingham Deltasigs, I say they are plenty good. Maybe the National Committee on Alumni Activities will start an Alumni yarn spinning contest some time soon. If so, watch out for the powerful and potent Birmingham group.)

During the banquet President Francis Osteen will preside. No speaker will grace the occasion as it is anticipated that each member will contribute to the gayety of the occasion with poetry, song or story. At the end of the banquet Lawrence Davis will take charge of the activities. A series of games of skill (?) and chance will be played; and late on the night of February 21, members of the Birmingham Club will go there respective ways with the thought in mind that they have successfully completed their first year, and have before them a year in which they intend to achieve even greater things.

One thing accomplished by the Club is so outstanding that if it were the only thing achieved, the club would still be justified in saying it had been a success. This is the feeling of fellowship which has developed among its members. This feeling can best be described as a feeling of mutual respect, common interest, and the existence of a willingness of individuals to make sacrifices in order that the group may accomplish its aims.

The last meeting of the year 1938 was the monthly banquet held Tuesday, December 20. It had been decided that the Club should determine what sort of material it had among its members for presenting a program. Three of its members were pressed into service to talk on the aims and accomplishments of the leaders of Germany, Russia, and Italy. Bill Persons, Beta Lambda, talked on Hitler and his program in Germany. Harold Helms, Alpha Sigma, talked on Stalin and his five year programs in Russia. Carsten Sahlmann, Alpha Sigma, talked on Mussolini, and the Corporate State as it exists in Italy.

At the first meeting of the New Year, Lawrence Davis had as speaker Birmingham's Postmaster, W. Cooper Green. Mr. Green made a most interesting talk on the Postal Department and its activities. Members of the Club were surprised to learn of the number of services rendered by the Postal Department and of the care taken in making sure that each "sugar report" or other bit of written matter is properly and promptly handled.

As for that bowling contest. It turned out that there were several "had been" bowlers in the Club, and with these to set the pace, two practice matches have been bowled. The official match is to be bowled during the week of February 19, and if the Birmingham Club does not achieve recognition in the contest, it will not be due to the lack of stiff right arms which were developed as the result of "never before" bowlers doing their best for the Club.

Members of the Birmingham Alumni Club and their dates are looking forward to February 28, when a large number of them will go to the campus of the University of Alabama to join the Alpha Sigma Chapter in celebrating "Commerce Day," that day set aside by the Seniors of the School of Commerce as a day of merry making. Members of the Alpha Sigma Chapter will honor the members of the Birmingham Alumni Club by allowing them to take part in the ceremony of presenting corsages to their dates, and joining in the Delta Sigma Pi leadout which will take place. A large number of commerce students from all over Alabama will gather at the University on the 28th, so a reunion of many Deltasigs is expected to take place.

The Birmingham Club has suffered a loss and made a gain since last THE DELTASIG went to press. Mario Comolli has been lost to the Birmingham Club by his moving to Chattanooga, where he has gone into business for himself. The gain has been the arrival of Virgil Hampton, Alpha Sigma, from Atlanta, Ga.

A member of the Birmingham Club, Victor Johnson, Alpha Sigma, has been honored by his business organization, Jamison-Seibels, Inc., by being elected secretary and treasurer, and by also being made a member of the Board of Directors.—CARSTEN SAHLMANN

Former Grand President Charles J. Ege Dies

DEATH CAME SUDDENLY on February 12 to Charles Joseph Ege, Alpha 114, one of the early Grand Officers of Delta Sigma Pi. Brother Ege served on our Grand Council in 1915 and was Grand President of Delta Sigma Pi from September 10, 1917 to February 10, 1920. He was one of the hardest workers the fraternity ever had and he worked diligently at all times to expand the interests of Delta Sigma Pi. He had most to do with the designing of the fraternity charter. With Frank McGoldrick and Walter Dean he wrote the preamble to the fraternity constitution. He was a grand fellow and will be missed by his many close friends in the fraternity. He was in his fifty-first year. He is survived by his widow and two daughters.

Funeral services were held Wednesday, February 15 from his residence, 15 Ellenton Avenue, New Rochelle, New York, followed by a Requiem mass at the Church of the Holy Family in New Rochelle. Many members of the fraternity attended.

Bob Vining Elected to State Board of Education of Maryland

ROBERT E. VINING, an alumnus of our Omega Chapter at Temple University, and now a member of the Baltimore Alumni Club of Delta Sigma Pi has been appointed to the State Board of Education of the State of Maryland to serve until 1943. This civic minded Deltasig is only 37 and was among the youngest ever to be named as a member of this important board in Maryland. He is publicity director of the Western Electric Company's Point Breeze Works in Baltimore, and has been with that company 12 years.

Bob has been known as "the man with a thousand jobs" and with an equal number of titles, but like M. Amine Youssef, Minister of Egypt to the United States, who, in speaking at a smoker of Mu Chapter several years ago, stated his belief that "Titles do not make acts, acts make titles." Bob has received his titles through his acts, through hard and consistent work and plugging. Brother Vining is the personification of the idea of working for and with others, while still exerting his individualism, resourcefulness and stick-to-itiveness. He is an urgent believer in youth as the foundation of this country and the "do-ers" of the world.

He will bring to his new duties an exceptional background of achievement. In 1935 he was the recipient of the Chi Chapter Award of the Delta Sigma Pi Scroll, as the "First Young Citizen of Baltimore" for "having done the most for the city in that year."

He was chairman of the Maryland Commission on Prison Labor from 1935 to 1937 and was successful in effecting a new $2,000,000 penal program for Maryland, about which you read in THE DELTASIG last year, supplemented by the passage of five prison bills by the last General Assembly which have since been accepted as models by several states throughout the country. The work of this commission attracted national attention. Brother Vining was foreman of the May Term—1937—Grand Jury, that instituted the vice investigation, a member of the Board of Directors of the Junior Association of Commerce for three years and is now serving as secretary of the Commission for the study of Unpaid Wages.

Brother Vining is second vice-president and a member of the Board of Directors of the Baltimore Criminal Justice Commission and also a member of the Board of the Legal Aid Bureau. He is active in naval affairs being a Senior Lieutenant in the Naval Reserve and has served as vice chairman of the Maryland Navy Day Committee since 1934.

Brother Vining has traveled extensively and has just returned recently from Italy, Germany and the Algiers. He is a member of the English Speaking Union, a fellow of the American Geographical Society, and the Academy of Political Science. He has been vice chairman of the publicity committee of the Association of Commerce since 1933 and is the Maryland Representative on the Young Men's Council of the United States.

Brother Vining received a certificate in journalism with honors from the Medill School of Journalism at Northwestern in 1929, has studied at Temple and is a graduate of the University of Baltimore School of Business Administration.

Bob believes in the Good Neighbor idea, and the saying of the old Hindu philosopher:

"Help thy neighbor's boat across, and lo! thine own has reached the shore."

His appointment is of particular interest, considering his views expressed to me several years ago on the importance of youth and youth training. "I believe," said Bob, "that the salvation of the world in peace, friendships and commercial relationships lies in Youth."

When questioned several years ago regarding the recent suggestion of Will Durant, philosopher, and author, at the Town Hall of Baltimore, for the establishment of a national academy to train the young for civil and Government service, Brother Vining said he was very much in favor of such action. He believes that a national academy of this kind, placed on a par with the U. S. Naval Academy and West Point, as a Civil Academy, to give training in public life to the youth of the country, would be a great step forward in solving the problems facing the United States.

Brother Vining has endeavored to live the philosophy "The way to be the master is to be the best servant."

—J. HUGH TAYLOR

Alumni News from the Nation's Capital

SEVERAL CO-OPERATIVE ALUMNI AFFAIRS have been held with our near-by Baltimore Alumni Club including a Founders' Day Banquet which was held in Baltimore and at which Grand President Milener was the honored guest. This was the continuation of a fine tradition of several years standing in which Baltimore and Washington alternate holding Founders' Day Banquets, which are attended by members of both cities. Over 15 members from Washington made the trip to Baltimore for this occasion.

The following thumb nail sketches of many of our Washington alumni might prove of interest. Sailor! Walt Eddington is now with the Maritime Commission. . . . Mail Man! Bill Kindsfater, former head master of Mu Chapter, is a big help to the Post Office Department. . . . Traffic! The Department of Commerce depends on Tom Lyons to run its Transportation Department. . . . Tire Worker! Walt Baggs, ex-Baltimorean, a tireless worker, celebrated his first year among us recently. . . . Farmers! Even agriculture claims some of our men of commerce—witness: Dave Davies, Tom Elder, Hank Ernest, John Fenn, Tom Gachet, Hoke Gandy, Pat Rinaldi, Henry Ries, alumni from six different chapters. . . . Money Men and Bankers! Among our members are Tom Groom, banker, Steve Girardi with the U. S. Treasury, Lou Knight with the Federal Home Loan Bank and Julien Masters and George Scott both with the R.F.C. . . . Laborers! Dr. Lyle Cooper of our Marquette Chapter is with the National Labor Relations Board.

Oh, Yes! Tax collectors too! Mel Henderson and Oscar Iden, at the Internal Revenue Department will see that Uncle Sam nips your pocket-book. . . . Actors! Well at least Carter Barron formerly of Atlanta is an important executive in the theatrical business with Loew's Fox Theatre. . . . What's that, where are the insurance men? Well, how about Jim De Force and Charlie Tatum? . . . The Social Security Board is well represented with Deltasigs, Linc Cochue, Joe Mayton, Basil Molseed, and John Corson. . . . Bill Bryson is to be congratulated upon his new position as purchasing agent for the Railroad Retirement Board. . . . Ken Ward from out Iowa way is with the Cherner Motor Company. . . . Thus we find members from almost a score of chapters represented in the business, professional and government life of Washington.

Our weekly luncheons at O'Donnell's have been replaced by several group luncheons. Visiting members are urged to communicate with any one of the following for further particulars as to location, etc.: Walter Baggs, DE-5700; Tom Lavender, RE-1820, Ext. 2737; or Pat Rinaldi, DI-6350, Ext. 2628.—THOMAS F. ## Delta Sigma Pi Chapter Leadership Award Established

THE GRAND COUNCIL OF DELTA SIGMA PI wishes to announce the establishment of a Chapter Leadership Award effective at once. This will be in the form of a specially designed ring (reproduced herewith) which may be awarded by each chapter annually to that undergraduate member who by vote of the active membership of the chapter has contributed most to the success of the chapter during the college year. Many chapters have requested the establishment of such an award although its adoption is left entirely optional with each chapter. A most attractive special design has been prepared for these rings which may be purchased from the Central Office of the fraternity by chapters only for presentation purposes. The name of the winner and the year of the award will be suitably engraved inside of the band of each ring. These rings are now available for immediate shipment from the Central Office.

