Mr. Mark Roberts

Dear Mr. Roberts:

I have been asked by Mr. Mark Dowd to supply a letter of endorsement and support for the formation of a Delta Sigma Pi chapter at Winona State University. It is a pleasure to respond enthusiastically and positively to such a request.

Delta is in its first year of operation at Winona State University. Delta Sigma Pi chapter has undertaken more activities and affected more students than I suspect other chapters in any campus throughout the country. Part of this is due to the involvement of a large group of students who are extremely interested and dedicated to the development of a Delta Sigma Pi chapter at this university. I commend their efforts and note the extreme success with which they have met their goals thus far in developing this chapter.

LETTERS OF RECOMMENDATION

I am well familiar with business professional fraternities on other campuses and am very excited that this first step is being taken at Winona State University. They have already been a significant asset to the business program at this university, and there is every expectation that they will continue to be.

In behalf of this university, I wholeheartedly endorse and encourage the formation of a Delta Sigma Pi chapter here. I look forward to their continuing contribution to the business program at this university, and do commit myself to the continued support of their organization as it develops.

Sincerely,

Dennis Tanner
Dean of Business and Industry

Dear Mr. Roberts

I have been asked by Mr. Mark Dorn to supply a letter of endorsement and support for the formation of a Delta Sigma Pi chapter at Winona State University. It is a pleasure to respond enthusiastically and positively to such a request.

While in its first year of operation at Winona State University, Delta Sigma Pi chapter has undertaken more activities and affected more students than I suspect chapters on many campuses throughout the country. Part of this is the excitement of a new and exciting endeavor; but most of it has to do with the small group of students who are extremely interested and dedicated to the development of a Delta Sigma Pi chapter at this university. I commend their efforts and note the extreme success with which they have met their goals thus far in developing this chapter.

Dear Mr. Roberts:

I have had the opportunity on a number of occasions over the past year to work with a group of very talented and energetic students from Winona State University. These students are interested in forming a chapter of Delta Sigma Pi on their campus and have worked very hard towards achieving this goal.

In their efforts to establish a chapter, this group has shown the ability to operate their organization as a business, sponsoring professional tours, community service projects, and through efficient chapter management. They have also demonstrated an interest in the community through actively participating and becoming a member of the Winona Area Chamber of Commerce.

I firmly believe these students have great potential and will be a valuable addition to your fraternity of Delta Sigma Pi. I am pleased to be able to recommend to you the establishment of a chapter during the Spring quarter of 1983 on the campus of Winona State University.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Roberts:

This letter is in regards to the students of Winona State Universitys application for chapter membership in Delta Sigma Pi. I have personally been involved with Delta Sigma Pi as an undergraduate, an alumni, and now serve as an advisor for the applying students. The students involved are extremely impressive in their dedication, organization and initiative to form this chapter.

The group is being run like an existing chapter already. Officer, committees, speakers, projects and recruiting have been established and are operating smoothly. There also seems to be a growing interest among other business students in our young organization. I also feel faculty and community support is developing very well.

I have every reason to believe the committment of the students, the support of the faculty and enthusiasm of the university toward Delta Sigma Pi will continue to grow at a steady pace. I highly support this application and look forward to an even closer fraternal relationship between Delta Sigma Pi and Winona State University.

Sincerely,

HISTORY

Winona State University's history reaches back to 1858, in that year, Minnesota's first legislature established the "First State Normal School at Winona." The institution was the first of its kind west of the Mississippi and only the twelfth of its kind in the nation. Classes began in September of 1858, and with a humble beginning of 31 students, a single building, and a small staff of educators, Winona State began the long proud history of educational leadership.

Over the years, the legislature has continually grown and altered the goals to meet the educational needs. In those early years, a normal school, HISTORY Winona's early purpose was to provide the best for public schools. Its curriculum consisted of only the basics of study. Then in 1891, the name was changed to Winona State Teachers College, and it was authorized to grant the Bachelor's Degree. In 1907, the name was again changed to Winona State College. With this change, the mission of the college was altered. Thus, the old "Normal School" became a fully accredited state college offering diversified programs to new generations of students.

Over the years, the buildings now standing having been built by the state and the students 20 departments and over 1000 students. Winona State University

HISTORY

Winona State University's history reaches back to 1858. In that year, Minnesota's first legislature established the "First State Normal School in Winona." The institution was the first of its kind west of the Mississippi and only the twelfth of its kind in the nation. Classes began in September of 1860, and with a humble beginning of 31 students, a single building, and a small staff of educators, Winona State began its long proud history of educational leadership.