Alabama Builds Addition to Commerce Building

ALPHA SIGMA CHAPTER HAS ARRANGED for the Burroughs Adding Machine Company to give a demonstration of their machines and of the many functions which can be done by the machines. We are indebted to Head Master Brown for the fine work he has done in securing the co-operation of the Burroughs Company. Commerce Day was started in 1935, and that day, which is one of festivity for commerce students, is continually growing in importance and interest for students of commerce. Head Master Brown has also arranged for a Deltasig leadout at the Commerce Ball. During the leadout Bunny Berigan and his orchestra will play "Rose of Deltasig."

Alpha Sigma Chapter will continue its policy of having a professional meeting every two weeks. We had a fine program of professional meetings last semester under the direction of Brother Crosta, who secured some very fine speakers. We feel certain that Brother Thomas will continue the program of good professional meetings for the second semester.

Five of our brothers are to be congratulated for being named on Dean Bidgood's Honor List. They are Brothers Bryan, Crosta, Foster, Holland, and Pearson. Forty-one persons were named on the Dean's list. We feel very proud that such a high percentage were Deltasigs. Several of our brothers only missed the Dean's list by a hairbreadth. Better luck next time.

Alpha Sigma Chapter has a rush program which will enable us to start next year with our full quota of members. We also plan to initiate at least one faculty member this semester.

The School of Commerce and Business Administration building is being added to due to the increase in enrollment. This addition is slightly less than half the size of the present structure, and will be completed about August 20. It will consist of three stories and a basement. The first floor will contain new offices, library, and work-room of the Bureau of Business Research. The Bureau of Business Research, which is under the direction of Dr. H. H. Chapman, a loyal Deltasig and our Province Officer, has grown greatly in importance since it was established. Dr. Chapman and Professor Knight are to be commended for the fine work they have done in improving and expanding the Bureau of Business Research. The second floor of the addition will contain additional library space. It is estimated that our library will be able to handle six times as many volumes after the addition is completed. A large periodical room will also be included on the second floor. The third floor will consist of a large conference room, a smaller conference room, and several private work-rooms in which faculty members and graduate students may do research work undisturbed. The commerce mimeographing department will be moved to much larger quarters in the basement of the new addition. We are looking forward to the completion of the addition with great pleasure.—BURGESS HUDSON

Louisiana State Erecting New Commerce Building

BETA ZETA CHAPTER has just recently initiated ten new members, bringing the chapter roll to 25 members. The new initiates are: Dr. Stanley W. Preston, Associate Professor of Business Administration, Paul F. Geren, M.A., Instructor in Economics and Business Administration, Rodney C. Banta, Graduate Student, and Undergraduates Harold E. Barlow, Norman G. Preston, Reynolds L. Townsend, Nicholls Pugh, John F. Hartman, Ray J. Parr, Carl T. Smith. An informal banquet in honor of the new members was given in the banquet hall of the L.S.U. Cafeteria. Five of the brothers who are members of the Faculty also attended the banquet.

Our Chapter publication, the BETA ZETA BULLETIN, has been appearing regularly under the able direction of Wallace J. Landry, Editor, and his assistant, Terrance G. Leonhardy. Incidentally, Brother Landry did himself proud this past semester by making a 3.0 average.

Excitement is running high in the College of Commerce here at L.S.U. as the new $390,000 Commerce Building nears completion. Dean James B. Trant and his Assistant, Brother Dr. Mack Hornbeak are probably the happiest men on the campus. The building represents a goal for which they have long striven in order to house the huge increases in enrollment.

On February 8, Beta Zeta Chapter gave a party in the swanky Episcopal Student Center honoring all the students in the College of Commerce. The Faculty also attended the party and some of the younger members took quite an active part, especially in the dancing which followed. Music was furnished by Johnny Kidd and his Orchestra, the best of the four student orchestras here on the campus. Refreshments were served during the dancing and "a good time was had by all."—JAMES P. HEBERT

New York Forges Ahead

AT THE OPENING of the Freshman Smoker Brother Larry W. Zimmer, director of the New York University Employment Bureau, told the brothers and their guests that to a young man or woman looking for employment the job means everything. But more important than the job itself is occupation, which is synonymous with a definite interest in the functions of business, that is, the subdivisions of production and distribution; such as engineering, advertising, sales, sales promotion, etc. Every business organization has certain points of entrance for beginners to these vocational occupations. These may be classified as clerical jobs. Promotion from these placements leads into the functions already mentioned.

"The job that any applicant looks for should lead him to promotion along these lines," he said. That is the key to the secret of job hunting and holding it after it is secured. If applicants follow such a plan, they would save themselves much of the frustration that results from entering the wrong work, and later being forced to start again at the bottom in a field they really like. Moreover, the applicants cannot go by the name of the position because the same position in another firm may carry different duties. His unfamiliarity with the organization is another obstacle in the way of his knowing just what the position requires of him. "Hence we put applicants on the clerical scale from which they can work themselves into logical functions of the business."

In his long and varied experience Brother Zimmer has learned that during the depression years the applicant has been hounded by the fear of being unable to get the job; and, if he did get it, that he would not be able to hold it in face of the large unemployment and many experienced men competing for the same position. That attitude, however, is gradually passing, which is a good indication that the time of normalcy is approaching. Men from 30 to 32 years of age who have developed a psychological sense of fear because they think they lack experience and because they are getting older, present another aspect of the negative attitude. A slight rebuff from the potential employer during the interview caves them in. They are licked before they start.

"Don't throw up your hands," Brother Zimmer warned the students. "If the boss asks you what job you are looking for, don't tell him, for example, that you want the position of an accountant. Some of them resent the college boy's attitude of wanting to start in the middle of the ladder. Tell him you are interested in accounting. Tell him that you attend the School of Commerce, and that you are looking for a job that will lead you to promotion along that line. By all means keep your assurance; state your facts, and you will get his confidence."

A sustained applause went to Brother Zimmer. The audience then settled down to listen to Professor Alfred Nielson of the department of economic geography at the School of Commerce who disagreed with the idea that one pledges a fraternity solely for the purpose of profiting one way or another. "If that is your reason for pledging, then stay away. It is not what you expect to get, but what you are willing to give that counts for success. The only measure of anything is that you do not get out more than what you give no matter whether it is your fraternity, your home life, school or business. If you haven't that knowledge in back of you, you will never get to first base."

The payment of the fraternity initiation fee is merely a payment for the privilege of receiving what is seasoned, traditional and reputable. A fraternity makes the student better acquainted with the men with whom he will live. He cannot know the whole student body at the School of Commerce, but, he can learn to know thoroughly the group of men in the fraternity. He will become a unit of a body of men, who, after graduation, will go out into the business world as a group, know each other, and give each other support.

The credit for having secured the speakers goes to John Bilyk. If he has not already done so himself, the brothers will be glad to pat him on the back. The burden of editorial responsibility weighs heavily upon the shoulders of Brother Durgin. He has felt the sting of more than one verbal lashing for the slips of the contributors to the Alpha News. That however just whets his ambition to put out a bigger and better Alpha News and streamlined in keeping with the taste of its readers. Now and then Head Master Eddie Keating stands for the passing-the-buck-tussles among the brothers; but, when he gets to waving the big stick everybody of a sudden begins to brim over with activity and bright ideas in the fraternity and on the campus. Eddie does not plead, cajole, or induce, he just says impetuously what he thinks and the boys take it to heart. Judging from the results, the effect is a miraculous rejuvenation of the chapter. George Parnaby, the musician of the chapter, with a bandleader's baton in his knapsack, secured a corking good six-piece orchestra for the New Year's Dance. If you listen to what he says, it was the "swingiest" band in the whole history of Alpha Chapter. Cliff Anderson ran the dance and says he made a profit. We are anxious to hear him read the good tidings in the report at the next meeting.

Harold R. Boehm's marriage to Marion Evelyn Holmes, February 11 was a delightful surprise to all of us. He is the first brother to marry while in the active chapter. Our heartiest congratulations and best wishes for his success and happiness. If he does not come to the house as often in the future as he did in the past, we will miss him.

The active chapter extends a warm fraternal greeting to the newly initiated brothers. It shares with them the genuine friendship and loyalty in the name of the active brothers and invites their personal devotion in return, so that they, in turn, may carry on the banner of Delta Sigma Pi.

Alpha's oldest American is now Robert Armbrister. His family tree took roots in the American soil nearly 300 years ago when Thomas Brush, a contemporary of Priscilla and John Alden whom Longfellow immortalized in his "Courtship of Miles Standish," left his native Ireland and settled in 1640 on Long Island. Bob stands six feet one in his socks and has a way of looking you in the eye that makes you think twice before getting his goat; yet the kidding that that fellow can take is directly in proportion to the severity of his eye. He was the manager of the Sewanhaka High School (L.I.) football team for two years and also attained distinction on the school wrestling team. In 1935 he won first place in the 90 feet underwater plunge in the swimming meet of the Nassau County Boy Scouts, L.I.

Lewis Henry Roberts is a scholarly, bright, young man whose light complexion contrasts sharply with Bob Armbrister's dark one. If he stands up very straight he may stretch himself to reach Bob's collar button. Lou Roberts won a state scholarship at the Port Richmond High School, Staten Island, N.Y. In his senior year he carried away the only prize in the French language, and attained the highest scholastic record of his graduating class. Lou aspires to write on organization of industrial traffic departments. If he holds true to his previous record, we may yet hear of him in business.

Nickolas Ther, tall and lean, is the cosmopolitan of the chapter. He attended the first year at Louisiana State College; the second at Syracuse, and now intends to graduate from New York University. Something is bound to come out of that active mind of his in industrial relations and personnel research work.

Richard Haren comes from New Haven, Connecticut. Although Yale University is next door to him he chose New York University instead. We certainly approve his choice.—

Kappa Sponsors Varied Program

THE REOPENING OF SCHOOL after Christmas holidays marked the beginning of intensive and extensive activities for Kappa Chapter. Our rushing season has now passed its peak and we find ourselves with 16 pledges on the roster, most of whom will be initiated at our next ceremony. Our other plans have not been interrupted by the rushing however. The professional program is in full swing and as ever the Deltasig Lodge has been the scene of several interesting and unique parties.

G. Ray Mitchell, assistant secretary of the Retail Credit Company and head of the Personnel Department there, has featured our recent professional program with a keen and witty speech to our chapter and a goodly number of the alumni. The subject of his talk was "Money Matters."

On the week-ends when there is not some planned affair at the Lodge there is usually a large number of actives and alumni out playing what Clyde Kitchens has called the "Lodge Game," meaning simply that groups are organized and the plans for building up the grounds and building are pursued. At the present time the projects receiving the majority of attention are the road around the lake-site and a dormitory under one end of the present building.

A stag party was held at the Lodge on January 14 primarily for rushing purposes. Although some of the good brothers thought that the absence of the ladies would have a detrimental effect on the party, none left with the impression that it had been anything but a success. A game of touch-football added pep to the afternoon's activities and ping-pong and blow-ball, or whiffle-pouffle, provided most of the evening's entertainment.

The Bowery Dance held recently proved to be one of the most interesting and enjoyable affairs promoted by the Lodge in several years. Everyone was supposed to come attired as an Apache. Costumes, however, ranged from Apache to a bogus count, a card shark, one pantless tuxedo, and even a cowboy. As is usual the gaiety and variety of the costumes lent an atmosphere of informality that made the party more attractive than otherwise.

The Valentine Dance was another outstanding success of the Lodge's social committee, headed by Bill Jackson. Annually one of the better affairs held because it has the backing of the Valentine spirit and because so many of the older brothers take advantage of the opportunity to renew acquaintances with the active men and their own contemporaries, the affair this year was more outstanding than usual. A source of many laughs and the cause of frantic, brain-wracking extemporaneous planning was the contest to determine which couple could pose the best silhouette in a huge valentine cut out of a cardboard screen. The background was provided by a white sheet with floodlights back of it.

Plans are already underway for Kappa Chapter to go to the Grand Chapter Congress in Philadelphia in such numbers that the cup given to the chapter who sends the most men the most miles will return with us.

We are not talking very loudly at the present time about our athletic program, since we have lost the first two games in a series of three to the Alpha Kappa Psis. This means that they will have possession of the cup denoting basketball supremacy until next year when it will be put in competition again. Our athletes are now looking forward to the bowling competition and planning revenge.—HAROLD S. HEMRICK

Ole Missou Rolling On

THE BEGINNING OF a new semester finds the Alpha Beta Chapter rolling on towards the coveted first place in the Chapter Efficiency Contest. The close of the first semester found the chapter well up on the list of the chapters in the Contest. The pledging committee is functioning smoothly with a maximum result in sight, and the hopes of leaving a large chapter at the close of this school year.

Alpha Beta Chapter has been prominent in leadership in the School of Business with members holding class offices, assistantships, and offices in extracurricular school activities. In the recent election of school officers, Edward Ruto and Russell Jacobs were elected president of the senior class, and vice-president of the junior class, respectively. Lee Johnson, Douglas Stone, and Horace Owells are assistants in the accounting, economics, and statistics departments. The Accounting Club was organized earlier in the fall with Don Heter and Edward Ruto as vice-president and secretary-treasurer, respectively. Don is also treasurer of the chapter.

The chapter accompanied by Phi Chi Theta, commerce sorority, visited the A. P. Green Fire-Brick Company on December 15. The group inspected the Administration Building, and then was taken through the complete plant. Two guides acted as instructors and explained the different processes of brick making as we moved along from the grinding of the raw clay from the dump truck to the loading of the finished product in freight cars. After the tour of the plant, a short rest was held in the recreation hall. The head of the cost accounting department addressed the group on the cost accounting procedure followed by this company and described in detail the methods followed and the chief obstacles they had to overcome in order to have an efficient cost accounting system.

WHIFFLE-POUFFLE, OR BLOW-BALL

The sponsorship of a School Industrial Tour of Kansas City has been undertaken by the chapter. It is our hope that we may make this tour sometime during the month of March. The chapter has also written to the St. Louis Alumni Club in regard to attending one of their monthly dinner meetings.

The Deltasig Quintet in the Intra-mural Basketball Tournament has turned in three winners out of four starts, dropping the first game to one of the best teams in the league. The members of the chapter have certainly enjoyed this method of exercise, besides the hope of the team placing in the independent league.

It is altogether fitting and proper that a Deltasig should receive the first loan from the Delta Sigma Pi Loan Fund established by the chapter at the university last fall. Don Heter, treasurer of the chapter, has received the first approved loan from the fund. The intentions of the chapter are to make additions every year to the fund, which is permanent, until the fund is of sufficient size to make a lasting memorial to our organization on the campus.

Congratulations to Beta Chapter on its Silver Anniversary. And to Beta Nu and Omega; you can count on us being in Philadelphia next September.—HUGH MANSFIELD

North Dakota Sponsors Radio Program

ALPHA MU CHAPTER of the University of North Dakota sponsored a 15 minute program over the local station, KFJM, during the first semester. It was based on the currently popular questions and answers type with theater tickets being given to the persons who submitted the sticker questions. Brother Peterson was in charge during the first semester and Brother Bertheuson is taking over during the second semester. In view of the success of this program, Alpha Mu Chapter is planning to double the length of the weekly program.

On December 10, a smoker was held for the pledges of Alpha Mu Chapter and the following day initiation was held. Those initiated were: Edward L. Alm, Donald M. Bertheuson, Pershing Boe, Robert W. Ducea, Kennedy Dysart, and Oscar Isaacson.

Other projects carried on during the first semester included a showing of motion pictures of the Coal Industry—From Mine to Market for the Commerce students and dinner meetings were held every two weeks. On January 12, Dr. George A. Abbott, Professor of Chemistry, talked to us on the Relationship of Chemistry to Commerce.

Plans for the remainder of the year call for a dinner meeting to be held every two weeks with some well-known business men giving us the highlights of their respective professions, continuation of our radio program and an industrial tour of the Twin Cities by the chapter in the spring.—ROBERT W. DUEA

Theta Set for New Term

DETROIT'S THETA CHAPTER is really set for one of the most active terms in the chapter's history. Head Master, Bob Filliatrault, set forth an extensive pledge period program and a social program that will in the future give greater enjoyment to all the brothers of the chapter. Bob, in explaining the new pledge program, set aside March 2, and March 9, as nights for pledge parties. At these parties will be guest speakers to enlighten the prospective new men of the duties and benefits of fraternity life. A hay or sleigh ride has been planned and will take place during the period of these parties. The new men will be invited on this ride to get acquainted with the active members of the chapter. A list is now being made of eligible men that we think are best suited to become active members of Delta Sigma Pi.

New elections are scheduled for this week's meeting of the chapter, for the offices of treasurer and scribe. Our Treasurer, James McKenna, has done a wonderful job, but feels he has not the time to give to the job, with school graduation, comprehensives, and an outside job to take care of. Scribe Bud Wahle has had to withdraw from school for the remainder of the term.

The University of Detroit J-Prom takes place Friday night, with Henry Busse presiding. Doug Lambourne, Charles Dean, and Bill Neinstedt, all members of Theta, are active members of the J-Prom committee. Dean is the publicity man for the Prom and really has done a remarkable job. Bill Neinstedt is in charge of making arrangements for the breakfast after the dance. Doug Lambourne, is on the ticket committee.

Theta Chapter, has a basketball team in the Intra-Mural League. Last Wednesday night we dropped a very close 20 to 18 game to the league leaders.

Well I guess that's all for now but we'll be back stronger than ever next month. Best of luck fellows on your new term.—BOB DAVIS

Texas Has Hillbilly Party

BETA KAPPA'S SPRING OFFICIAL STAFF was installed February 6 at a dinner given in their honor at the Federated Club's Georgian mansion. New officers are Head Master, Elwin Swint; Chancellor, Johnny Goodman; Treasurer, Edward Hauschild; Scribe, John McIntire; Senior Warden, Malcolm Vaughan; Junior Warden, Ronald Baethe; Senior Guide, Edward Rafter; Junior Guide, Howard Mahaffey; Historian, Jack Hatcher; DELTASIG Correspondent, George Zeiss; Faculty Advisor, Prof. W. P. Boyd.

Into the cedar brakes nine miles west of Austin went Beta Kappa Chapter, February 10, for a hillbilly party—the new officers' political pay-off. At a honky tonk, known as Hudson's to the natives of the limestone hills and referred to as "that place" by some, about 25 Deltasigs and a corps of University of Texas beauties stomped the boards until the women's dorm's deadline. As warm to the heart of a hillbilly as a Sears Roebuck catalog would have been the merriment in overalls and gingham. Texas' Number 1 hillbilly, Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, was absent, however. The punch, nevertheless, was as strong as his campaign promises and had more Beta Kappas around it than old folks' names on a pension petition. Particularly jocular were Professor and Mrs. Fladger Tannery.

The spring program for Beta Kappa Chapter has been announced by Head Master Elwin Swint. Plans include rushing activities; five professional programs, one being a discussion of anti-trust laws by the assistant attorney general of Texas; an all-day picnic in April; a formal dinner-dance in May; a farewell banquet; and installation of officers for the next year.—GEORGE ZEISS

Indiana Progresses

STARTING THE SECOND SEMESTER of this school year and the last for our senior members, Alpha Pi Chapter is finding itself in fine shape and ready for the many planned activities of the rest of the year. Unfortunately William Carmichael, our fine scribe of the last semester, was unable to return to school this semester, but we expect him back again next year. To take over this important job, we elected Thomas Lindahl, a hard working junior. Although the duties of the office are all new to him, he is already doing an excellent job.

After the month's pause in which all of the members were engrossed in the necessary final exams, Alpha Pi began its business school luncheon series again on February 17. Forty members and guests were in attendance at the noon meeting to hear Dr. Franz M. D. Kurie, of the university physics department. His was a difficult subject to get across to Business School students but that he was enjoyed by all shows that he did an excellent job. In his talk he explained the functions and uses of the new cyclotron which will be built in the new Physical Science building now under construction. This new cyclotron or "atom smasher" is to be the third largest in the world when completed. The iron in the magnet alone is to weigh over 75 tons and the copper to be used is to weigh an additional 15 tons. This huge instrument seems especially complicated and formidable when one realizes that its function is to create an electric voltage of over 10,000,000 volts to penetrate the nucleus of the small, minute atom and break it up into its component parts. Possible uses of the large apparatus were explained, but to the scientist, as Dr. Kurie explained, its practical applications are of primary concern at the present time only to the engineer.

Since many of the Alpha Pi members are interested in athletics, especially basketball, we have challenged our friendly rivals, Alpha Kappa Psi to a basketball game. The athletic committee composed of William Hauschild, William Jennings, and Robert Eifler drew up a challenge and presented it to Alpha Kappa Psi. The next move is up to them. A volleyball team is also to meet the faculty volleyball team in the near future. Our chapter adviser, E. E. Edwards is one of the stars on the faculty aggregation, who claim to be unbeatable.

William Jennings, one of our capitalists, returned this week from the sunny clime of Florida after a week's vacation at Palm Beach. He must have spent his time and money engaging in night life because he came back with very little sun tan. Robert Waters is still in Chicago working with an accounting firm. He returns next month to complete his requirements for his degree, after the two months' practical accounting experience. Evan Stiers has been our acting representative on the Collegiate Chamber of Commerce in his absence. Stephen Slipher and Charles Hedge have volunteered to edit and publish the first Alpha Pi Chapter news bulletin. The first edition should appear in the very near future. Thus another of our goals will have been realized. Undoubtedly this chapter is on the way to new highs. Evan Stiers and William Hauschild are making plans for another pledge smoker for the first week in March and from it we should get another fine pledge class. More men of the quality of our last pledge class are needed to insure a permanent Delta Sigma Pi Chapter here at Indiana University.