Over the years, the university has continually grown and altered its goals to meet new educational needs. In those early years as a normal school, the institution's only purpose was to prepare teachers for public schools. Its curriculum consisted of only one course of study. Then in 1921, the name was changed to Winona State Teachers College, and it was authorized to grant the bachelor's degree. In 1957, the name was again changed to Winona State College. With this change, the mission of the college was altered. Thus, the old "Normal School" became a fully accredited state college offering diversified programs to new generations of students.

With most of the buildings now standing having been built since 1960 and now offering the students 28 departments and over 80 majors and minors to choose from, Winona State University has become a prominent institution.

SCHOOL OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

The history of the Business Department at Western State University is written down in many places. Information was first written down in the department files back in 1906. In 1907, the first graduates in Business numbered three.
The first teacher, Mrs. News, is listed in Business Administration and Economics. Classes were held in the basement of Phelps Hall.

Over the years there are 970 Business related students attending
WSU. This figure consists of 260 Accounting students and 698
Business Administration students. The Business Administration major consists of Personnel, Marketing, Public Administration, and General Business options.

HISTORY

The department currently consists of 11 full and part-time faculty. The department is housed in the upper level of the building on the west side of the campus. The department was first established in 1906 and has since then expanded to include the current fields of study.

There are two student clubs in the Business Administration and Accounting fields offered at WSU. These clubs are S. A. E.
(Society for the Advancement of Management) and the Accounting Club.

The department offers Business Administration and Economics degrees. The department also offers a degree in Business and Industry Management.

The history of the Business Department at Winona State University has never been written down as such. Information we could gather about the department dates back to 1949. In that year, the first graduates in Business numbered three. There was only one teacher, Mrs. Ness, to teach classes in Business Administration and Economics. Classes were held in the basement of Phelps Hall.

Currently, there are 974 Business related students attending WSU. This figure consists of 260 Accounting students and 698 Business Administration students. The Business Administration majors consist of Personnel, Marketing, Public Administration, and General Business options.

The department currently consists of 23 full and part-time teachers. The department is currently seeking to expand course variety by adding six or more teachers. The MBA program was added to the Business Administration/Economics department in late 1978.

There are two prominent clubs in the Business Administration and Accounting fields offered at WSU. These clubs are S. A. M. (Society for the Advancement of Management) and the Accounting Club.

The Head of the Business Administration and Economics Department is Michael Gieske. The Dean of Business and Industry is Dr. Dennis Tanner.

CAMPUS

LIBRARY

The library is a very important part of the campus. It contains a large collection of books, journals, and other materials. The library is also a place where students can find help with their studies.

MAXWELL LIBRARY

This is actually two buildings combined. "Old" Maxwell is now the student health center and home of the ROTC program. New Maxwell contains various collections of bound volumes, reels of microfilms and other microforms. The library is also a selective depository for U. S. Government publications.

MEMORIAL HALL

This building contains the Department of Health, Physical Education and Recreation. This facility also offers a swimming pool, racquetball/handball courts, weight training rooms, and six gymnasiums. The football field, tennis courts and track & field house are located near by.

MINNÉ HALL

This hall is named after Dr. Nels Minné, who served as president of the university from 1944 through 1966. This building is our newest on campus and was first occupied in May of 1973. It currently houses the departments of English, Geography, History, Political Science, and Sociology. It also provides an observatory area for the astronomy classes.

PERFORMING ARTS CENTER

This building, completed in 1969, houses the departments of Communication and Theatre Arts and Music. Within the Music Department, we have music practice booths and the music library. This building also contains KQAL, the student operated radio station, and a 500-seat auditorium, where many social and cultural events are presented.

PHELPS-HOWELL HALL

The original building was named after President William F. Phelps, 1864-1876. An addition was made in 1956 and the building was renamed Phelps-Howell Hall, after Etta Hudson Howell for her scholarships left to elementary education students.

This building consists of: Admissions Offices, the Nursing Department, Industrial Arts shop, Campus Nursery School, Audiovisual Production Services, the Instructional Resource Center, and the gymnastics gym. The student newspaper, The Winonan, is also located in this building.

SOMSEN HALL

In 1923 and 1924 this building was erected, then known as "College Hall." In 1937 it was named "Somsen Hall", after Stephen H. Somsen, Resident Director for almost 25 years.