Auburn Discusses Employment Opportunities

BETA LAMBDA CHAPTER is not neglecting the practical purpose of our business training—that of getting a job. On February 16 we called a convocation of all business seniors to engage in a "round table discussion" with selected members of the faculty. Dean Scott, of the Science and Literature School, Brother Austin, head of our department's placement division, and Dr. Rauber, economic department head, all dispensed practical ideas during the discussion. Such things as untidy dress, intemperance, bigotry, and asininity, were warned against in discussing impressions on prospective employers. We left the meeting sure that a young man has to be of a very high type to cinch a job in these days of such pressing competition.

As usual, our chapter has been functioning socially. Only last week we gave a hay ride for members and dates, and those who didn't have a good time were either not present or didn't know how to make the best of the fine food prepared by Brother Hooper, or the fine young ladies. In the near future our basketball team will play a game of basketball with a rival organization on the campus. This game should end with us winning, and gloating over the fact ten minutes later while "chivalrously" sipping Coca-Colas purchased for us by our prize-losing friends.

There has been a time-honored feud here at our school over the relative difficulty of our business course and the engineering branch. Head Master L. E. Foster has decided to "settle" the matter once and for all by debating a team of engineers on the subject, "Resolved, That Engineering Is A Crip Course." This debate offers good promise to end in a free-for-all. But we must consider the worthy cause.

Distinction has been furnished us by Dave Wittel's and Foy Laseter's election to Phi Kappa Phi, national scholastic society. Walter Chandler and Carl Happer, among our football representatives, have been elected to the "A" Club, a distinction which probably carries more tangible return on effort than any organization here. Allen Martin, as president of Blue Key, will lead the honor societies ball.

For our next important speaker we shall have Mr. Robert E. Sessions, a T.V.A. authority, address the business school. His lecture will undoubtedly be instructive, and will serve to usher in our Spring program.—HORACE W. WEISSINGER

Nu Chapter Elects New Officers

ALLOW ME TO PRESENT our new Head Master, Forrest Hutslar, who was elected February 13. He is a brown-eyed, dark curly haired, handsome looking bit of humanity with a pleasant and winning smile, a dynamic personality, and a suave and witty manner magnetic to all those about him. Aiding him in the discharge of his duties will be Senior Warden, Jack Thompson; Junior Warden, Starling Christy; Scribe, Clarence Brown; and Treasurer, Wilbur Correll. This combination purports to be one of the finest in our history.

Jacob Taylor, one of our better known accounting instructors, has been called away from his teaching at the university in order to take over the position of Director of the Liquor Control for the State of Ohio. This appointment of Governor Bricker followed the marvelous work done by Brother Taylor in setting up the accounting system for the Liquor Department last year.

In keeping with their calling, Dave Walbolt and Charles Moushey have capitalized on their extensive commercial knowledge and organized a partnership dealing in all types of printed matter and office supplies. If the result is what they say it will be, 15 of the actives have agreed to come into the firm as vice-presidents.

Our most outstanding alumnus, Edward Danford, was at last married to one Anna May Collins on February 18. The active chapter celebrated the oncoming occasion a week preceding the ceremony with an appropriate stag party—just outside the city limits. Danny holds an excellent position with the Columbus Mutual Life Insurance Company, and is destined, as his superior remarked at the party, "to go places."

Everyone is looking forward to the winter formal, to be held March 4 at the Chittenden Hotel. From all reports it will be the "highlight" of the current year's social activities. Already the alumni are sending in money for tickets, and the actives searching their pockets for stamps, coins, and buttons. With such spirit we should set a new high for social activities on the Ohio State campus.

Georgetown Sponsors Professional Meetings

WITH MUCH CONGRESSIONAL ACTIVITY going on in Washington, Mu Chapter has had the opportunity of hearing several prominent and interesting speakers this year, by way of its professional program. Aiming toward a perfect efficiency rating, Edwin Schrader has been the capable leader of Mu's activities. This program has presented to the members of Mu Chapter and to the students of the School of Foreign Service, speakers from the Treasury Department, the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, the Department of Labor, the State Department, and many others.

One of our most interesting speakers was Mr. John Bulkely, Assistant Chief of the Narcotics Division of the U. S. Treasury who spoke to Mu Chapter on January 20. Mr. Bulkely discussed the smuggling of narcotics into the United States, and displayed several samples showing the methods usually used by the criminals. He also outlined the effects produced by the use of these narcotic drugs. On February 8, Mr. Preston Barker, Chief of the Rubber Division, Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, discussed the production of rubber in the United States and abroad, and commented upon the important rôle rubber plays in foreign trade of today. Dr. Lyle Cooper, of the National Labor Relations Board, led a discussion with Mu Chapter on February 16, on the subject of "Present Day Relations between Capital and Labor." On February 23, Mr. John Flagler of the Education Department of the Ford Motor Company, addressed Mu Chapter on Ford's post-college training system. Mr. Flagler, who is also the director of the Ford exhibit at the New York World's Fair, afterwards led a discussion on Ford's system of advertising at the fair.

Among the alumni of Mu Chapter located in Washington, we find Frank Nattier in the Pan American Union, Patrick Rinaldi in the Department of Agriculture, Walt Eddington with the Maritime Commission, Bill Kindsfather with the Post Office Department and Tom Lyons in the Department of Commerce. Benjamin Cohen, an alumnus of Mu Chapter now located at Santiago, Chile, was recently interviewed by the President's "Good Will" group on a world-wide broadcast from that city.

Gerald F. Stack, Head Master of Mu Chapter and president of the Student Council, was again elected chairman of Georgetown's Foreign Service Prom, which will take place on April 28 at the Shoreham Hotel. Under the direction of J. William Thoman, Mu Chapter was the scene of two very delightful parties on January 5 and 6, demonstrating that everyone had successfully passed semester examinations and that Mu's B plus average had been proudly sustained. James Ennis was a participant in a radio debate between Georgetown and the University of Pennsylvania, broadcast from Philadelphia on February 11. George Ryon, who recently underwent an appendectomy, is back with the gang in Washington. Reginald Martine is quarantined for none other than the chicken pox, but will be out soon we hope. Deltasigs who recently passed Georgetown's traditional language oral board examination—requisite for graduation—are: Frank Kysela, Robert Raish and Frank Mainella, in French; and Wm. McCandless, in Spanish. These seniors are now busy on their theses. Robert Byrne and William McKay are Mu's foremost "connoisseurs" of the art of fencing, and are, at present, engaged in the formation of a Georgetown fencing team.

At this time of year, Mu Chapter is busily engaged in its second semester pledging program. It looks like we are going to have one of our biggest and best classes.—WILLIAM H. MCCANDLESS, JR.

Minnesota Sponsors Many Activities

ALPHA EPSILON HAS BEEN keeping quite active this winter quarter. The Deltasigs will again control the annual Commerce Ball of the School of Business Administration. Harold Krinke was selected to be chairman by the Associated Board of Business Students. The ball will be held March 3 in the ballroom of the Nicollet Hotel.

Our basketball team had only a fair season losing two out of three but our consolation is the fact that we drubbed the A K Psis by the score of 21 to 7.

The actives gave a party at the chapter house in honor of our 13 new pledges on January 21. Such a good time was had by these pledges that they challenged the actives to a basketball game with another party as the reward for the winner. The pledges really have a fine crop of basketball players so we hope their victories in the future will make up for the beating the actives suffered.

Orlando Tosdal was in charge of tickets for the Inter-Pro ball held January 27, thus Alpha Epsilon had a leader in the Grand March.

Bernard Rucks has been made a division leader in the new Union drive for securing funds for Minnesota's new $2,000,000 Union Building which will be finished in the fall.

February 25 has been set as the date for our winter formal. It will be held at the Francis Drake and we certainly hope to make it live up to the reputation of Alpha Epsilon Chapter.

Cigars were received from Brother Carl Matala as he took Maxine Bradford as his bride. Gerald Smith is also preparing to set them up since he is being married February 20 to Phoebe Anne Porter.

Stanley Allison, our junior warden, has worked out a new system for the pledge class which has created a new high in their interest.

Colorado's Professional Interests

THE PROFESSIONAL WORLD is being given special emphasis by the Alpha Rho Chapter this year. We have had many widely diversified opportunities this year to study and enjoy almost every business in the state. At the present time we have several trips coming up that will give us a cross section of several industries. In the near future we have an opportunity to visit the Merchants Biscuit Company, the Black Diamond Coal Company, the Federal Mint at Denver, Colorado, and the Coors Brewery of Golden, Colorado. Last week we were taken on a trip through the Valmont Hydroelectric plant of the Public Service Company of Colorado. This plant has several unique features. It operates entirely on fuel and water from the area right around Boulder. There are several coal mines in the nearby district that furnish all of the coal that is needed. The water for the turbines comes from the Boulder City Water supply. The plant is situated on the shore of a lake from which they draw all of their water for condensing purposes. The water that is transformed into steam is condensed back into water and used over and over again. The coal that is used in the plant is first powdered until it is of the same fineness as flour. It can pass through a mesh that has 200 wires to the inch. Then all metal is drawn from the powder by magnets and also almost all of the water is taken out. The powder enters the furnace from the top and is burned almost immediately. This plant furnished power for the district all around Boulder and even sends power into Denver.

The annual winter banquet of the School of Business was again managed entirely by the Deltasigs. This year we had the largest turnout in several years. We completely filled the Gold Room of the Memorial Building here on the campus with 155 reservations. We were very fortunate this time in having Mr. Harry J. Eustace as our speaker for the evening. Mr. Eustace comes from California where he is the vice-president of Agricultural Trade Relations, Inc. His theme for the evening was "How to Get a Job." According to Mr. Eustace one of the essential things in getting a job and promotions in a business is to have ideas that are of importance to the industry or business that you have chosen. The man who does not have ideas might as well take a back seat and let the others go by because in this business world of today we are looking for ideas that will change business to the benefit of the boss. If you cannot produce such ideas then you will have to let someone else who can produce take your place. Then, above all else, you must be willing to work hard the first few years even though you do not think you are getting anything at all out of what you are doing.

We have a very pleasant spring to look forward to this year. First of all to start things off the School of Business is going to California for a week to visit several of the industries out there and at the same time to see the San Francisco Exposition. Then during spring quarter the annual Business School Day will be held. The festivities are concluded by the spring dance. Preceding the dance the spring banquet of Alpha Rho Chapter is held.—BILL DERRYBERRY

Baylor Plans Annual Formal Banquet

ALL OF THE BETA IOTA activities are now pointing to the annual formal banquet which is to be held in the Crystal Ballroom of the Roosevelt Hotel Saturday, February 18. An excellent program has been arranged with Frank C. Baldwin, well-known news editor of the state as the principal speaker of the evening. Many of the alumni are planning to attend and take advantage of this opportunity for another get-together with other alumni and the active members of the chapter. Our banquet this year will undoubtedly be the finest of its kind given by any Baylor organization, and will live long in the memory of the young ladies who are privileged to attend.

With the beginning of the new term at Baylor University, Beta Iota Chapter held its annual election of officers. Chosen to guide Beta Iota are the following: Head Master, David McCollum; Senior Warden, Carroll Thomas; Junior Warden, James Cobb; Treasurer, A. T. Middleton; Scribe, Morris Harrell; Senior Guide, Robert Warren; and Historian, Graves Blanton.

Four new members were initiated into the chapter on December 23. A well-planned informal initiation was held, and a good time was enjoyed by all. Following the Formal initiation the new members were honored with a Stag Dinner held in the Florentine Room of the Roosevelt Hotel.

Two professional meetings were part of the activities of the chapter during the past month. Superintendent Lawrence Payne of the Hillcrest Memorial Hospital spoke on the "Need For Business Men as Managers of Hospitals." The second meeting was at the Raleigh Hotel with Mr. George Bellew as principal speaker. His subject was a discussion of "Benefits Accrued from Life Insurance." Following the programs refreshments were served.

At the last meeting Beta Iota Chapter resolved to conduct a program of activities that will raise it to the position of leadership in the Chapter Efficiency Contest.—MORRIS HARRELL

Kansas Pledges Fifteen

WITH THE NEW SEMESTER just beginning Iota has been busy making plans for the coming semester. Our annual Industrial Tour to Kansas City is being planned and will take place sometime in the near future. This event has always been accompanied by a large turn-out, not only of student but of faculty members as well. It is a highly interesting and educational trip which is always enjoyed by those attending it.

We have elected our new officers and they are as follows: Head Master, William Seitz; Senior Warden, Virgil Green; Junior Warden, Jack Cosgrove; Treasurer, Jack Carlson; Scribe, Walter Sutton; Historian, William Waugh; Senior Guide, Clarence Neal; Master of Ceremonies, Clyde Smith; and DELTASIG Correspondent, William Lenhart. The new officers have taken over their responsibilities well and plan to make this a record semester.

On the Wednesday evening of February 22 we are having our pledging ceremony for 15 new neophytes followed by a banquet at the Hotel Eldridge. This promises to be a gay occasion with some interesting forms of entertainment during the banquet.

A short time ago we acquired a group of three rooms, which with a little more work, and ingenuity promise to make us a very comfortable place in which to hold our meetings.—BILL LENHART

Johns Hopkins Holds Formal Initiation

CHI CHAPTER HELD its first initiation of the current year on Saturday, January 28 and, needless to say, the ritual was presented in splendid fashion by the very able chapter ritual team. The initiation was held in the club rooms of the Blackstone Apartments after which a fine dinner was served and instructive and encouraging talks were given by our Chapter Adviser, Halsey E. Ramsen; Deputy Director, Charles Steinboch, Jr.; and former Deputy Director, Walter M. Baggs. Brother Baggs is now working in Washington, D.C., and seldom gets over to Baltimore to take part in the activities of the chapter. However, there are many Deltasigs from various sections of the United States who are now working in Washington and it is our understanding that Brother Baggs has been very active in endeavoring to get these out-of-town Deltasigs together. Another member of Chi Chapter who has also been a prominent figure in chapter activities but who was recently transferred to Philadelphia by the company for which he works is William E. Farber, who was also present at the initiation, having made a special trip to Baltimore to be on hand for this occasion.

On Thursday, February 2, Mr. H. B. Matthews, Vice-President of the Commercial Credit Company, addressed our group at one of our professional smokers and he spoke on the "Highlights of the Modern Field of Commercial Credit." Mr. Matthews is a very capable and interesting speaker and for the past 26 years his endeavors have been confined to the various types of credits offered with the result that he speaks authoritatively on the development of that field from its infancy to the position of supreme importance which it assumes today. Installment sales seems to be quite a controversial subject and although Mr. Matthews' opinion on this subject is obvious he did not hesitate to present, in an unbiased manner, the views of others who are opposed to installment sales.

Chi's mid-winter formal dance was held February 11, at the Cadoa Ballroom and it was indeed gratifying to note the enthusiastic interest displayed by both the active chapter and the alumni in their co-operation to make this dance a success. As usual, the dance was held in cabaret style and the music was furnished by Glen Williams and his orchestra. Much credit is due the chairman of the Entertainment Committee, Brother William E. Fornoff for his untiring efforts to make this affair an auspicious occasion.

Many of the active men and alumni seem to be quite musically-minded and appreciative of the higher type music. At the last two concerts of the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra many Chi men and their wives or girl friends were seen scattered throughout the audience of the Lyric Theatre. One of our members is an ardent supporter of the Philadelphia Symphony and several others can be seen at the National Symphony Concerts—they even travel to Washington to hear it. On the basis of this enthusiasm it is expected that even a larger group of Chi men will be on hand at the forthcoming Opera to be presented by the Metropolitan Opera Company in Baltimore.

A great deal of interest is being shown in the Grand Chapter Congress meeting to be held in September and it is expected that Chi Chapter will be well represented as a large number of our members are arranging their vacations so that they will be able to attend this important meeting.—DALLAS A. HARDESTY

Nebraska's Leaders are Busy Individuals

IF YOU WANT A THING DONE WELL give it to a busy person it has been said. Of Nebraska's newly-elected officers at least five are forced to rely partially or entirely on their own resources. Keeping books, grading papers, waiting table, they work their way through school. But they do more than that. They are also good students who participate actively in campus life. Head Master Lloyd Jeffery has long been the amazement of his brother Deltasigs by his seemingly uncanny ability to carry on a multitude of activities and do each one well. Assistant to not one but several professors; working in the university library; staff captain in the R.O.T.C.; and treasurer of the Phalanx, military honorary; to mention but a few of the things Head Master Jeffery is doing. Yes, Alpha Delta is proud of Brother Jeffery and the others like him.

After a brief lull during the examination period, activities again got under way with a professional program that featured such prominent Lincoln businessmen as H. W. Potter, secretary-treasurer of the Lincoln Telephone company and Stanley Maly, vice-president of the First National Bank of Lincoln. These men gave hard-hitting, factual talks on economic and business conditions, past and present, and the outlook for the future. Coming from men with a wealth of background and experience these talks drew the keen attention of all present. Harry DeFrere, assistant secretary of the Lincoln Liberty Life Insurance company, gave an inspiring talk in which he illustrated the seven requisites of a master salesman with instances from the life of Abraham Lincoln.

Indicative of the co-operative spirit existing on the Nebraska campus is the dinner-date dance to be given April 1 by Phi Chi Theta, commercial sorority, Delta Sigma Pi, and our friendly rivals Alpha Kappa Psi. To be held at the Student Union, this should prove to be a worthwhile event in strengthening and stimulating college and professional spirit.

Alpha Delta has entered the university intra-murals this year. Though we may be better businessmen than sportsmen, we are deriving lots of pleasure from it. One notable victory came just the other night when we beat one of the largest fraternities on the campus by a margin of one point in a hard-fought basketball game. Behind at the half-time we spurred to a thrilling win in the final seconds of the game.

Veteran members Kenneth Giffen and Kenneth Elkwall appear to be headed definitely towards the mergers column of this publication, the ranks of which another member, Chester Hickman has just recently entered. Good Luck, Boys!

Events in the none too certain future with which Alpha Delta looks forward to with pleasant anticipation are: a visit from Grand Secretary-Treasurer H. G. Wright; a theater party; and an industrial tour. As it is hoped that Gig Wright will be here on March 1; the chapter plans to hold a dinner in his honor which will also commemorate the chapter's birth date, March 1, 1924.

Playing basketball—beating and being beaten; carrying on an active professional and fraternal program; adding to that more than just a bit of the social; we of Alpha Delta Chapter are a happy, busy group and hope to stay that way for a long, long time.—JOHN A. RIPLEY

Pennsylvania Celebrates Seventh Birthday

ON THE EVENING of February 4 amid the congenial and hospitable surroundings of the chapter house, Beta Nu saluted its seventh year as an affiliate of Delta Sigma Pi. Lending an official touch to the dinner was the presence of Grand President Eugene D. Milener. Among the other speakers were Allan Fowler, Fred Floyd, Bill Rohrer and H. Palmer Lippincott, Jr. Mike Judge performed creditably as toastmaster, the cuisine left little to be desired and the entertainment ably rendered by Bill Rohrer was "strictly high class stuff." It was gratifying to see the number of alumni and visiting Deltasigs present to help make the affair worthy of the occasion.

At our most recent initiation our ranks were strengthened through the acquisition of five new brothers. These men throughout their period of pledgeship proved themselves to be worthy without a doubt of membership in Delta Sigma Pi. The following were admitted: F. William Burg, Paul E. Hinz, Kenneth W. Richman, Mardy H. Serpos and John S. Sloan.

Beta Nu's Second Annual Ping Pong Tournament is about ready to be sprung. The event is a yearly feature and its outcome is the basis for selection of the men who will represent Beta Nu in the inter-chapter match with Omega for possession of the Philadelphia Alumni Club Trophy. Don McTighe, from up Trenton way who holds one leg on the William G. Rohrer Cup, symbolic of Beta Nu supremacy, is the pretournament favorite, due in no small part to the garrison finish he displayed last year in defeating Merrill Dobbins in the finals. "Dobby" incidentally can't be counted out too soon, and then there are perhaps six or seven others who are capable of stepping in and completely upsetting all early predictions. Time alone will tell.

In connection with the coming Bi-Centennial Celebration of the University of Pennsylvania, the various alumni organizations of the university tendered banquets throughout the city the evening of January 28. A sizeable group of prominent Beta Nu alumni were at hand at the Evening School Alumni affair given at the Philadelphian. Speakers included Dr. Thomas S. Gates, President of the University, Dr. Joshua H. Penniman, Provost, Dr. Alfred H. Williams, Dean-elect of the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce, and Brother William R. Hockenberry, Director of the Evening School of Accounts and Finance.

Our first social funfest of the new semester took place in the form of a Valentine Dance on February 25. The event, held at the chapter house, was well attended and gave the brothers an insight on just what the festivities committee is planning, along entertainment lines, for the remainder of the school year.

In this and previous issues of the DELTASIG, much has been said already regarding the 1939 Grand Chapter Congress next summer in Philadelphia. The early response to the G. C. C. is very gratifying indeed. Present indications point to the most successful Congress ever to be held in the annals of Delta Sigma Pi. Everyone contacted is anxiously awaiting the event and YOU most certainly will want to be present. Plan now to attend!—RICHARD BOYAJIAN

Miami on Professional Ethics

THE LARGE CLASS of new initiates are now proving their interest in the affairs of the chapter here at Miami. With the leadership they are providing, the chapter can look forward to a sound future. All members are happy to lend their full support to Jack Howell and his assistant, Bob Sharp, for the work they are doing on a chapter publication. Plans have been broached several previous times, but in this case money has been allotted and the work is definitely going forward.