At the present time, Somsen would be considered about half administration and half a classroom building. Most classes for the Departments of Business Administration, Accounting, and Economics, Business Education, and Office Administration are held in Somsen.

WINONA STATE UNIVERSITY CENTER
(KRYZSKO COMMONS)

The Winona State University Center was the first union constructed in the Minnesota State University system. This complex building contains the college food services, student recreational facilities, and lounges, conference rooms, a snack bar, the Alumni-Lounge, the Campus Book Store, Student Affairs, and Housing.

Kryzsko Commons is the focal point for the social activities on campus. The Union Program office promotes a variety of social activities through the year in the Union. The office of the Campus Coordinating Committee promotes campus activities throughout the university. Combined, the two organizations are giving the university students a varied and active program.

Other buildings located on campus:

GILDEMEISTER HALL - This building is named after Theda Gildemeister, an internationally known educator who taught at WSU from 1898 to 1934. It was planned as an education classroom building with one wing for placement and psychological services. This building now contains the Departments of Education, Math, and Computer Science.

PASTEUR HALL - This building contains the facilities, offices, and classrooms for Biology, Chemistry, Geology, and Earth Sciences and Physics. Both laboratory and lecture classrooms are provided in Pasteur Hall.

WATKINS HALL - The offices and classrooms for the Departments Art and Industrial Education are housed in Watkins Hall. The hall is named after Paul Watkins, Sr., who is the founder of Watkins Company and a great contributor to WSU. The center of the building has an art exhibit area which can be viewed from within on the first floor and from above on the second floor.

FOLLOWING GROUP

PETITIONING GROUP

The first organizational meeting for Psi Alpha Omega was held on May 22, 1951. Mark Stone, a prior member of Sigma Iota, presided over the meeting and called them to order at this organizational meeting. There were several paragraphs written at this time.

On May 23, Mark Stone, president of the Sigma Iota Chapter of Des Moines, addressed the group on the value of being a member of an organization. Throughout the summer, meetings were held to prepare for the 1951 membership drive. Members instrumental to the initial membership drive were: Mark Stone, Kirk Rogers, Carl Larson, and Judy Seiberg.

Our professional activities for this year started on September 14, 1951, when we secured Watkins Incorporated. Watkins is a local manufacturer of produce, including apples, strawberries, and cleaning supplies.

HISTORY

On September 25, Bill White, Assistant Executive Director, came to campus. He gave us some ideas and suggestions to further our professional activities. Our professional activities have included the Sigma Iota Chapter of Des Moines and the Sigma Iota Chapter of Iowa City. We have also had a meeting with the J. C. White Company.

The Sigma Iota Chapter of Des Moines, Iowa, held its annual meeting on October 6, 1951. The following year...

The first organizational meeting for Psi Alpha Colony was held on May 10, 1982. Mark Dorn, a prior member of Epsilon Iota, contacted the Eta Rho chapter of Delta Sigma Pi and asked them to assist in this organizational meeting. There were twelve perspective members present.

On May 24, Bob Bone, president of the Winona Area Chamber of Commerce, addressed the group on the values of being a member of an organization. Throughout the summer, meetings were held to prepare for the fall membership drive. Members instrumental in the initial membership drive were: Mark Dorn, Kirk Boyum, Chris Larson, and Trudy Solberg.

Our professional activities for this year started on September 14, 1982, when we toured Watkins Incorporated. Watkins is a local manufacturing plant, which produces spices, flavorings, and cleaning supplies.

On September 28, Mike Walsh, Assistant Executive Director, came to Winona. He gave us many ideas and suggestions to further our progress. Our other professional activities have included tours of Peerless Chain, Lake Center Industries and the Winona Knitting Mills and speakers such as Russell Martin of the J. C. Penny Company.

We attended the Regional Conference in Des Moines, Iowa, in late September. We elected officers on October 6, 1982. The results are given on the following page.

We held our first pledging ceremony on October 24, 1982. Brothers from Eta Rho conducted the ceremony for us.

A simulated initiation ceremony was conducted by Mark Dorn and alumni Mark Young on December 9, 1982.

We started another pledge class in January and held pledging on February 6, 1983. This was necessary to bring our enrollment up to the required level for our charter.

We have learned to do many things as a group and have learned to depend upon others. We have joined the Winona Area Chamber of Commerce and have enjoyed the brotherhood of Delta Sigma Pi extended to us. We look forward to becoming "true" brothers in Delta Sigma Pi this spring.