A new series of professional meetings are starting February 24, to continue until four have been held. Dr. Sandage, faculty adviser, has been the creator of the idea of having discussions on business as a profession and the attendant ethical standards of conduct. The four meetings are not to be conducted by the lecture method. A committee for the first meeting has been selected: Paul Poppe, Ed David, Dick Oblinger, Dick Troester, Bob Sander, Jack Boyd, Howard Paulson, and A. A. Leininger, chairman. The committee during the group meeting will be primed with ideas and facts. The chairman will merely keep the discussion from veering off on tangents and will endeavor to bring out points through questions to the whole group. The committee is to provide the minority of the meeting that can be counted on to have something to say, however, the other members are expected to make as many contributions as those who have places on the committee for that particular meeting. The chief object of these round table group meetings is to arouse interest in the contemporary problems of business ethics and is to start the formulation of ideal codes of conduct basic to the more fraternal-like operation of the whole field of business relationships.

Dick Oblinger led the group with a straight "A" record in grades this last semester. Dick and several others of the brothers have worried very much about grades the last period. They worried because if they got more than four "B's" they couldn't make Phi Beta Kappa. Rumor has it that several of these chronic crêpe-hangers made more than the necessary number of "A's."

Alpha Upsilon is planning now for luncheons and picture shows, pledging and initiation, and way off in the future, the election of officers, but before that comes around perhaps we will have another DELTASIG to expound more exact plans in.—A. A. LEININGER

North Carolina Establishes a Placement Bureau

THE BIG PROBLEM confronting every college graduate is: where will he secure a job? Alpha Lambda Chapter is at present establishing a placement bureau to aid all students in the School of Commerce to secure employment. Head Master Milton Hogan, who presented the idea to the chapter, has been very active in formulating the plan. He accepted the chairmanship of the committee, and with the very able assistance of several members of the chapter and Professor Taylor has made a great deal of progress. The committee has prepared a form letter which will be sent to many large companies requesting that they present opportunities for interviews with our graduating seniors. We feel sure that our work will not be in vain; several companies have already agreed to send interviewers to the campus. The men are selected from the placement files for interviews according to certain rules set up by the committee.

Alpha Lambda Chapter of Delta Sigma Pi continued its policy of learning by observation and sponsored an industrial tour to Greensboro, N.C. Brother J. B. Harris, Chairman of the Industrial Tours Committee, made the necessary arrangement with the management of the Vick Chemical Corporation, making the trip possible. We went through their modern air conditioned plant and were shown how Vicks Cough Drops are manufactured from the mixing kitchen to the packaging plant. For our next tour we are planning to go through a large newspaper office in Durham, N.C.

Steve Forrest has been active in intercollegiate sports this winter quarter. He wrestled in the 145 lb. class on the North Carolina state championship wrestling team. He has won a majority of his bouts.

Jim Hall, after months of work, finally succeeded in obtaining a permanent room for our meetings. It is furnished with a very large round table which enables us to conduct our meetings in a more formal manner. We are very grateful to Brother Hall for securing this new meeting place.

Warren Haddaway, former Head Master, is back in school taking graduate work. We are glad to have him back with us.

Due to the shortness of the quarter and the large amount of work carried by most members of the chapter, we have not been as active as we had hoped. The only major progress made this quarter is the establishing of a placement bureau. Next quarter we are looking forward to many things, namely; selecting our new pledges, sponsoring speakers, conducting industrial tours and other activities. We are looking forward to an eventful quarter. At the present writing we are all busy studying for exams which are but two weeks off.—TOM CROCKETT

Zeta Elects New Officers

ZETA CHAPTER OWES A DEBT of gratitude to the officers who were replaced at the January 12, 1939 meeting of the fraternity. Brothers Hawk, Mulder, Olson and Kelly served efficiently and continually displayed loyalty to the chapter. Their record of achievement shall serve as a guide for the incoming group.

Those to serve for the next semester include: Head Master, Jack Mulder who did a swell job as junior warden last semester; Senior Warden, Wil Hawkins; Junior Warden, Allan Clack; Scribe, Eri Lewis; Social Chairman, Wendell Butler; and Deltasig Correspondent, Henry Shull.

The principal aim of the new group is to boost Zeta Chapter to a leading position in the National Chapter Efficiency Contest for the coming year.

Aside from chapter business was the formal dinner-dance held Friday night, February 3, in the Tally Ho Room of the Medinah Club in downtown Chicago. Twenty couples braved the blizzard which crippled Chicago that week-end and everybody had a "whale" of a good time. Conspicuous among those present were Alumni Bob Barneir, Ed Donahue, and Marshall Crossman. So successful was this affair that serious consideration is being given to a similar party for this spring.

ALPHA BETA (MISSOURI) NEOPHYTES

Also planned is an informal party to be held at the chapter house sometime in the next few weeks.

A new tide of enthusiasm is rolling behind all of the boys and this year is going to be the biggest in Zeta history!

Wisconsin Grads Give Party

PSI CHAPTER ALUMNI have not lost their fervent college spirit as they demonstrated at the party they gave for the actives of Psi Chapter Thursday evening, February 9, at the chapter house. The grads planned the party having various games in process from the time after a fine dinner to the tiny hours after 12. Card games, ping-pong, and bingo were all substantiated with a background of popcorn and refreshments. It was a splendid chance for all the new actives to get acquainted with our grads, the college boys of yesteryear. Everyone attending the party got his full value received, and the grads are to be complimented on their initiative and genuine interest in Psi Chapter. May there be many more of these get-togethers between the grads and actives.

Two brothers of Psi recently died. Wilbert Jacob Hefty, Psi 64, and Leland Wolcott Williams, Psi 65, were laid to rest during the year of 1938. Brother Hefty, class of 1925, died last November, and Brother Williams, class of 1924, died last May.

All alumni attention! Our files of grads have been worked on until the name cards of the grads are in the best condition Psi Chapter has ever had. Connections between grads and their former college brothers can perhaps be made possible again by means of these files. Our paper, Psi News, will contain a list of names of grads with their addresses. Psi Chapter hopes that this bit of work turns out to be a service to its grads.—ROBERT KAILING

Newark Has Varied Activity

BETA OMICRON CHAPTER of Newark has fulfilled its promise of having an active and busy year. Professional meetings, social activities, rushing and pledging, and athletics have all been crowding on each others' heels. On November 17, Mr. Edward Haworth, production engineer of the Walter Kidde Company of Bloomfield, N.J., spoke to us on his work and its relation to accounting. Professor Schick, C. L. U. instructor at the University, and an approver at the Prudential Insurance Company, spoke to us about disability insurance. Mr. E. Ullrich, Union County judge, spoke to us concerning municipal financing, and accounting. We wound up our professional program for the term with an industrial tour to the Walter Kidde Company, manufacturers of fire fighting equipment. The 75 attending were treated to quite a contrast. We saw everything burning up in front of us and we almost froze our ears off.

Several parties and one formal dance took care of the social end of things for us. No matter what the occasion, Billy Miners can, and always does run a swell party for us. Our dance this year was one of the most successful we have ever run. On November 19, the Hotel Douglas overflowed with music, laughter, fun, Deltasigs, and their girls. That reminds me. We of Beta Omicron are willing to bet that we have the prettiest bunch of girls around. Any chapter want to contest that? If so let us know.

Athletics are being well taken care of by the "mad Irishman," Tommy McGlynn. We're keeping the other fraternities busy with whatever sport the season has to offer. Right now a table tennis contest is raging in the chapter to determine who are the best five players. When (and if) we find out who they are, they will clean up all the school has to offer.

Our chapter sponsored a debate between the University of Newark, and the University of Pennsylvania. The topic was "Resolved—That those people on relief shall not be allowed to vote." The University of Newark, upholding the affirmative, was the victor.

This year and last, the Newark Advertising club has picked a man who is to be "Newark's Citizen Number One." For 1938, the first year that this honor was bestowed on anyone, the club picked Franklin Conklin, Jr. This year, Mr. Arthur Egner was picked. These men were selected for being outstanding in every respect, in business, family, and their contribution to the community. The Club made excellent choices each year, and we should like to offer our congratulations to each of these gentlemen.

We wound up a very successful rushing period by pledging eleven men. Then we in turn wound up a successful pledging period by initiating eight of these men on February 18. In addition to these eight undergraduates, we initiated two Faculty members, and three Honorary members who had been unable to attend former initiations. The Honoraries were Dr. Black, Mr. Egner, and Mr. Conklin. The Faculty members were Professors C. H. Martin, and W. von Minden. Our new undergraduate brothers are John B. Gawley, Arthur N. Hutchinson, Jr., John Koribanics, George D. Prentice, John F. Sauerwein, Robert E. Sharrer, Theodore J. Wagner, Jr., and Frank G. R. Wiener.

This initiation marks the first brother combination in Beta Omicron Chapter, Mike, and John Koribanics.

The banquet following the initiation was presided over by Paul Gregory, who did his usual good job. The speakers were Head Master Dave Darling, Professor von Minden, our new faculty adviser Dr. Greef, Mr. Albert E. N. Grey, of the Prudential Insurance Company, Dean Esterly, former Head Master Doug Clark, and our two "Number One" citizens, Mr. Conklin, and Mr. Egner.

Well, Deltasigs—your "baby chapter" has not only removed its safety pins—it has started wearing trousers.

See you in Philadelphia at the Grand Chapter Congress!

—ROBERT C. JAEGER

Northwestern Initiates Eleven

ELECTIONS ARE OVER, and Beta as usual has won her share of class offices. In the senior, sophomore, graduate, and unclassified divisions the nominees were unopposed, and Bob Bauer was elected vice-president of the senior class and Reno Alghini and Ray Podolak members of the Student Council without a ballot election. But offices in the junior and freshman classes were contested, and an election was held during the school week of January 2 to 6. Despite a daily editorial in the Daily Northwestern against the "evils of the organized student body" and the "powerful coalition," Russ Borgstrom was elected vice-president of the junior class, Jerry Gustafson and Harry Cikanek president and treasurer respectively of the freshman class, and Fred Church to a seat on the Student Council. Betamen received by far the largest majority of the votes cast for their offices.

With the close of Hell Week February 11, Beta finds herself richer by eleven new members, three of them faculty members on the Chicago Campus. Monday the neophytes entertained the actives with a clothes scramble, and were rewarded generously with a healthy shampoo of luscious hen fruit. Tuesday the actives, feeling in a reciprocal mood, gave a delicious Hell Night Banquet for the downtrodden pledges. Everyone had a roaring good time and ate heartily—except the pledges.

Traditionally, Wednesday was devoted to the solemn ceremony of introducing the aspiring candidates to Rose of Deltasig—dear little Rosie. Thursday the Kangaroo Court was held and the black books inspected closely. Judgement was passed, and the erring neophytes punished severely for their wrongdoings, for the wages of sin is the paddle. Friday the High Tribunal ceremoniously marched in and reviewed the past lives of the masked pledges. Surprising, really, how well we all know each other after Friday of Hell Week.

THE BETA CHAPTER HOUSE, 42 CEDAR STREET, CHICAGO
Purchased in 1925 at a cost of over $52,000 and the center of many Delta Sigma Pi activities in the city of Chicago

Saturday afternoon 11 weak but willing men stood proudly as the badges of Delta Sigma Pi were pinned upon their chests. The new men are Brothers Schall, Brook, and Ayres, of the faculty of Northwestern University, and Brothers Amato, Brown, Clavelli, Close, Cummings, Glowen, Linstrum, and Merle, students of the School of Commerce.

This year's Hell Week was a success all the way through. The new men are fine material to strengthen the chapter, much work was done in the way of repairs and painting under the able guidance of Master of Ceremonies Ben Halpin, and we all had loads of fun, including the initiates—no foolin'. So, we can look back on successfully completing the first half of Beta's 25th year, and forward to finishing it as one of the best in our history.—J SHANNON GUSTAFSON

News From Ole Miss

SINCE ALPHA PHI'S revival on the Ole Miss campus, rapid strides have been made in all departments. We are now nearing our first anniversary and have already gained a great deal of recognition on the campus. In the main, we have secured this recognition through the inauguration of an extensive publicity campaign and the selection of a "sweetheart."

Alpha Phi held its mid-term election at the last meeting and the following officers were elected: Head Master, J. B. Conway; Senior Warden, Bill Allen; Junior Warden, T. C. Buford; Scribe, Ed Rather; Treasurer, Albert Gardner; and Historian, Leroy Hiding.

Alpha Phi has made plans to move into a room in the new Student Union Building that is now under construction on the campus.

The Alpha Phi Chapter sponsored a movie on "Co-operative Marketing" which was shown, free of charge, to all interested students. This interesting picture was secured through the efforts of T. C. Buford, and he is planning to show another one during the year on the New York Stock Exchange.

Membership is now nearing the 30 mark, and we hope to take in several new members as soon as the first semester grades are checked.—LEROY HIDINGER

Michigan Elects Officers

WITH THE FIRST semester over and final exams behind us Xi again turns its attention to rushing. Newly elected Senior Warden, Chuck Jordan, heads the rushing program for this semester. Rushing dinners are held Tuesday and Thursday of each week.

January saw the election of a fine new crop of officers. Newly elected Head Master is Don Rohn who has been with the chapter for four years and has held the offices of senior warden, junior warden and treasurer. New Senior Warden is Chuck Jordan, a transfer from Purdue and one highly respected among his fellows. Brother Hicks retains by unanimous vote the office of treasurer. Bob Casey and Vance Wilson were chosen to fill the offices of scribe and junior warden respectively while Harry Jackman was re-elected to the office of master of festivities. Joe Bonavito was chosen chancellor.

Recent social event was the annual Michigan J-Hop. Count Basie and Henry Busse furnished the music and kept all those in attendance "trucking on down." Numerous alumni visited the chapter house for the event and Xi was represented at the Hop among the fraternity booths.

Among the important forthcoming social events is the Capitalist's Ball given annually by the School of Business Administration. Xi is represented on the Ball committee by Chuck Jordan and Doug Welfare and the affair promises to be one of the outstanding events of the year on the Michigan campus. In the chapter, plans are being made for a radio dance to be held in the chapter house within the next month. A small party was recently held at the Michigan Union where Xi reserved a portion of the ballroom at the regular weekly informal dance.

Xi plans to be among those sending representatives to the Grand Chapter Congress in Philadelphia next September. Many have voiced a desire to attend the Congress and at the same time take advantage of the opportunity to see the New York World's Fair. Xi men hope to meet brothers from other chapters at the Congress.—BYRON HARRIS

Creighton Initiates Nine

NINE NEW MEMBERS were initiated into Beta Theta Chapter on February 12, celebrating also the great day and anniversary of Abraham Lincoln. The nine new members give us a good size membership and a great start for a good year to come. All of the new members are freshmen and sophomores, and with these new members in the organization we should have very little trouble progressing as has been a custom of our chapter. The speakers of the evening were Dean Walsh, Dr. John Begley and Professor Norbert Bausch. Professor Bausch gave the main address of the evening and talked on the good-fellowship that is found in the chapter, and what really makes a fraternity man. His speech was one of the finest that we have yet heard and went over especially well with the new members. The entire affair was very successful and worked out just fine.

Several of our members are outstanding in scholarship and in campus activities. Head Master Eugene McBride received a very high average in the College of Commerce and was a leader in his class for the last semester. Also two alumni G. Lawrence Keller former Head Master and James R. McGreevy secretary of the Omaha Alumni Club have received very fine grades in the Law School and the Beta Theta Chapter are therefore very proud of these brothers.

We have again this year entered a basketball team in the Intramural organization at school and have as our coach a former active member G. Lawrence Keller. Brother Keller has reached success with the team having won the last four games. The team is made up of members of the fraternity and players who have seen action on high school teams. We think that our club should be able to come out on top if they keep on playing as they have done in the past. Jack Lohrman has been a consistent standout in each game being high score man as well as being one of the best men on the floor. The members that do not play in the game come and attend them and lend their support by showing that they are behind their team to the last man.

At this time we wish to say to all of the other chapters that Beta Theta wishes each and every one of the Chapters that is entered in the bowling contest good luck. We are also going to be entered in the contest and think that we will make it very difficult for other chapters to defeat us. Anyway good luck to you all.—WILLIAM A. PETER

Marquette Continues to Lead

BROTHERS OF DELTA CHAPTER hold the leading political offices on the Marquette University campus. Presidents of the senior, junior and sophomore classes, as well as several minor class officers are members of Delta Chapter and the president of the freshman class owes allegiance to the fraternity. Furthermore, Delta has officers in the local Commerce Club, the Union Board, and has members on all leading committees such as the junior prom and Interfraternity Council. In four of the five outstanding athletic squads, the outstanding person is a Deltasig. In football it's Ray Apolskis, chosen on nearly all of Marquette's opponents "All-opponent Team." Bob Deneen is the basketball star, leading the team in scoring and called the "spark-plug" of the team by Coach Chandler. Ray Winter is Delta's contribution to boxing at Marquette; he being the boxing coach and a member of the National Collegiate Association of Coaches. The largest athletic movement of the university is headed by Brother Henry Pandl, the director of intramural athletics.

To date Delta Chapter has had five professional meetings, with outstanding speakers. At the last meeting Mr. Edgar Manske, traffic manager of the Allis-Chalmers Corporation was the guest speaker. Brothers and guests were so interested in his speech that Mr. Manske was kept busy for 45 minutes at the conclusion of his speech answering our questions. Another professional activity of great importance was a visit to the Phoenix Hosiery Company of Milwaukee. A complete tour, under expert guides, was made of the plant.

Deltasigs of Marquette have been active socially, too. Since the beginning of the fall semester they have had four noon-day luncheons; celebrated Founders' Day with a banquet at the Ambassador Hotel; enjoyed a sleigh-ride party at Brown Deer, Wisconsin; held a homecoming dance at the Plankinton Hotel; and maintained a schedule of smokers for brothers and guests, thus promoting greater fellowship between members and prospective pledges.

Fourteen men have been initiated into the brotherhood, with prospects of more to come. The membership is now the largest in the history of Delta Chapter. Thus it can be seen that under the guidance of Head Master James Jertson Delta Chapter of Delta Sigma Pi is a major influence on the Marquette campus.—OLAF KNUDSEN

Denver Initiates Twelve

AGGRESSIVE CHAPTER ACTION, guided by capable leadership, was responsible for the introduction of 12 fine new men into Alpha Nu Chapter at our semi-annual initiation held on December 11. The new initiates represent, in our opinion, the most outstanding men in the School of Commerce, and we are proud to have them wear the familiar Deltasig badge. We now boast a membership of 38 brothers—all pledged to keep Alpha Nu at the pinnacle of fraternity achievement.

Several very successful events were sponsored by Alpha Nu Chapter this winter. During the holiday season a skating party was held at Evergreen—Colorado's own Sun Valley only 30 miles from Denver. After an afternoon of perfect skating, the party was concluded by a delightful evening of dinner and dance at Eddie Ott's By-The-Lake, an adjoining resort. Practically every Sunday Brothers Morey, Wiley, Rich and Sunblade tie their skis on top of their respective cars and journey off to the mountains to enjoy a day's skiing. Fortunately there have been no casualties as yet.

With the beautiful Lancaster Hotel as a background, Alpha Nu was host to the School of Commerce at our annual open house held on February 1. Both faculty and students turned out in force to dance to the swingillating rhythm of Ralph Richard's orchestra. Commented the conservative Denver Clarion, "The Deltasig open house is being acclaimed by many as the best of the year."

A magnificent host of purple and gold-clad players has been Alpha Nu's threat to the Intramural Fraternity Basketball Championship. With great guidance by Brother-coach-player Jack Fay, the Deltasig quintet has fought its way into the upper bracket by outplaying some classy entries. The few games left to be played will decide the winner of the tournament. Credit for our high rating goes to Brothers Allan Tilsley, Neil Sunblade, Karl Mehlmann, Paul Blagen, Joe Lewis, Elwin Rich, and John Colosacco.

Meanwhile the chapter is anxiously awaiting its winter quarter formal dance to be held March 10 at Hillcrest Country Club. Which reminds us, summer is not far off, and—if rumors may be trusted—the New York World's Fair may look for a western invasion by ol' Alpha Nu Chapter. Many of the brothers are planning trips East this summer so don't be surprised when you hear that old "Howdy Partner!"—BILL EATON

Pi Looks Forward to Busy Semester

WE START THE SECOND SEMESTER of this school year with enthusiasm. All the members of Pi Chapter are busy looking for Delta Sigma Pi material in the School of Commerce and with the large supply of men to pick from, including our pledges held over from last initiation, we should have no trouble getting our quota with first-class men.

The following brothers were recently elected to guide Pi Chapter until June: Head Master, Eugene H. Broxton; Senior Warden, Bernard Butts; Junior Warden, Neville

James; Treasurer, U. R. Jenkins; Scribe, Bobbie Maxwell; Historian, Robert Kernaghan; Master of Ceremonies, Frank Story; Master of Festivities, Owen Pearson; Chancellor, James Dozier; Faculty Adviser, H. M. Heckman. Other officers appointed were: Senior Guide, J. W. Chambers; Junior Guide, W. W. Hardin; and Deltasig Correspondent, James Dozier.

We "done it again" in the recent election of officers of the Economic Society, thus continuing the custom of Pi Chapter. The officers elected were: Eugene H. Broxton, president; Lovic Ponder, vice-president; Fred Wickham, a pledge, secretary; and Robert Kernaghan, treasurer. In other clubs and societies on the campus Pi Chapter is well represented.

Brother Butts has been appointed chairman of the Efficiency Contest Committee. Under his leadership Pi Chapter is going to give other chapters a race for first place.

With plenty of social and professional activities, as well as industrial tours on our schedule, we are looking forward to a very busy semester at Pi Chapter.—EUGENE H. BROXTON

South Carolina Chapter Establishes Scholarship Fund

BETA GAMMA CHAPTER at the University of South Carolina has started a Scholarship Loan Fund which will enable a junior or senior in the School of Commerce to borrow up to $100 to be applied to his college expenses. The fund will be built up over a period of years by allotting to it from $50 to $100 each year. It is planned to maintain the fund at approximately $500. Beta Gamma Chapter, the Dean of the School of Commerce, and the University Scholarship Committee will select the person or persons who will receive the loan and the amount to be granted. The selections are to be based on the student's past scholastic record at Carolina and his financial condition. The loan will be non-interest bearing until six months after graduation after which time it will bear interest at four per cent. Money for the fund will be raised from the Commerce Cabaret Ball and "Fun Night," both being annual events sponsored by Beta Gamma.

A series of professional meetings and tours have already been planned for the current semester. State's Attorney General John M. Daniel and W. D. Nixon, alumnus of our Michigan Chapter and who is now district director of social security in South Carolina have been our most recent speakers.

Our social schedule is also up to par with definite plans having been made for a formal banquet and dance to be held May 5. We hope and believe that this will be a means of bringing together a large number of our brothers, both actives and alumni.

Although we have been very busy making plans for our banquet and dance we didn't forget our first semester initiation and election of new officers for the second semester. We had a most successful initiation which gave us seven more good men. We also had one faculty member to "go through" with the others. At our first meeting after initiation we had election of officers. Harry W. Findley, one of our most capable leaders, was elected to serve as Head Master. D. H. Pate succeeded Ben Joe Williams as Senior Warden; Ben Joe having been elected scribe. For treasurer we have Marvin P. Busbee and Evans N. Guyton is chancellor. Under the leadership of these officers we are confident that we will have one of the most successful years we have ever experienced. Plans are already progressing very rapidly for our "Fun Night" mentioned above in connection with our Scholarship Fund to which all proceeds will be applied.

With this fine leadership and co-operation, Beta Gamma has every reason to believe that this will be a truly great year in its history.—HUGH S. BRUNSON

Rider Out to Win Efficiency Contest

THE COMPARATIVE STANDINGS of January 6, 1939 in the Delta Sigma Pi Chapter Efficiency Contest shows Beta Xi Chapter in a tie for first place with Beta Kappa, Texas. It is the first time that we have had the honor of being at the top of the heap, and we are looking forward to staying there if the brothers will pursue their scholastic endeavors more diligently and if we can have a larger percentage of members present at our professional meetings.

We had the privilege of having Grand President E. D. Milener, and Province Director F. W. Floyd present at our initiatory dinner-dance which was held at the Trenton Country Club on Saturday, January 14. Brother Floyd told us all about the Grand-Chapter Congress to be held in Philadelphia in September. Brother Milener presented the new members with their membership certificates and congratulated the chapter for being in first place in the Chapter Efficiency Contest.

Several alumni brothers returned to Trenton during the Annual Rider College Alumni Reunion held on January 27-29. Luncheon was served at the house on Saturday and in the evening the Alumni banquet and ball was held at the Hotel Hildebrecht.

The end of the recent Intra-Mural Bowling Tournament found another cup in our trophy case. Both parts of the league were won by Captain Newbury and his able kegglers, eliminating the necessity of conducting a play-off between the winners of the first and second half which was the plan when the league was formed.

Basketball has taken the spotlight in intramural sports. The team has played three games thus far, winning two and losing the other by a one point margin. Brother Major, at the present time is leading the league in scoring.

At a recent meeting the following brothers were elected to guide our destinies during the current term of office: Head Master, Clifford Crane; Senior Warden, Franklin Sutton; Junior Warden, Francis Mackey; Scribe, Ralph Fay; Treasurer, Richard Lion; Chancellor, Jack Gilmartin; Historian, Robert Withrow. Brother F. M. Dowd was again selected faculty adviser.

Rev. Philip Zinc gave us an informal talk on "The Connection Between Modern Business and the Church" on Monday evening January 23. On Tuesday night, February 14, an instructor of the Trenton police force gave us a talk concerning crime and the use of firearms.—FRANKLIN R. SUTTON

De Paul to Fete Neophytes

AFTER AN UNDUE AMOUNT of time in getting the pledges amply educated had been consumed, Bud "One-two" Burns informed this department that the informal initiation of said rebels is to be held at the Allerton Hotel on the evening of February 28. Bud is in charge of this semester's "charges" and has been doing a really swell job of teaching the neophytes the "wees" and "wubblu's" of Delta Sigma Pi. Formal initiation and a banquet will follow closely on the heels of the informal rites, not to forget our dance to be given on St. Patrick's Eve.

Although we are shamefully tardy in doing so, we wish to openly thank Beta Chapter for the dancing party at which we were guests last December. Confidentially, it was a hum-dinger. The nocturnal rapture reflected on the face of many an Alpha Omegaman while he was blissfully gliding through the halls of your sanctum sanctorum in the arms of one of those lovely Phi Gamma Nu girls was probably the best indication of our appreciation.

Alpha Omega has been honored by the Chicago Alumni Club by virtue of their having designated the evening of Tuesday, February 21, as "Alpha Omega Night." A banquet was held in one of the Triangle Restaurants in downtown Chicago, with De Paul being well represented.

We are proud Brother Jack Loughnane has been called upon by Beta Nu Chapter to conduct the advertising campaign in this district for the Grand Chapter Congress in September. We feel that Beta Nu was wise in its selection of Jack and we wish to assure them we will give him our whole-hearted support.

Alpha Omega wishes to extend greetings to its many alumni throughout this territory and hopes each of the other chapters will abound in success during this new semester.—WILLIAM R. HUNTER

Penn State Initiates Fifteen

ALPHA GAMMA OF DELTA SIGMA PI has just completed a most successful semester. Two initiations were held during this period at which 15 men were admitted to the fraternity. This brings the active chapter membership up to 25. Plans are now under way to bring additional men into the chapter during the coming semester.

For the second year, the chapter sponsored and published an employment booklet for students in the Department of Commerce and Finance. The present booklet is made up of 85 graduating seniors. It came out just after Christmas vacation in order that February graduates might receive the benefits. Each page includes a picture of the student, his age, height, and weight, his State College and home addresses, courses taken in commerce and finance, summer employment, and his activities record here at Penn State. Financing of the booklet was taken care of by the students themselves. A fee of $3 was made for which the participant obtained one booklet and 25 personal sheets for his own use. The department sends out booklets to employers in Pennsylvania and surrounding states.

As special features of our program several luncheon meetings were held with successful town merchants as speakers. These meetings were conducted in quite an informal manner and usually ended in beneficial discussions.

Another feature of our program is the backing of the establishment of a School of Business Administration or a School of Commerce at State. At the present time the Department of Commerce and Finance is a part of the Liberal Arts School. It is the belief of the faculty and the student body that a more efficient program of study could be worked out if a separate school were established.

All in all, the first semester of this year has been very active for Alpha Gamma. We hope to continue and expand our program of activities during the second semester.—ROBERT W. HAYMAN will find comfortable accommodations at the Alpha Chapter house, 21 W. 12th Street, New York, N.Y., which will be open all summer, at $1 per person per night. Advance reservations are necessary and you should communicate with the house manager, Victor E. Kieffer, 21 W. 12th Street, New York, in this connection.

Delta Sigma Pi Visitors to the New York World's Fair of 1939

The trained possessors of sheepskins from the various schools of commerce, who now have taken their place in the ranks of business, will understand the challenge to organizing and management ability that confronted those of us fortunate enough to have a part in this fascinating enterprise. It is a task which called for the creation of a huge, many-sided organization from a standing start in the spring of 1936—architects, engineers and construction men, experts in the fields of exhibits and concessions, statesmen and writers, financiers and accountants, organizers, planners and co-ordinators, all nicely balanced and all brought together to build a gigantic Fair which will operate for a very short period.

No one man or woman could do it all, yet without the inspiring leadership and the ceaseless energy of a Grover A. Whalen, the present staff of 1500 men and women—which in the next four months will grow five-fold (exclusive of large numbers employed by exhibitors and concessionaires)—could not have been welded together into the smoothly working organization that it is.

It would be interesting to the members of the Fraternity who have been trained in organization, accounting, budget control, procedures, and other phases of business management to delve into the mechanics developed here, many of which are novel. The basis, of course, has been careful planning and meticulous control at every stage. The volume of detail is large, enabling the use of mechanical devices of the most modern type. There were few precedents and no prejudices to overcome.

At this moment, written instructions for the operation of the Fair period four months hence virtually have been completed covering all of the intricate details of ticket selling at the entrances and concessions, the handling of many millions of dollars in small amounts of cash through a system of branch banks and depositories, the careful requirements of accounting and auditing, maintenance and care of buildings, grounds and electrical systems, control and cleaning of thousands of uniforms, and a complete information system, not to mention the transportation, care and protection of sixty million visitors both outside and inside the grounds, involving fire fighting forces and apparatus, policing, and a corps of doctors and nurses with first-aid stations, etc.

Only the other day a gentleman, who has had years of practical experience in other expositions, joined the staff and, after studying the situation for a week, remarked, "This Fair is so far ahead that it could be opened in thirty days if necessary."

That was a gratifying comment, but by no means produced any letdown in the intensity of effort now being put forth by every member of the staff from the President to the mail clerk.

We do not forget for a single moment that when the gates open on April 30 this year to commemorate the inauguration of George Washington and the birth of the Federal Government in New York City one hundred and fifty years ago, everything must be ready—every man and woman at his or her post and adequately trained. The machinery must click from the start because after that there will be neither time nor opportunity to experiment.

Grand Chapter Congress to Meet at Hotel Warwick, Philadelphia

such parties should communicate with the Central Office of the fraternity immediately who will be glad to help in every way possible.

Friday, September 8 has been designated by the administration of the New York World's Fair as Delta Sigma Pi Day and undoubtedly there will be a large delegation of members of the fraternity representing all of the chapters making the trip to New York from Philadelphia on this day, to be joined by many New York Deltasigs.

There is no reason why the Thirteenth Grand Chapter Congress cannot be the largest and best ever held in the history of the fraternity.
